POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW.

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Prof. Charles Eliot Norton.

THE NUN.
BY LEIGH HUNT.

If you become a nun, dear,
A friar I will be;
In any cell you run, dear,
Pray look behind for me.
The roses all turn pale, too;
The doves all take the veil, too;
The blind will see the show;
What! you become a nun, my dear,
I'll not believe it, no!

If you become a nun, dear,
The bishop Love will be;
The Cupids every one, dear,
Will chant, "We trust in thee!"
The incense will go sighing,
The candles fall a-dying,
The water turn to wine.
What! you go take the vows, my dear?
You may—but they'll be mine.

W. K. VANDERBILT WILL WED AGAIN

New York Millionaire Has Court Modify Decree Divorcing Him from Former Wife.

BRIDE IS NOW IN PARIS.

Woman Is Believed to Be Mrs. Lewis Rutherfurd, the Young Widow of an American.

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—William K. Vanderbilt, divorced from his wife, who is now Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, in 1895, is to be married soon, either in France or England. The name of the bride is not announced, although it is believed in the American colony in Paris that she is Mrs. Lewis Rutherfurd, the young widow of an American. She is now residing in Paris.

No member of the Harriman family, with which Mrs. Rutherfurd is connected, could be seen tonight. Mrs. Rutherfurd is the widow of Lewis H. Rutherfurd Jr., whom she married in June, 1890, and who died in Switzerland in January, 1901. At the time of her marriage to him she was Mrs. Samuel S. Sands. Mr. Sands had been killed in an accident at the Meadow Brook Hunt club in 1880. Mrs. Rutherfurd is the second daughter of Oliver Harriman and is a sister of Mrs. Stephen H. Olin and Mrs. William R. Travers.

The name of a Mrs. Ingraham of Paris is also mentioned as the prospective bride, as is the Countess Fabbricetti, a handsome widow, to whom Mr. Vanderbilt was attentive last year. She has long been prominent in society in London, Paris, and Rome.

Asks Change in Decree.

When Mr. Vanderbilt was divorced in 1895 the decree forbade him to marry again until the death of the woman who had been his wife, but who is now Mrs. Belmont.

In order that the legal obstacle might be removed a petition was filed in the Supreme court today asking for a modification of the decree. Justice Giegerich granted the petition at once.

The petition was filed by Mr. Vanderbilt's attorney, Henry B. Anderson, who attached Mr. Vanderbilt's signature, thus showing that the millionaire's determination to wed has been made with some haste. The petition reads as follows:

"William K. Vanderbilt respectfully shows to the court that your petitioner is a citizen of the United States and of the state of New York, but is now temporarily residing in the city of Paris, France; that on the 8th day of March, 1895, in an action in this court wherein Alva E. Vanderbilt was plaintiff and your petition was defendant, final judgment was made and entered at a special term of this court, wherein and whereby said plaintiff was granted an absolute divorce from your petitioner, and it was among other things adjudged and decreed that it should not be lawful for your petitioner to marry again until the death of said plaintiff; that your petitioner desires to marry again and proposes to consummate said marriage in France or England forthwith, and your petitioner desires before consummation of such marriage to be relieved of the prohibition in said decree."

Depew Supports Petition.

The application is supported by affidavits made by United States Senator Chauncey M. Depew and Edward V. W. Rossiter to the effect that they have known Mr. Vanderbilt for more than twenty-five years, and that ever since the decree was entered in Mrs. Vanderbilt's favor Mr. Vanderbilt's conduct has been "uniformly good, such as to entitle him to the relief asked for," and that "no grounds exist for withholding the relief prayed for."

Another rumor current in Paris says the future Mrs. Vanderbilt is now a Mrs. Ingraham; but the only Mrs. Ingraham in Paris known to New Yorkers is the wife of Judge Ingraham of the New York Supreme court.

Concerning this rumor of an engagement to Mrs. Ingraham Senator Depew said:

"Mr. Vanderbilt is about to be married and the name of the lady is not Ingraham. I am not privileged to state what her name is. As I am Vanderbilt's attorney my lips are sealed."

Vanderbilt 53 Years Old.

William Kissam Vanderbilt, second son of William H. Vanderbilt, is in his 54th year. In 1878, at a reception at the house of his sister, Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, he met Miss Alva Smith, a young southern girl. They were married within a year. He then built the Vanderbilt house at Fifty-second street and Fifth avenue, and a large house at Newport. Mr. Vanderbilt had his famous yacht Alva built after his wedding. In it he and his wife and their friends made many trips, until it was sunk in a collision in 1892.

Vanderbilt at once built another yacht, the Valiant. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt started on a ten months' cruise in that yacht in 1893, but the trip ended abruptly before four months had passed. Thereafter Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt lived apart and in March, 1895, she obtained a divorce, the proceedings bringing in the name of a Nellie Neustretter of Paris merely to enable Mrs. Vanderbilt to obtain the decree. Nine months after her divorce Mrs. Vanderbilt married O. H. P. Belmont. Mr. Vanderbilt has three children, Consuelo, duchess of Marlborough, William K. Jr., and Harold S., who is 18 years old and who is now living with his mother, Mrs. Belmont.

Engagement Known in Paris.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, April 20.—One of Mr. Vanderbilt's most intimate friends said this evening that it is untrue that his marriage is immediately impending, but that his engagement is an open secret. Americans wishing to marry without complying with French formalities must produce certificates. These were formerly issued by the American embassy or consulate, but the practice lately has been discontinued. Now American lawyers at their own risk supply such certificates, but the French authorities exact an embassy or consulate stamp as a guarantee that the lawyer signing the certificate is fully qualified and acquainted with the law.

Consul General Gowdy says he has not signed such a certificate. Lawyers seldom apply to the consulate, where a fee is charged, preferring to go to the embassy, which issues certificates gratis. Secretary Vignaud says he signed two certificates yesterday. He never reads the contents, looking only to the signature, which, if known to be of a reputable lawyer, suffices. He thinks, however, that he remembers the name of Vanderbilt catching his eye as he was turning the document over, but he does not recall the subject of the document, which did not concern him.

I BOODLE? NO! SAYS STONE

MISSOURI SENATOR ANGRY OVER CHARGES AND INSINUATIONS.

Former Governor Hopes His Arm Will Be Palsied and His Heart Burned in Flames of Inferno if He Has Dishonored Position to Which His People Assigned Him—Vehemently Denies Any Connection with Baking Powder Trust.

Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—[Special.]—United States Senator William J. Stone, addressing the Missouri Democratic Press association today, made a sensational denial of any and all connection with the disclosures showing the use of boodle in connection with the baking powder legislation and the enforcement of the pure food law. He said:

"I hope God will wither my hand, palsy my tongue, and burn my heart in the flames of hell before I will intentionally dishonor the position to which the people of Missouri assign me."

Senator Stone was laboring under intense excitement. He protested against the persecution to which he had been subjected by the "scavengers of the press," who had used "assassins' " methods. He shouted:

"Before my God I fear them not; I laugh in their faces and spit upon them."

Says He Is a Victim.

Senator Stone denied various reports that he had been in conference with Col. William H. Phelps and Lieut. Gov. Lee since the legislative investigation had been begun. He declared he had been the victim of "mendacious attacks upon his character" while he was governor, after he had retired to practice law, and now suffered under "low, insinuating, filthy, and false attacks."

"I submit to the judgment of fair American citizens that it is an outrage," he said. "Neither accuser nor accused has dared to lay a charge against my door."

Senator Stone declared that he had no part in the passage of the anti-alum law of 1899, and did not know for nearly a year that it had been enacted. As a private attorney he had assisted in the enforcement of the state pure food laws, and in 1901, when it was proposed to repeal the anti-alum law, he wrote an argument against repeal, but he did not visit Jefferson City.

"I swear to you I never spoke nor wrote to any member of either house of the legislature concerning this matter but what I have told you," he declared. "I hope every guilty man will be uncovered."

Lee May Be Arrested.

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—[Special.]—It is asserted that unless Lieut. Gov. John A. Lee, who is still believed to be hiding in Chicago, returns voluntarily to testify before the grand jury, he will be brought back a prisoner. It is reported that indictments have been found against him on the charges of perjury and bribery, though these indictments have not yet been returned, nor will they be for a week or so yet. It is stated, also on the same authority, that should Lee return voluntarily, he doubtless will be immediately placed under arrest.

Lieut. Gov. Lee today, through a friend, proposed to return to St. Louis at once and appear before the grand jury, with the understanding that he should only be questioned about the alum deal. Circuit Attorney Folk refused the proposal.

Robert E. Lee, brother of the absent official, received another letter from Lieut. Gov. Lee today, which was mailed in Chicago. In further explanation of his brother's absence Mr. Lee said:

"He will remain away until I think it advisable for him to come back. One reason that he is away is that he does not want to assist the St. Louis grand jury in indicting for perjury certain members of the legislature who have testified before it."

Mr. Lee concluded by saying that his brother does not fear indictment himself.

Ten More Indictments Expected.

The Cole county grand jury at Jefferson City has taken a recess until April 27. It is hinted that at least ten more state senators will be indicted for either perjury or bribery before the inquiry is concluded here and in Jefferson City.

The most important witness summoned before the grand jury today is Cashier Webb of the bank of Steelville, who has been ordered to bring the check books and records of the concern purported to show the deposits made by Senator Farris (who has been indicted in Jefferson City) and the checks issued by him.

Judge Ryan today refused to grant new trials to the following members of the St. Louis house of delegates, who were tried and convicted of bribery, and notice of appeal to the Supreme court was given: Charles Gutke, convicted Jan. 10 and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary; John A. Sheridan, Edmund Bersch, Charles Denny, and T. F. Albright, all sentenced to five years in the penitentiary Jan. 15.

Indicted Senators Give Bail.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 20.—Senators B. L. Matthews and Charles A. Smith, indicted by the grand jury for accepting bribes in connection with the baking powder legislation, today gave bonds in $3,000. The indictments charge them with receiving bribes from D. J. Kelley of $1,000 each to vote against the alum baking powder bill two years ago. The witnesses on whose testimony they were indicted were Lieut. Gov. John A. Lee; Patterson Bain, baking powder manufacturer, St. Louis; Frank Wuers, clerk of the Laclede hotel, St. Louis; and Hugh J. Koening, paying teller of the St. Louis bank.

REUBEN H. DONNELLEY IS ILL.

Stricken with Appendicitis, His Life Is Saved by a Hasty Operation—Now at Hahnemann Hospital.

Reuben H. Donnelley was stricken with appendicitis yesterday afternoon and his physician declares only a prompt operation saved his life. He was hurried to the Hahnemann hospital at 3:30 o'clock and there operated on by Dr. Howard R. Chislett. Early this morning his condition was declared satisfactory.

Yesterday morning Mr. Donnelley was apparently in excellent health. Then came the attack, the second from which he has suffered. His physician was summoned at once and ordered the patient hurried to the hospital. Such was his strength that Mr. Donnelley walked into the hospital unaided.

Mr. Donnelley is married and resides at 90 Forty-seventh street. He is a member of the firm of Knight, Donnelley & Co., and also manager of the Chicago Directory company.

HARRY HUCK ILL AND MISSING.

Chicago Man Disappears from Hotel in Albuquerque and Cannot Be Found.

Albuquerque, N. M., April 20.—[Special.]—Mystery surrounds the disapeparance of Harry Huck, son of Louis C. Huck of Chicago and a brother of Mrs. Marshall Field Jr. He has not been seen for the last three weeks at the Alvarado hotel, where he was stopping. Huck has been in ill health for some time. None of his belongings has been taken from the hotel.

PUTS A STOP TO SHAKING PUPILS.

School Committee Says Teachers Who Violate New Rule Will Be Dealt With Summarily.

RESULT OF SISSON TRIAL.

Principal Is Freed with a Reprimand, Though Witnesses Denounce His Treatment of Boy.

Public school principals must stop the practice of shaking students. This proclamation was issued by the school management committee yesterday. Violators of the order will be dealt with summarily. The mandate was the result of revelations made during the trial of Principal Frederick Sisson of the Ryerson school, Lawndale avenue and Huron street, on a charge of having kicked 12 year old John Gurrell down the stairs of the school Feb. 16. Sisson was acquitted, but the committee instructed Supt. Cooley to reprimand the principal for having shaken Gurrell and to notify all principals and teachers that the shaking practice must stop.

The committee deplored the prevalence of the "shaking habit," to which, it was declared, a large number of principals and teachers are addicted, and refused the request of Gurrell to be transferred to another school.

All the Features of a Court.

The trial of Principal Sisson was accompanied by all the features of a Criminal court hearing. The boy, who says he was kicked, came with his mother, two attorneys, and a host of witnesses, including neighbors and classmates. Sisson brought his attorney and another regiment of testifiers. In the corridors before the trial the opposing forces met, and bitter accusations and counter charges echoed through the board rooms. After the hearing the belligerents met again, the mother shook her finger in the face of Sisson as she denounced him. A half dozen neighbors who send children to the Ryerson school were there to reinforce the mother, and they did not mince words. The women characterized the principal as a "brute," and declared he had made it a practice to mistreat the children in his school for years.

A suit against Sisson for $5,000 damages is pending. It was brought by Mrs. Mary A. Gurrell, 145 North Lawndale avenue, in behalf of her son, John.

Boy Tells His Story.

The school management committee listened to the testimony of many witnesses.

The Gurrell boy testified that he left his home for school on the morning of Feb. 16 at 8:50 o'clock. Arriving at the school a few minutes late he was met in the hall by Principal Sisson.

"Why are you late?" the boy said he was asked.

"I don't know," was his reply.

"You do know," said the principal.

"I had to go to the store," said Gurrell.

"What are you sassing me back for?" the boy said was the next question asked by Sisson.

"Mr. Sisson then grabbed me by the shoulder," he said, "and pushed me downstairs; then he followed me down and kicked me."

Ernest Gilmore, 217 North Central Park avenue, testified he was a seventh grade pupil at the school and was in the hall when Gurrell arrived late. His story was identical with that told by Gurrell.

"As Gurrell reached the bottom of the stairs," declared Gilmore, "he turned and said to Mr. Sisson: 'You old redhead, I'll tell my father about this.'"

Came Home Limping.

Mrs. Gurrell testified that her son was limping when he returned from school. A letter was read from a physician stating that he had examined young Gurrell on Feb. 16 and found his back and head injured. Neighbors testified to the condition of Gurrell upon his return from school and wanted to cite other alleged assaults by Sisson, but testimony of this character was ruled out by Chairman Harris.

Principal Sisson admitted the boy's statement to be accurate in detail except that part relating to the kicking.

"He answered me gruffly," declared Sisson, "and I grasped him tightly by the shoulder and shook him. This made him angry, and he jerked away from me, ran down the stairs, and there stopped long enough to call me names. He said I was a redhead."

Mother Demands Revenge.

Mrs. Gurrell announced that when the suit for damages is heard she will show that Sisson has been in the habit of using corporal punishment at the school.

"I did not bring this suit to get Sisson's money," she declared; "I brought it to secure justice and to bring his brutal conduct toward his pupils to the attention of the public. If the jury awards me the entire $5,000 I shall give the money to charity. The mothers of the neighborhood are aroused over Sisson's practice of assaulting their children, and they are bound to bring him to justice."

Mrs. Bessie F. Spencer, 140 North Central Park avenue, a former teacher at the Ryerson school, declared Sisson had been in the habit of mistreating his pupils for eight years. "We know of a number of children he has abused," she declared. "He has a terrible temper, he mistreats the pupils, and is unfair in his treatment of the teachers."

Charges Principal Offered Money.

Mr. Sisson heard all these things said about him, but he made no protest until Mrs. Gurrell accused him of offering money to witnesses.

"I can prove Mr. Sisson offered Maggie May Shea of 156 Lawndale avenue $5 to testify for him," she shouted.

"I wish you'd tell that in court," retorted Sisson hotly.

"I'll tell it in court, and I'll bring Maggie May down to tell it too," replied Mrs. Gurrell. "My girl suffered for eight years from your brutal treatment and you came to the house to silence me."

The case of Miss Downey was referred to the district committee. Miss Downey will be brought to trial for insubordination. She appeared before the committee yesterday and announced that she was ready for trial.

The charge of discrimination in admitting graduates of certain institutions of learning to the Normal school without examination made against Supt. Cooley by Mrs. Sherman was dropped after a lengthy report had been made by Supt. Cooley. All candidates will be examined hereafter.

BUY ILLINOIS COAL LANDS

HILL INTERESTS TO CONTROL VAST FUEL BEARING FIELDS.

Corporation with $80,000,000 Capital Secures Some of the Richest Mining Territory in the State, Which Will Be Operated in Connection with the Securities Company System of Railroads—New Markets Will Be Opened in the Northwest.

Vast coal fields in central Illinois are to pass to the control of a gigantic corporation, with a capital of $80,000,000, and they will be operated in connection with the Hill system of railroads.

James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Securities company, is said to have financed the deal, and the Burlington, the Great Northern, and the Northern Pacific railroads will open markets for Illinois fuel in the northwest.

Primarily the deal has for its purpose to give these three railroads a return haul, and increase the traffic receipts by reducing the number of "dead" loads. Trains which bring the products of the great northwestern grain fields to Chicago will take back the output from Illinois mines instead of returning empty, as is so often the case at present.

Acquire Big Coal Fields.

The territory acquired by the combination extends through forty miles of the richest coal lands in the state, and is traversed by the Jacksonville and St. Louis railroad, bought last year by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. A connecting link of ten miles will be built from Jacksonville to Concord, on the St. Louis branch of the Burlington, which will give an outlet from the coal fields to all the Hill roads.

This short line of road will be constructed at once, but in the meantime it is understood a deal has been made with the Alton to deliver the coal to the Hill road.

Much of the property acquired is unimproved, and many of the mines are operated only part of the time. Thousands of dollars will be expended in making these lands productive.

Own 20,000 Acres of Coal Land.

Among the mines acquired are those at Gerard, Virden, Pana, and in the neighborhood of Springfield, while other mines ultimately will be opened in 20,000 acres of coal bearing land purchased for the furtherance of the plans of the Northern Securities company.

It was reported that the combination sought to control the mines at Danville, but this was denied by John E. Windsor, general agent of the Kelleyville Coal company, which controls the output of the mines at that point.

Interested in the enterprise to a large extent are stockholders of the Pittsburg Coal company. While admitting that his company has purchased a large amount of stock in the Illinois mines, C. E. Wales, the local manager, said there was no attempt at a combination.

Will Push Illinois Coal.

"It would be folly to think of any combination controlling all the coal mines in Illinois," said Mr. Wales. "The talk of a combination is due to the fact probably that stockholders of the Pittsburg company have acquired stock in the mines mentioned. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy owns 20,000 acres of coal land in the district and there is undoubtedly an intention to market the coal in that road's territory through the northwest.

"The movement is designed to bring Illinois coal to the front. There are a number of mines in the district through which the Jacksonville and St. Louis, now a part of the Burlington, runs, and all of them are being improved in anticipation of a considerable volume of business."

STANFORD UNIVERSITY HAS 100 CASES OF TYPHOID.

Fever Busy in Western Educational Institution—One Death and More Feared—Talk of Closing the School.

Stanford University, Cal., April 20.—There now are 100 cases of typhoid fever in and about Leland Stanford university, twenty additional cases having broken out yesterday and today. Thirteen of these are reported from Palo Alto and seven on the university campus.

As yet there has been only one death. William Plunts, a bookkeeper for a San Francisco oil company and a resident of Palo Alto, succumbed to the disease yesterday morning. Several other patients are low and more fatalities are feared. A majority of the new cases are students in the university. Among those who are critically ill are: E. E. Miller of Vinton, Ia., and R. D. Barrett of Herman, Minn.

There has been much talk about the university closing, but Dr. Jordan states that while the conditions are as they are, and while the physicians are of the opinion that the trouble is almost checked, no action in this direction will be taken.

WRITS DEFEATED BY MUSIC.

Chorus Girl Lulls Constable Into Inactivity by Singing While Her Company Escapes.

Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast, and constables were lulled into inactivity by a chorus girl while a company of players escaped with their baggage across a state line leaving writs unserved.

Della Ward, with the Lyman Bros. Merry Chase company, stood on the stage in Towle's opera house at Hammond, Ind., and sang and danced for dear life. The posse of constables who were waiting for the curtain to drop were lost in admiration, and volleyed their applause.

When Miss Ward concluded her song the constables jumped on the stage, but the company and baggage were gone, and had succeeded in crossing the line into Illinois. Before the constables recovered from their astonishment Miss Ward had entered a cab and was fairly flying toward South Chicago.

The cause of the company's trouble was alleged to be a double booking with Towle's and Hohman's opera houses, and T. E. Bell, manager of Hohman's, attached the company's baggage.

ARMY INSULTED: QUITS CLUB.

Gen. Gillespie Resigns from Metropolitan Because Corbin Was Refused Membership.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Gen. Gillespie, chief engineer of the army, has resigned from the Metropolitan club, and his resignation has been accepted. The ground on which the resignation was based is that the recent action of the board of governors in rejecting Gen. Corbin for membership in the club is an insult to the army. Gen. Gillespie is a member of the board of governors of the club. It is not known whether the feeling of resentment at the action of the board will extend any farther or not. Gen. Gillespie's resignation was tendered and accepted last week.

TRACTION BILLS NEARING A VOTE.

Members of Legislature and Others Sign Petitions to Speaker to Obey Constitution.

GOVIN IN THE CITY AGAIN.

Eastern Capitalist and Attorney Auerbach Arrive; Beginning of the End in Springfield.

The beginning of the end of the street railway municipal ownership matter will be seen today in Springfield. Organized opposition to the Lindly bill was made more effective yesterday among members of the lower house of the general assembly, among Chicago aldermen, and among citizens.

Speaker Miller returned to the state capital late last evening, and refused to say whether he would continue his policy of throttling the Mueller bill, the enactment of which Chicago demands.

He is to be pressed to a decision. Petitions were circulated among the legislators yesterday and among the Chicago aldermen and citizens demanding that roll calls be granted on the municipal ownership matter and that the yeas and nays be taken and entered on the journal of the house.

It was reported that Gov. Yates had a veto ready in the event of the passage of either the Mueller or the Lindly bill, but the governor negatively denied this. Friends of the former measure in Chicago expressed a hope that the governor "will not scorn the wishes of the people of Chicago."

Auerbach and Govin Reappear.

The organization of the new city council and the arrival of a crisis at Springfield has renewed the interest of the traction companies in the prospects of new franchises. R. R. Govin and Joseph S. Auerbach, representatives of eastern capitalists, returned to Chicago yesterday to confer with the street railway people. They were closeted late in the afternoon with John P. Wilson, general counsel for the Union Traction protective committee; W. W. Gurley, attorney for the Union Traction company; and E. Raymond Bliss, attorney for the Chicago City railway company.

The meetings were held behind closed doors and neither Mr. Govin nor Mr. Auerbach consented to receive other visitors or interviewers. To keep their presence as secret as possible they did not even register.

Return to Springfield Today.

Mayor Harrison and the committees of aldermen and citizens will return to Springfield at 11 a. m. today to present the city's views to the legislature. The attempt will be to substitute in the house the Mueller bill, which has already passed the senate. Failing this, an amendment to the Lindly bill will be proposed which, in the minds of the friends of municipal ownership, is absolutely necessary to make it of any value.

The hope of these committees is that the matter may be so presented to Speaker Miller that he will not dare to refuse roll calls on the phases of the question which may come before the house tomorrow. On this matter the constitution of the state, in prescribing rules of procedure for the legislature, reads:

"In the senate, at the request of two members, and in the house, at the request of five members, the yeas and nays shall be taken on any question and entered upon the journal."

Petition to the Speaker.

In order to force the speaker to obey this constitutional provision the petitions referred to above were circulated in Chicago yesterday. One read:

"To John H. Miller, Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Forty-third General Assembly—We beg to call your attention to the great interest of the people of this community in pending enabling legislation to authorize the municipal ownership of street railways, and we respectfully request that you accord roll calls upon all propositions relating to the consideration of house bill 864 (Lindly bill), and especially upon the proposition to substitute for the pending bill house bill 864 senate bill 40, with suggested amendments, commonly known as the Mueller bill."

This paper was signed by every member of the city council and by citizens generally who are interested in the municipal ownership question.

Signed by Members of House.

The other petition addressed to Speaker Miller was for the signatures of members of the house. It was as follows:

"In order that there may be no misunderstanding as to our position the undersigned members of the house of representatives of the Forty-third general assembly respectfully demand that upon all propositions relating to the consideration of house bill No. 864, being a bill for an act entitled, 'An act to authorize cities to own, construct, acquire, purchase, maintain, operate, mortgage, and lease street railways,' on second reading, including the consideration of amendments which may be offered to the said bill, roll calls be granted in accordance with the provisions of the constitution, and yeas and nays taken and entered upon the journal of the house."

Will Read It to the Speaker.

Last Tuesday, when forty-one members of the house made a demand on him similar to that made in the foregoing petition, Speaker Miller absolutely refused to open the envelope which contained it, although verbally notified of the meaning of the paper. Then he proceeded to send the Mueller bill to committee under the gavel.

This time the demand for the roll calls and recognition of members guaranteed by the constitution will be read to the speaker after the fashion of a deputy sheriff serving a summons or a writ of mandamus, and there will be no opportunity, if it becomes necessary to resort to drastic legal proceedings afterwards, for the speaker to claim he had not been duly requested to do what the constitution says he must.

Aldermen Go on Record.

In addition to signing the request to the speaker for fair treatment in the house tomorrow the aldermen at the first meeting of the new city council further went on record last evening by passing unanimously a resolution favoring the Mueller bill and asking for its passage. The resolution, which was offered by Ald. Bennett, chairman of the committee on local transportation, reads:

"Whereas, The State senate recently passed senate bill No. 40, otherwise known as the Mueller bill;

"Whereas, Said senate bill No. 40 correctly expresses the wishes of the people of the city of Chicago on the matter of legislation to enable the city of Chicago to own and operate street railways;

"Whereas, The bill reported as a substitute therefor by the house committe on municipal corporations is inadequate and by its terms fails of the purpose for which this legislation is desired;

"Resolved, by the city council of the city of Chicago, that it is the sense of this council that the Mueller bill, as amended, should be substituted for the measure reported by the house committee on municipal corporations, and we hereby request the speaker of the house of representatives to grant a roll call upon the motion to substitute the said Mueller bill for the pending bill and upon the amendments and motions connected with the consideration of said bill."

Committees Going to Capital.

Accompanying the mayor to Springfield this morning will be the members of the council committee on local transportation and of the special committee of fifteen citizens appointed by the mayor two weeks ago by authority of the old council, the authority given by the old council being renewed by resolution passed unanimously by the new council last evening.

The committees will carry to the state capital with them a number of amendments to the Lindly bill which have been drawn up by Corporation Counsel Walker and Special Counsel Smith and Mathis. They are largely tentative and may be offered or not as the occasion may demand.

In addition they will have the amendment to the Mueller bill which was proposed by Edwin Burritt Smith at the meeting of the house committee on municipal corporations last Tuesday. It is simply an added section to the bill providing in so many words that nothing in the bill should be construed as giving any person or corporation who might be given the right to operate street car lines in Chicago a franchise or grant of any kind whatsoever for a longer period than twenty years.

Amendments to Lindly Bill.

The amendments to the Lindly bill have been drawn for use in case the motion to substitute the Mueller bill for it is not entertained by the speaker, or, being entertained, fails to pass. The principal one provides that the word "three," in limiting the period during which a mortgagee who has foreclosed a mortgage on street car lines could operate them, be changed to "twenty."

This limit of three years is generally regarded as the one thing in the Lindly bill which would make municipal ownership in Chicago absolutely impossible if it became a law. It provides that if the city should issue street car certificates to raise the money to buy the roads, the security of the certificates being the railway property, and should make default so as to necessitate foreclosure, that the owners of the certificates could not operate the lines thus acquired for a longer period than three years after the date the foreclosure proceedings were begun. As it would take at least three years to foreclose a mortgage of this kind and probably longer, financiers all agree that no one would invest in such certificates, and the city would never be able to raise the money with which to buy the properties.

There is also an amendment regarding the referendum, trying to strike out the one which makes it a question whether the city if it bought the lines now existing could ever extend them, and a number of others intended to cure some of the errors in the bill caused either by intention or an inexcusably ignorant use of the English language.

Nonpartisan Opposition Work.

One important step today in Springfield will be the formation of an organization in opposition to the Lindly bill at a night meeting in the room of the house committee on judiciary. It will be strictly nonpartisan. Representative McKinley of Cook will be made chairman of the meeting. A steering or floor committee will be appointed, with Representative Wilkerson of Cook as chairman. In this contest the younger element of the house on both sides will be given precedence, and they will be ably supported by many of the older war horses.

Among the early signers to the legislators' petition last night were Representatives Bundy and Tice, unusually strong men. Bundy said that while he had been opposed to the principle of municipal ownership, there was only one thing left for him to do in the present situation, and that was to go in and fight for the Mueller bill as against the Lindly measure. He added, "I believe we can win beyond a doubt." This expression on Mr. Bundy's part was indorsed by Mr. Tice.

Wants Speaker's Promise.

Representative Wilkerson, who was one of Speaker Miller's warmest supporters during the speakership contest, said in Springfield last night:

"I am going to Speaker Miller and request him to give me roll calls on all important questions affecting the municipal ownership proposition. I have been intrusted with one of the petitions demanding roll calls, but do not wish to circulate it unless I am compelled to do so. I regard the existence of petitions of this sort as a reflection on the speaker of the house, and I do not care to father one unless I am driven to do so.

"Speaker Miller's word is good with me. If he will say he will give us fair treatment on this proposition I will drop the petition and advise all the other friends of municipal ownership to do the same. If, however, he is so committed to the other side that he cannot do this, I will be placed in an embarrassing position in opposing him. It will be necessary for me to do this in justice to my people. They are demanding this legislation and they are thoroughly aroused. For me to neglect any opportunity to further this legislation would be to betray them. I cannot and will not do this, even though I am put in the position of opposing the speaker."

Miller Studying the Question.

Speaker Miller himself returned to Springfield at 9 o'clock last night and his friends and others acquainted him with the situation. He said he had no statement to give out as to what his actions would be as speaker of the house with regard to the Lindly measure, but he would give indications as soon as he became thoroughly conversant with the proposition in all its bearings.

Later in the night he had a long consultation about the matter with Mr. Lindly and other of his friends.

In case the speaker remains obdurate, it may be that the senate will take the Lindly committee bill, if it gets there, and substitute the Mueller bill for it. In that event it would come back to the house for concurrence or nonconcurrence. However, hope in the Mueller bill in the house is not lost. Representatives deeply interested in heavy appropriations are now becoming alarmed lest the house get in a wrangle and lest so much bad feeling be engendered that these appropriations will be put in jeopardy. Pressure from these sources will be brought to bear on Speaker Miller. Unless concessions are made, the house of representatives and Springfield will see the biggest fight known there in many years.

Gov. Yates Favors a Roll Call.

Regarding the report that Gov. Yates was opposed to the Mueller bill and that he would likewise veto the Lindly measure, the latter because of pique at not being consulted in its preparing, the governor himself said:

"I have read both measures, and am examining them further. I have not said to any one that I would not approve either bill if passed. Such expressions at this time on the part of the chief executive would be unsalled for. It will be time to give expression to my views as respects the bills when the measure is reached by me in the course of business.

"Speaker Miller has not asked my advice. If I were speaker, however, I would at least give a roll call on the proposition to advance the bill to third reading and on important substitutions and amendments. I will undoubtedly give this advice to Miller if Miller gives me the opportunity."

Calls Mueller Bill Sound.

Attorney General Hamlin spent a part of yesterday in giving the Mueller bill a careful and exhaustive scrutiny from the standpoint of a lawyer. He said tonight that it was the most perfect bit of work he ever saw in the way of a bill, and that whoever made it, far from being a novitiate in the law (not passing on its merits or demerits), covered every point involved in the question of municipal ownership and subsidiary matters. He declared positively that the bill, if it became a law, would make street car certificates absolutely good in the hands of holders.

Bliss Catches a "Detective."

The comic opera side of the municipal ownership question was presented in the corridors of the courthouse in Chicago yesterday morning when Col. E. R. Bliss, general counsel for the Chicago City railway company, grasped "a shadow" by the arm and invited him to be his companion, instead of following him mysteriously if he really wanted to know what had been going on.

"Come here," cried the attorney. "I'd rather have you hear what is going on, so you can report it correctly. If I was as poor a detective as any of your outfit I'd give up trying to catch anything but a cold."

"The shadow," who had followed the colonel in and out of Judge Baker's courtroom, where the attorney had gone to make a motion, slunk away, and the colonel called out after him:

"You poor wretch; go back and tell your boss that you have succeeded in annoying my wife and furnishing a vast amount of amusement to my neighbors. You have had a pretty lot of scamps hanging about my house and office, peeking through windows and lying in front of doors. If you were only a gentleman you would be welcome to stay with me all the time and know everything I did. It would save a large amount of 'rubbering.'"

Shadowed by a Newspaper.

"A certain newspaper has been 'shadowing' me for three days," explained the colonel afterwards. "Although I am not suspicious of that sort of thing, the work was so clumsily done I could not help but observe it. It was funny for awhile, but got to be annoying finally, when they could not let my home alone.

"They were welcome to be with me all the time, as far as any connection I have had with this municipal ownership matter was concerned, because then they would have found out the truth in the matter. They seemed to have an idea I was engaged in some deep laid plot, and they could find out all about it."

CIVIL SERVICE BILL TO PASS.

Measure Is Stripped of Objectionable Amendments and Will Be Approved by the Senate.

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—The house civil service bill will come up in the senate on second reading tomorrow. It has been stripped of the objectionable amendments—one offered by Lyon, adding the referendum; another, the penalty clause; and a third, forbidding the discharge of more than 10 per cent of the employés every six months.

The senate will concur in the action of the committee in these amendments and add one, offered by McKenzie, limiting the operations of the bill to the state charitable institutions. In this shape the bill will go to third reading and be passed by the senate.

The question is whether or not the house will concur in the senate amendments.

The Greater Chicago charter resolution will come up in the house Wednesday morning as a special order. It is in the form of a resolution, offered by Wilkerson.

The senate has sent over to the house a resolution on the same question, offered by Humphrey. According to well defined talk tonight the Wilkerson resolution will go by the board and the Humphrey resolution will be taken as a substitute, to be followed by a hard fight to get the necessary 102 votes for it in the house.

More Judges Asked for Cook.

Mr. Farley, in the house today, secured unanimous consent to introduce a bill providing for the election of three additional judges of the Circuit court in Cook county. The bill carries an emergency clause, providing that it shall go into effect immediately upon its passage and approval.

The preamble of the measure recites the fact that under the last census Cook county is shown to have sufficient population to entitle it to the services of three additional judges of the Circuit court. It then provides that on the first Monday of June after the act goes into effect three judges shall be elected whose terms shall expire in 1909, and that thereafter their successors shall be elected every six years.

Referred to Committees.

The following senate bills were read a first time and referred to the appropriate committees:

Authorizing the city of Chicago to issue bonds for the purpose of lowering the tunnels under the Chicago river.

Requiring administrators and executors to register lands held by them under the Torrens land act.

The bill providing that elevated railways shall be assessed the same as other street railways was read a second time and advanced to third reading.

The following senate bills were read a second time and advanced to third reading.

Providing that Oak Park and Berwyn, Cook county, may come in under the jurisdiction of the election commissioners of Chicago if they so desire.

Mr. Lindly made several attempts to call up the senate bill ceding to the United States government certain lands abutting on the Chicago river for the purpose of constructing a turning basin for lake vessels. At each attempt he was met by objections from Mr. Nohe and he failed to advance the measure.

Senate Advances Appropriations.

The business of the senate today was confined to senate appropriation bills on second reading. A number were advanced to third reading.

CITIZENS TO AUDIT BOOKS.

County Commissioner Flanagan's Plan for Introducing Business Methods—Foreman for Bond Issue.

County Commissioner Flanagan desires that the $25,000 appropriated by the county board for auditing the books of the departments and offices of the county and devising business methods shall be spent under the direction of private citizens as well as under the direction of the county commissioners. President Foreman has not yet indorsed the plan. Commissioner Flanagan has suggested that the committee shall be thus constituted: three members of the county board, one member selected by the Merchants' club, one by the Civic federation, one by the Illinois Manufacturers' association, and one by the Federation of Labor, making a total of seven members.

The plan was proposed at the board meeting yesterday and referred to the public service committee.

President Foreman presented a resolution recommending that the board approve of a large bond issue to pay the outstanding indebtedness and current expenses of the county according to the appropriation. He said the revenues of the county were not sufficient to operate the county. The board will hold a special meeting on Saturday to consider the matter so that the proposition, if indorsed, may reach the county clerk thirty days before the election, June 1.

Col. Mason, chief clerk of the jury commissioners, appeared before the board asking that the action to place the commission offices upon the third floor of the Criminal court building be rescinded. The matter was not considered by the board and the letter was placed on file.

Edwin K. Walker of the finance committee submitted a resolution which, if carried into effect, will give the board and the public information regarding the amount of work done by each judge of the Circuit court. This, Mr. Walker contends, is in accord with the state constitution.

APRIL GRAND JURY CHOSEN.

Judge Neely Questions Each Man Closely as to His Business and Past.

To prevent a repetition of the criticism made of the personnel of the last grand jury and the charge that certain members of the body were directly interested in the prosecution of some cases, Judge Neely, in examining the veniremen yesterday, questioned each man thoroughly as to his business and past life.

George W. Dubeck was made foreman. He is the general baggage agent of the Rock Island railroad.

Among the members of the jury are:

Gilbert H. Sanborn, secretary, 150 La Salle street.
James C. Peasley, 209 Adams street.
George G. Robinson, 138 Washington street.
Wilbur F. Smith, 148 Market street.
James M. Stryker, 3907 Vincennes avenue.
James C. Strain, 1013 Jackson boulevard.

GO TO PLEAD FOR COUNTY'S BILLS.

President Foreman and Members Seeking Relief from the Legislature.

MORE CASH IS THEIR CRY.

Assembly Said to Have Imposed Big Expense Without Providing Revenues.

President Foreman and several members of the board of county commissioners will go to Springfield tonight to urge the general assembly to pass the bills by which Cook county seeks financial relief.

They will contend that the county is in financial straits, and, aside from the floating debt of $518,000 now carried, will face a deficit of $1,300,000 at the close of the present fiscal year unless relief is extended.

The chief cause of the present financial difficulties is laid to the fact that from 1885 to 1899 the general assemblies passed more than half a dozen laws affecting the county, and demanding an additional annual outlay of from $300,000 to $450,000, without making provisions for increased revenue.

In 1898 Cook county not only paid all its bills but carried over to the general fund a surplus of $166,000. Then followed the passage of the new laws creating the board of assessors, the board of review, the jury commission, the Torrens department, and the new primary election law. In 1895 the legislature had passed, without providing revenue to operate same, the county civil service law and the Bogardus law for the relief of war veterans and their families. These two laws, however, became burdensome when their expense was added to the new laws of 1898.

Big Additional Costs.

In the four years succeeding 1898 this added governmental machinery has cost Cook county a total of $1,464,581. The outlay due to these laws for each year was:

1899	$449,525	1901	$291,429

The measures which the commissioners go to Springfield to push include a bill for an additional 2 per cent commission on all taxes collected, except state and county taxes; the bill urging an equal division of the inheritance taxes collected, practically all of which now goes to the state; the bill to increase court costs; that to provide for an abstract department in the recorder's office; and a measure seeking the extension of civil service to all county service.

The inheritance tax bill is regarded as the most important. Out of $2,198,827 of inheritance tax collected in Illinois from 1898 to 1902 inclusive Cook county contributed $1,909,875 of this total, or almost all. The expense of this collection, except for one clerk, is borne by the county. This bill was defeated in the senate last week. An endeavor will be made to have it amended in the house, so as to give counties one-quarter of the tax and the state three-quarters.

At the state convention of county commissioners, county clerks, and supervisors, held in Joliet in 1901, the committee on legislation recommended that the general assembly be asked to enact a law providing that 50 per cent of inheritance tax should go to the county in which it is collected. So this measure is held to have the backing of other county governments of the state.

Some Members Hostile.

It has been urged by some members of the legislature living outside of Cook that this bill should not pass, because it is their understanding that Cook county is not paying for the care of its dependents in the various state charitable institutions and also is not paying its proportionate share of the state tax.

Figures are produced to show that last year Cook county contributed $25,829 to state charitable institutions, including: Kankakee hospital, $10,805; Elgin hospital, $5,191; Watertown hospital, $366; Peoria hospital, $277; asylum for criminal insane, $539; institution for education of blind, $1,416; institution for feeble minded, $5,379; institution for deaf and dumb, $1,855. This amount has been increased by $5,000 this year. The county, too, it is held pays its full share of state taxes.

To Increase Court Costs.

The bill for increasing court costs calls for an increase from $10 to $15 for beginning suits and from $3 to $5 for appearance of defendant. The costs now run behind about $125,000 a year. The bill seeks to remedy this condition.

HOPE TO CHANGE CONSTITUTION

Prof. Judson and His Subcommittee Will Start for Springfield Today.

The campaign to secure the passage of the constitutional amendment by the general assembly, conferring enabling legislation toward the consolidation of Chicago's various governmental bodies, will be taken up at Springfield tomorrow. At noon today more than a score of members of the nonpartisan committee urging the passage of the measure will leave for Springfield to fight for the bill when it comes up in the house tomorrow. The subcommittee, headed by Prof. Harry Pratt Judson, and charged with determining just what legislation is desired, met yesterday and decided to support the original bill as amended and adopted by the senate. This means the elimination of the county government and that of the sanitary district with a central body and maintains the separation of city and county.

One amendment will be sought, and this will aim to secure to the city authority for a heavier bonded debt. Instead of limiting the bonded indebtedness which the municipality is allowed to contract to an amount equivalent to 5 per cent of the assessed valuation, or 1 per cent of the full valuation, it is sought to raise the total to 5 per cent of the full valuation. This would allow an increase from approximately $18,000,000, which limit has now been reached, to nearly $90,000,000.

The bill, as it now stands, provides authority for the consolidation of the city, township, park, board of education, and other governmental bodies now exercising powers in the territory named. The members of the subcommittee—Prof. Judson, Judge Edward F. Dunne, T. A. Moran, Albert Schoenbeck, James Pease, William Lorimer, and Frank O. Lowden—unanimously agreed to this course, believing it offers the best that can be secured. It was shown that Senator Humphrey and other opponents of combining the city and county have sufficient power to defeat any further efforts to secure passage of legislation to that end.

TEST SUIT ON NEW JUDICIAL ACT

Mandamus Asked in Case of William T. Vandeventer, Nominated for Supreme Court.

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—Application was made by Congressman W. E. Williams in the Supreme court today for leave to file a petition for mandamus in the case of the people on relation of William T. Vandeventer against Secretary of State Rose to certify to the nomination of William T. Vandeventer as judge of the Supreme court of the old Fourth judicial circuit.

The case is one to test the validity of the new Supreme court judicial districts appointment act just passed by the legislature.

The democrats of the old Fourth judicial district met at Quincy on Friday and nominated Vandeventer for judge, and the secretary of state refused to certify the nomination.

Indorses the Torrens Law Amendment

The Chicago Federation of Labor, at its meeting on Sunday, indorsed the Torrens law amendment bill. Every Cook county legislator was urged to work and vote for the measure.

LORIMER CASE IN COURT.

SUPREME JUDGES TAKE HABEAS CORPUS UNDER ADVISEMENT.

Attorney Levy Mayer Appears on Behalf of the Election Commissioners Who Were Fined $100 for Contempt—United States Senator Hopkins Answers for Sheriff Barrett and John H. Hamline for the Other Defendants—Points in the Argument.

Springfield, Ill., April 20.—The Supreme court today took up the Durborow-Lorimer contested congressional election case by hearing arguments in the habeas corpus proceedings against Sheriff Barrett of Cook county, Election Clerk Isaac N. Powell, and Election Commissioners William C. Malley and Thomas F. Judge, who refused to obey the injunction issued by Judge Elbridge Hanecy restraining them from producing the ballots cast at the election on Nov. 4, 1902, for the purpose of a recount in obedience to a subpœna duces tecum issued by Notary Public Fred B. McClory.

In consequence of a violation of his injunction Judge Hanecy had the election officers fined $100 and costs for contempt of court, and in default of payment ordered them to jail.

Levy Mayer of Chicago made the opening argument on behalf of the election officers and was followed by United States Senator Albert J. Hopkins, answering in behalf of Sheriff Barrett, while John H. Hamline of Chicago closed for the election commissioners.

Counsel for the election commissioners alleged that the Circuit court had no jurisdiction in the case and could not therefore fine the commissioners for contempt, and that the election commissioners would have violated the United States constitution had they refused to obey the subpœna duces tecum issued by Notary McClory.

REFUSES TO EAT OR TALK: RELIGIOUS MAN'S PENANCE.

When Threatened with Arrest if He Didn't Partake of Food Charles Hyde Hides Himself in a Barn for Hours.

Carried away by religious fervor, Charles Hyde, 133 Thirty-fifth street, took a vow two weeks ago that he would abstain from eating or talking for a month. When threatened with imprisonment if he did not eat, he yesterday left his house and, without clothes, ran to a barn, where he remained hidden until late in the afternoon. Then he returned to his residence, but has not eaten or spoken.

Policeman Lodge of the Stanton avenue station was called to the house Sunday evening and found people there beating drums and clanging cymbals in an effort to "drive out the evil spirit," as the mother of Hyde explained.

"He is possessed of a demon," said some. "He is insane," said others. Hyde was wasting away, but prayer and noise had no effect on him. The police summoned Dr. Isaac Friedman, 3566 Rhodes avenue, and after his efforts to make Hyde talk had been unavailing he took a stout string and drew it tightly about the patient's throat. His breathing checked, Hyde gasped out, "Stop that," the first words he had uttered for two weeks.

The young man is a bookkeeper, 24 years old. His mother, Mrs. Mary Hyde, said last night he had been having these spells for a long time.

"He has often refused to eat or speak," she said, "but he was never so bad as at this time. He is deeply religious and is doing penance by keeping silence."

SAVES BULLDOG: GIRL INJURED.

Mrs. Fred Woodland Turns Auto to Avoid Running Down Pet and Miss Pedyet Falls Out.

Anxiety for the safety of a pet bulldog caused an automobile accident in front of the Auditorium hotel yesterday forenoon, in which Miss Josephine Pedyet of 726 East Forty-second street was hurt. Her left shoulder was dislocated and her collar bone broken. She was quartered temporarily at the Annex, where she is now under the care of Dr. Hammond.

Mrs. George Woodland, wife of the vice president of the Prairie State bank; Mrs. Fred B. Woodland, wife of the cashier of the same bank; and Miss Pedyet were spinning along Michigan avenue, when, in front of the hotel, Mrs. Fred Woodland's pet dog jumped out of the automobile. Mrs. Woodland, who was steering the vehicle, became so excited that, to avoid running over her pet, she turned the auto sharply to the left. Miss Pedyet, who occupied the front seat by Mrs. Fred Woodland, not being prepared for the lurch, lost her balance and fell to the pavement.

The automobile ran against the curbstone, where it stopped with a jolt, which nearly sent the other occupants over the dashboard.

ALLEGED BIGAMIST TO GO FREE.

Mrs. Purcell and Mrs. Moss Refuse to Prosecute Man They Both Claim.

Alleged to have two wives, one married thirteen and the other eight years ago, Patrick J. Purcell, alias Pierce J. Moss, extradited from Milwaukee two weeks ago, will probably go free for want of prosecution. The woman who has searched for him for years, following him from Ireland, is said to be unwilling to testify against him.

Mrs. Moss, the woman married eight years ago, yesterday visited Mrs. Brennan, matron of the Thirty-fifth street police station. She said:

"I had known Mr. Moss four years when we were married in Boston in 1895. I shall never see him again, and I received word from Mrs. Purcell that she would not appear against our husband. I do not care to have him punished."

STABBING ENDS SALOON FIGHT.

James Connors Is Badly Wounded and the Police Are Hunting for Louis McGonigan.

James Connors, 449 State street, was stabbed last evening while in Louis Silverman's saloon at 459 State street. He was taken to the county hospital, where it is said he may die. Louis McGonigan, his assailant, escaped. The men quarreled over the payment for drinks and McGonigan, it is said, caught up a knife from the bar and attacked his companion. Then he kept the onlookers at a distance till he could reach a rear door and escape.

HANECY LIKELY TO QUIT FIELD.

Judge Said to Be Considering an Attractive Private Proposition.

ASPIRANTS ARE MANY.

Report of Old Jurists' Retirement Encourages Numerous Young Republicans.

Judge Elbridge Hanecy has not definitely made up his mind to stand for a renomination. The first intimation of this came from one of the jurist's close friends, who said yesterday: "Judge Hanecy could be nominated if he wanted to be, but is not certain that he wants it."

This man claimed that the judge has something better in view than his seat on the bench and added:

"If he is not a candidate it will be because of that fact and not because of any opposition to his going on the ticket. He has expected a fight, and from what I know of the situation the objections raised against his renomination would do more than anything else to make him a candidate."

Among politicians, however, the talk was in favor of following the example set by the democrats and renominating all the sitting judges.

May Have Little Speechmaking.

The democratic nominees held a conference with officers and members of the county committee during the afternoon at the Briggs house to arrange for their campaign. They decided to postpone action until after the republican convention on the ground that the kind of campaign necessary will depend on whether the present republican judges are renominated. If they are it was urged that speechmaking can be dispensed with to a large extent.

Judge Tuley took the position that there ought to be no stumping. He said after the tickets have been placed in the field they should leave it with the voters to make their own selections. But the party managers do not agree with him. One of them said:

"With two partisan tickets in the field it is idle to talk about making no campaign. This is the first time in a number of years the Cook county voters have been called on to choose between party candidates and you are going to see a lively fight."

Moving Does Not Disfranchise.

Judge Carter made a statement that will carry relief to the minds of a great many voters who are getting ready to move May 1. He said:

"Every voter who was registered April 7 who moves from one precinct into another can vote at the judicial election June 1 by going to the polling place and swearing his vote in before the judges of election."

This information was given out in answer to scores of inquiries made to the board of election commissioners within the last few days. A much larger vote than judicial elections have brought out in recent years is predicted.

Many Republican Aspirants.

At present all interest is centered in the republican preconvention doings. On the belief that there will be a break in the ranks of the old judges to make room for a goodly number of untried aspirants, the list of candidates is growing. It developed that there is a strong disposition to nominate again the men who were placed on the ticket last year under the law of 1901 and ruled off by the Supreme court. The list includes L. C. Collins, George A. Dupuy, A. M. Pence, Frederick A. Smith, W. S. Elliott Jr., and D. J. Schuyler.

It is understood that Collins and Dupuy feel assured of their selection. So does L. D. Condee, who has the backing of the Sixth ward delegation, and A. J. Hirschl, who claims that he is the choice of the Seventh ward delegation. McKenzie Cleland can claim as much assurance, as he has been indorsed by the delegation of his ward, the Thirty-second. However, A. C. Barnes of the Sixth ward, M. W. Pinckney of the Seventh, and John A. Henry of the Thirty-second, are in the race and each has a following. The other known candidates are:

H. W. Price,	R. S. Iles,
Oscar B. Torrison,	E. A. Dicker,
Harry Olson,	Charles T. Farson,
Erskine B. MacMillan,	Thomas Taylor Jr.,
M. W. Powers,	John P. Ahrens,
E. B. Fwisenthal,	H. D Beam,
F. S. Baird,	M. J. Foreman.
H. O. Sprogle,

Mr. Torrison has been put forward by the Twenty-eighth ward republicans. His friends claim that he will have the support of the entire northwest side.

At a meeting of the Twenty-fourth ward delegation the candidacy of Judson F. Going, a resident of the ward, was unanimously indorsed. He claims to have the support also of fifteen delegates in the Third ward.

Talk of Bolting the Convention.

There is talk already by those connected with the movement started a week ago with John H. Fitch and T. F. Laramie as chairman and secretary of bolting the republican convention. It was openly advocated by two speakers in a metting at the Briggs house last night, where was discussed the resolution previously adopted to give every delegate who wants it an opportunity to nominate his candidate.

There were seventy-five persons present. W. J. Manny and Charles E. Pope of the Third and Seventh wards respectively argued that in the event of failure to get the recognition they intend to demand that they should be ready to bolt the convention.

Several plans of procedure in which every delegate shall have a chance to name his first choice were suggested, after which the meeting provided for a committee of ten to formulate a program and present it to the leaders, in the hope that the faction will get the recognition that it wants. That committee comprises these delegates: W. J. Manny, H. W. Cooly, C. N. Mills, Robert Kolb, Edward Stanwood, H. N. Stillman, Edward Ahlswede, David Oliphant, J. W. Cremer, ad John O'Connor, with the chairman and secretary as ex officio members. These men are to put their demands before the officers of the convention and report results to another meeting Thursday night.

The speeches were for war if it is deemed necessary. When Mr. Ahlswede said, "We think it would be weakening the ticket to put a certain man on it," he was loudly applauded. Others suggested that it was not necessary to retain any of the old judges. This idea was also cheered.

Money saving paint
It costs something to paint a house; enough so that you are glad you don't have to do it often; enough so that you wish it didn't cost so much, and will be glad to know how it may cost less.
We'll tell you how: Devoe ready paint costs less than the ordinary cheap mixed paints because it takes fewer gallons; the fewer the gallons the less the labor cost. Devoe ready paint costs less than lead oil because it lasts about twice as long; twice as long to the dollar means half as many dollars per year, doesn't it? Guess Devoe's your paint, if you're a believer in the best at least cost.

LAST ROSE SHOW FOR THE COUNCIL

Meets in Bower of Blossoms and Will Forbid Flowers at First Sessions.

BURDEN TO THE GIVERS.

Nonpartisan Slate Is Adopted and Some City Business Transacted.

WORK DONE BY THE CITY COUNCIL.

Authorized the controller to issue $3,500,000 in water certificates.

Reorganized by adopting the nonpartisan slate.

Accepted the bonds of the newly elected city officials.

Passed a resolution demanding roll calls in the state legislature on the Mueller bill and condemning the substitute measure.

Received the mayor's veto of the Woodlawn Park telephone ordinance and re-referred the measure.

Received the appointment by the mayor of committee to convention of Good Roads association.

Passed an order for the laying of Trilby grooved rails by traction companies until further notice.

The city council last night held its last annual flower show. It was organization night and the rose garden held sway. At the end the council adjourned for three weeks.

American beauty roses by the hundred, costly cut flowers, and unique floral designs completely hid the aldermen. Many a constituent will be busy for weeks paying for the exhibit, and that is the reason the council will stop the custom.

It has grown beyond all reasonable proportions. Ald. John Brennan, reëlected from the Eighteenth ward, was remembered by his friends to the extent of 1,800 American beauties, which may have cost $700 or $800, and which formed a small mountain reaching half way to the ceiling. Ald. Kenna was a strong second in this sort of popularity.

Ald. Brennan, while appreciating the friendship of his ward people, declared that many of the roses came from persons who ought not to afford such a luxury, and said he was heartily in favor of abandoning the custom.

Ald. Milton J. Foreman will introduce a resolution at the next council meeting prohibiting flowers in the chamber at future organization nights.

Short Schedule of Business.

Aside from the floral features there was a short schedule of business. Mayor Harrison was sworn into office and the bonds of City Treasurer Hummel, City Clerk Bender, and City Attorney Smulski were approved.

The first session of the new council was minus two of its customary features. The mayor did not present his appointments, and his message was not ready. Both will be ready at the next session.

The mayor sat behind a small street car of flowers sent by the Board of Trade Harrison club and beneath a wreath of roses, in which small incandescent lights had been set—the gift of the women in the Twenty-first ward.

A tribute to the memory of ex-Ald. McInerney was raised in the Thirtieth ward seats. It recalled his famous "smoke talk" and announced that there would be "less smoke—Thirtieth ward" under his successor, Ald. Burns. For Ald. Wendling there was a floral elevator and the inscription "Going Up," a little testimonial to his rise from elevator conductor to alderman.

Ald. Woodward sat under an Indian and so did Ald. Sindelar. It was proposed quietly that the council should donate the display to the hospitals of the city, but no alderman had the requisite courage to make the proposal openly and the flowers either were mobbed and carried away in small bunches or were hurriedly removed after adjournment by the aldermen.

Mayor Harrison's guests at the opening session were Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth G. Field, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Winston, Charles M. Walker and daughter, Granville W. Browning, Miss Woolford, Edith Ogden Harrison, Carter H. Harrison Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ellicott, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke.

Ald. Palmer was not present at the meeting. He is automobiling in the east.

Work That Was Transacted.

The most important work the new council did after its reorganization was to authorize the mayor and controller to issue water certificates to the amount of $3,500,000, which will be used on intercepting sewer work and for the extension of the water system. If the legislature passes the bill enabling the city to employ day labor for such work the excavation on the Lawrence avenue sewer will be resumed at once.

Ald. Mavor explained that there are now outstanding only $1,000,000 in water certificates, and that they have been retired at the rate of $1,000,000 a year for the last three years.

"You didn't say that before election!" shouted Ald. Coughlin, and the laughter in the council drowned any reply which the chairman of the finance committee may have made.

There was just one vote against the issuance of the bonds, and that was from the socialist alderman, William Johnson of the Thirty-third ward.

Mayor Harrison returned several vetoes back. One concerned a franchise which had been granted the Woodlawn Park Telephone company to do business within a limited territory on the south side. This was vetoed for the reason that within this territory there are already two telephone companies—the Chicago and the United Telegraph and Telephone, with the probability of a third, the Illinois—and to allow the existence of a fourth, in the mayor's opinion, would have been simply to increase confusion. It was referred to committee again.

One change was allowed in the slate of committeeships submitted by Ald. Bennett for the reorganization committee. This was the substitution of Ald. Conlon's name for Ald. Brennan's at the request of the latter and despite the protests of the former.

Makeup of New Committees.

The important chairmanships are not changed. The new list is, as has been forecast in THE TRIBUNE, as follows:

Other Committees Are Named.

The mayor reappointed the track elevation committee unchanged, consisting of Ald. Jackson, Maypole, Carey, Beilfuss, Badenoch, Kunz, Palmer, Finn, and Dixon, the council having continued the existence of the committee.

The committee on small parks was named, as follows:

Ald. Herrmann, Friestedt, Alling, Novak, Harkin, Sullivan, Dever, Bradley, and William Best, Charles L. Hutchinson, Prof. Charles Zueblin, Fred A. Bangs, Prof. Graham Taylor, O. C. Simonds, George E. Adams, Oscar F. Mayer, Frederick Greeley, Bryan Lathrop, Dwight H. Perkins, Jens Jensen, Dr. James F. Chvatal, Livingston Fargo, and Clarence Buckingham.

The mayor named the following aldermen to represent Chicago at the convention of the National Good Roads association in St. Louis April 27-May 3: Ald. Carey, Dixon, Stuckart, Jones, Young, Sloan, Foreman, Zimmer, Dever, Brennan, Finn, Ehemann, O'Connell, Bradley, Hunter.

Treasurer Hummel's Bondsmen.

When Mr. Hummel's bond of $22,500,000 as city treasurer was submitted, Ald. Mavor asked for the reading of it, and then for a roll call on its adoption. Ald. Jackson refused to vote on the bond unless it were referred to a committee for investigation, but the council adopted it without inquiry. Mr. Hummel's bondsmen are:

James H. Gilbert, Fritz Goetz, Martin B. Madden, Jesse Spalding, James H. Eckels, Theodore P. Shonts, E. A. Potter, Thomas P. Phillips, Nathan G. Moore, L. A. Goddard, Edward E. Moberly, Edward Tilden, Elbridge G. Keith, Arthur Dixon, John R. Walsh, William Best, Maurice Rosenfeld, Frank O. Lowden, John A. Lynch, Clarence A. Knight, Charles L. Hutchinson, and Edward A. Shedd.

The council then adjourned until May 11.

HEAD OF VANDERBILT FAMILY TO MARRY.

WILLIAM K. VANDERBILT.

Legal steps taken in New York yesterday point to the truth of the story that William K. Vanderbilt, who was divorced from his wife in 1895, is to marry again, and it is said the widow mentioned in the story is Mrs. Lewis H. Rutherfurd, whose second husband died in 1901. She is a daughter of Oliver Harriman. Her first husband, Samuel S. Sands Jr., died in a hunting accident in 1889. Mr. Vanderbilt is 53 years old. His divorced wife is now Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont.

YARYAN HEATING PLANT TAKEN BY NEW COMPANY.

Consideration Is $285,000 and Trust Deed Provides for Issue of Bonds for Extensions—Transfers of Real Estate

The plant of the Evanston Yaryan company, which was bid in at foreclosure sale last week by Lyman A. Walton, vice president of the Equitable Trust company, for $219,295, has been conveyed by him to the Evanston Heating company, organized to succeed the Yaryan company. The consideration is $285,000.

The purchasing company executed a trust deed to the Illinois Trust and Savings bank as trustee for $400,000, of which $125,000 is to be issued immediately, to be followed by additional issues from time to time in connection with the improvement and enlargement of the plant not exceeding in the aggregate 85 per cent of the company's subsequent additional expenditures. The bonds run ten years and bear 5 per cent interest. It is understood that interests friendly to the Chicago Edison company are behind the purchase.

Charles F. Gunther has executed a trust deed to Edwin G. Foreman for $50,000, running five years at 4 per cent, covering the premises, 260 State street, 25x100 feet, with four story building.

W. S. Freeman has sold to James A. Biddleman the property at the northwest corner of Ogden and Millard avenues, 80x125 feet, with three story store and flat building, for $34,000, with incumbrance of $18,000.

Diana R. Chaffee has sold to Daniel F. Crilly the flat property at the southwest corner of Wabash avenue and Twenty-eighth street, with 49½x126 feet of ground, for $30,000, with incumbrance of $25,000.

Isaac N. Perry, president of the National Bank of North America, has purchased from Thomas H. Hulbert the residence property at the northeast corner of Prairie avenue and Twenty-ninth place for $35,000.

Attacks Woman in the Street.

Frank L. Sample, a traveling cabinet maker, attacked Mrs. Annie Schultz of North Forty-eighth avenue, Evanston, yesterday afternoon, and was seen by Conductor R. F. Schneider, who leaped from his freight train on the Mayfair branch of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad and captured him. Justice Ely held the man in $300 bonds until tomorrow.

Alleged Rioters' Case Postponed.

Scores of Greeks crowded into the Maxwell street police court yesterday for the hearing of three of their countrymen—Nick Ruzzitto, James Chipanvitz, and John Loleets—charged with beating Policeman Cohen. The defendants asked for and obtained a continuance until Saturday.

SEEK PENSIONS IN VAIN.

WIDOWS AND CHILDREN OF POLICE REFUSED MONEY.

Payment Day Finds Fund Gone and the Families of Those Who Were Killed in the Discharge of Their Duty as Well as Old Men Crippled by Their Service to the City Go Home Empty Handed — O'Neill's Statement.

There were no police pensions paid yesterday. The widows of policemen who had been killed in performance of their duty, and old policemen dependent on their pensions for support went to the city paymaster in vain. Without money in the fund the pension board could make no payments. Families of six and seven children supported by this pension may be in actual want before the end of the month. Here is Chief O'Neill's statement of the condition and its causes.

"It was a sad thing to see these old policemen and the widows of men who had died in the service come to the paymaster and find that they could draw nothing.

"There was old Andrew Pennell. I remember he was one of the old officers when I went on the force. He came down today and found the paymaster had nothing for him. He may not have had car fare to reach his home again. The money he relies on for support cannot be paid him.

"Thirteen or fourteen of the pensioners came into the office this morning, and I tried to explain the situation. There is Mrs. Patrick Duffy. She is the widow of the policeman who was shot dead in his tracks in the stockyards district. She has five children to support, and they are dependent on the $41 a month she gets in pension.

Some Pitiful Instances.

"There is the rent to pay, the grocer, the meat man, and all the other bills, and no money to pay them with. This is the family of a man shot while doing his duty. When I told the pensioners this morning of Mrs. Duffy's case another woman spoke up and said: 'I have seven children, and my husband was shot while trying to arrest a criminal. I am in the same condition as Mrs. Duffy, and have more mouths to feed.'

"The widow of Policeman Messenger, who was shot at the Harrison street police station, came from a hospital to try and get her money. She had just been through a surgical operation. Another widow said she just had 20 cents in the world.

"There was another woman with six children and dependent on the money which we could not give her. It's a sad thing to think that this is the fate of a policeman's family after he has worked faithfully for the city and probably has lost his life trying to protect the lives of other people.

"The pensioners took such encouragement as I could give them. I told them we would send out policemen to capture dogs and get the tax, and thus increase our revenue. Maybe we can get enough money in to make a payment next month. Of course this payment is not defaulted. We may be able to make it up some time, and we hope next month to make a payment.

O'Neill Blames Patrolmen.

"Meanwhile our efforts to secure relief from the legislature have been blocked by the ill advised efforts of patrolmen to get their pensions raised. A sort of dog in the manger policy has hurt the endeavor to put the pension fund on a safe basis.

"There has not been any new blood put in the police force for years. We have not been able to retire old timers on pensions. We can't turn them out in the streets to starve. We have had to keep them at work. I even have one armed men on the force.

"Now, while we are doing everything to keep down the number of pensioners, and are trying to secure more revenue, the patrolmen come in and insist on an advance in their pensions. We draft a bill which reduces the pensions of commanding officers, provides additional revenue, and leaves the policeman's pension where it is, and then the patrolmen come in, take all the provisions we have drawn for increased revenue, add another $100 to their own pensions, and send the bill to Springfield.

"I am told there are a big lobby and two attorneys at the legislature trying to defeat our bill and pass that of the patrolmen. Now, what if they do pass it? Relief will be granted for a year or two and then this same situation will be on us again.

"Instead of allowing a surplus to grow into an endowment fund they propose to eat it all up in increased pensions. And while they are making these efforts the dependent families of dead policemen are going without the money needed for their support."

ACCUSED OF PAY ROLL STUFFING

Supervisor J. D. O'Hern and Two Other Employes of the Illinois Central Arrested.

On a charge of having conducted a systematic swindle against the Illinois Central railroad by stuffing the pay roll of one of the section gangs, J. D. O'Hern, supervisor of section work, Charles O'Hern, timekeeper, and Mark Walsh, foreman, were arrested last evening and booked at the Hyde Park police station. Later they gave bond in the sum of $500 each and were released. It is alleged that for two months or more the three men have been receiving the wages of six or eight men whose names appeared on the pay roll, but who did not really exist.

NEED $1,000,000 FOR CLEAN CITY.

This Sum Handled by Citizens' Society, It Is Held, Would Solve the Problem.

PRESENT DIRT IS COSTLY.

Merchants Say the Expenditure Would Be Paying Investment for Chicago.

TO CLEAN CHICAFO AND KEEP CHICAGO CLEAN.

Organize a citizens' street cleaning association, with central committees, representative of the entire city, and with branches in every ward.

Employ laborers and take up the work of cleaning the principal streets all over Chicago, leaving the municipal government to use its cramped efforts to care for the "side streets."

Let the ward improvement clubs, acting under a central organization, make it an object also to arouse public pride and secure obedience to the "clean city" ordinance.

The plan probably will cost $1,000,000 a year, this amount to be raised by subscription.

This is the remedy for Chicago's dirty streets which was indorsed yesterday by members of the city council and by business men. Representatives of the business interests contend that Chicago is losing trade each day solely because of its dirt. They assert, further, that commercial houses suffer daily an aggregate heavy loss from the damage to stock by flying dirt tracked in by every comer.

Only Street Cleaning Way.

"The only way to clean Chicago streets, under existing circumstances," said Ald. Raymer, "is to organize a central association, establish branches in each ward, arouse public pride, and do the work by private subscription. There is no other way, and it should be done. If the plan were set under way I am sure that the response would be immediate and hearty. This plan should appeal to the business interests, which are suffering a decreasing trade daily solely because of the unsightliness of our city. It would pay them as a business proposition.

"The amount required to clean the principal streets and to keep them clean would be near $1,000,000 a year. But the result would be worth the cost. I know one man who is interested in one of our largest department stores. He has a brother in a large city not a great distance from Chicago. This merchant until recent years made his annual purchases in Chicago. Then his orders went elsewhere. His brother recently induced him to come here for a visit, and sought to have him make his heavy annual purchases here as before. The brother came, but on leaving said: 'I want to visit you and visit often; but I must say that I'll never come back to this city again, if I can help it. There's too much dirt for me.'

"That is one case in a thousand. Something must be done. The city hasn't sufficient funds to clean the city as it should be cleaned. What is spent is not always spent judiciously. There should be 50 per cent of the clerical force in the city hall cut out, and the money thus saved turned over to the benefit of the street cleaning. I say that a citizens' organization is the only way to meet this public calamity of ours—dirt."

Urges a Citizens' Association.

J. Harry Selz, of the firm of Selz, Schwab & Co., asserts that the money required for a citizens' organization to render effective work—$1,000,000—would be returned at once in increased trade and in checking the decrease of property values due solely to Chicago's filth. He is one of the directing factors of the Market Street Improvement association, formed by merchants in that thoroughfare.

"We're not only going to keep the street clean," said he, "but we're going to seek to arouse in business men and employés on the street something like that pride in Chicago which existed years ago. I believe the real way to secure relief from the present dirty streets is to organize a citizens' association, select a representative central committee, have branches in every ward, call for public subscriptions, secure a capable man as superintendent, employ a great cleaning force, and then clean up this city.

"Chicago is losing commercially every day," continued Mr. Selz. "People won't come here to trade because of the dirt. Merchants who, considering the position of the cities in which they are located, should trade here, go east with their orders or to those cities where they do not have to fight dirt and smoke. Property values are going down daily. The value of real estate is lower than it was twenty years ago. And all is due, in greatest part, to our dirt.

Politics the Real Evil.

"It's time for Chicago to get out of the rut into which it has fallen. You go to other cities, and what a sensation you have! No dirt, no smoke, pure water, no mud! Chicago can secure this same condition, too, if its citizens will arouse themselves, and a citizens' organization for the purpose of cleaning the streets is what is needed. The trouble here is that all these problems are made political problems—street cleaning and all. That should not be:

"Under present conditions the only way to make Chicago what it should be is to raise money by public subscription and clean the streets through an organization which shall represent the citizens and not politicians."

GREENBERG'S LAWYER FINED AND IS COMMITTED TO JAIL.

Offends Judge Carter by Remarks in Constable's Case—Released on Habeas Corpus Writ Issued by Judge Hanecy

C. Stuart Beattie, attorney for Constable Louis Greenberg, was fined by Judge Carter yesterday afternoon, and on his refusal to pay he was ordered committed to jail. He was later released on a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Hanecy.

The trouble grew out of a technicality in the proceedings on account of a summons not being issued on the order entered by the court for Greenberg to justify on his bonds. In the absence of the summons Attorney C. D. Anthony, representing the people, called on Greenberg's counsel to consent to the case being allowed to proceed by agreement.

"I will consent to nothing," said Beattie.

"That is a strange remark to be made in open court," said Judge Carter. "I have a notion to fine you for it."

"If my conduct is in any way improper," replied the attorney, "the court knows its remedy."

"I will fine you $5 for that last remark," said the court. "Until you apologize for your action the fine will be against you. Mr. Sheriff, take charge of Mr. Beattie."

Beattie borrowed $5 from Greenberg and offered it to the court. His manner and words were again taken exception to by Judge Carter, and an additional $5 was added to the fine. This Beattie refused to pay, and he was committed to jail for one day. Judge Hanecy released him on a bond of $300, and his case has been set for a hearing Saturday morning.

The affair brought a stop to the proceedings against Constable Greenberg, and action will have to again be taken before the case can be brought before the court.

Strike Blamed for Boat's Mishap.

Treachery among the crew of the Anchor line steamer Codorus is blamed for causing hard work for two crews of life savers on Lake Michigan and for bringing the big vessel helpless into Chicago early yesterday morning. Powdered emery, fed into the oil cups of the vessel's engines by an alleged sympathizer with striking firemen, is blamed for the mishap. Had not the tug Morford been hurried to the Codorus' aid the vessel might have been driven ashore, as a brisk northeast wind was blowing when it became powerless to proceed.

SANTOS-DUMONT GIVES AN AERIAL BANQUET.

Mrs. Minnie Methot, who arrived in New York on Saturday from Cherbourg, said that the evening before leaving Paris she attended with friends a remarkable dinner as the guest of M. Santos-Dumont. Keeping the affair as close a secret as C. K. G. Billings did the recent dinner on horseback in New York, the airship inventor ushered his assembled guests into a banquet hall of truly aerial makeup.

From tables seven feet from floor to cloth the viands and wines were served, while the waiters attending to their wants walked about on stilts. The chairs, with their long, thin legs, were reached by mounting a short flight of portable steps. Adding to the illusion of aerial dining the inventor had a miniature model of the Santos-Dumont VII. suspended from the center of the ceiling of the room. As the dinner progressed the airship circled rapidly over the heads of the guests.

After the dinner the guests were taken to an adjoining room, where they witnessed upon an elevated billiard table the playing of a well contested game, the players and guests occupying chairs ten feet in height. "The sensation was novel and exhilarating," said Mrs. Methot, "and it was told us that evening that Santos-Dumont has in his experiments become so thoroughly imbued with aerostatics that he could no longer dine in comfort at the ordinary altitude, but preferred the aerial table for daily use."

LOVE STORY TOLD IN 'ADS.'

TWO HEARTS THROB THROUGH THE PERSONAL COLUMNS.

Newspapers Used from Day to Day to Convey Pleadings of Wooer to Wooed — Protestations by "Sherlock," Followed by Expressions of Doubt—Then Comes the Peacemaking After Inevitable Quarrel, the Finale Being "C.'s" Forgiveness.

"A Romance of Chicago Life," or "How 'Sherlock' Won the Heart of Fair 'C,'" might be written around eleven personal "ads" which have appeared in the Chicago newspapers since last January.

For the identity of "Sherlock" you must work your imagination. Likewise nothing can be told of "C." They probably live in Chicago, and again they may not.

Much of the warmth and fervency of "Sherlock's" feelings towards "C" may be gained by reading the "ads" addressed to the unknown woman. It is presumed that "C" has used some other method of communicating with "Sherlock," for only two "ads" are found addressed to him. As a result the romance to the public is one sided, similar to the conversation at one end of a telephone line.

Heart Throbs Begin.

The meeting of the "two souls" must have occurred in October, 1902, but "Sherlock's" heart began beating through "ads." Jan. 11 of this year, as follows:

PERSONAL — C.: GOOD MORNING, INCOMparable one. I claim one thought today.
SHERLOCK.

It is not told whether or not "Sherlock" was accorded the cherished "one thought" on that day. But he did not despair, and must have received some encouragement, for Jan. 18 his heart had another beat in this fashion:

PERSONAL — C.: MAKE THE DAY THE longest on record. My need of you no language can portray. SHERLOCK.

Did "Sherlock" hope to alter the calendar? A kind friend might have advised him to wait until June 21, but man-like he probably did not wait. Then he congratulated himself that the winter days were passing quickly and had "heart beat" No. 3, as follows, on Jan. 25:

PERSONAL—C.: MY CONSOLATION, EVERY day that passes brings nearer heart's desire.
SHERLOCK.

Doubt Possesses Sherlock.

At this point "Sherlock" apparently began to doubt his own ability to please the fair "C," and wondered if he had not made a "mess" of his wooing in October. Beat No. 4 is like this:

PERSONAL — C.: CONVICTION CREEPING over me that you were horribly bored in October. With any show of success crowning efforts will redouble same to please. SHERLOCK.

That he was "remembered" may be inferred from the following heart beat, which was made public on Feb. 15:

PERSONAL—C.: YOU SAY, "'TIS SWEET TO be remembered." How about never being forgotten? Have been happy since heard your voice again. SHERLOCK.

Heart beat No. 6 was filled with anxiety for fair "C" was ill. Incidentally he could send no flowers—but he saved a florist bill.

PERSONAL—C.: VERY ANXIOUS ABOUT YOU. Hope much better. Wish could get roses to you. Still patiently waiting. SHERLOCK.

And then came a quarrel—it was to be expected. It would not be a romance without some kind of trouble. Heart beat No. 7 indicates that the aforesaid heart had been punctured. Here it is, the date being Feb. 22:

PERSONAL—C.: THAT YOU CAN DOUBT IN any manner deeply grieves and worries me.
SHERLOCK.

"C" Begins to Show Interest.

There were no more heart beats until March 22, when for the first time "C's" heart gets busy in an "ad." There was more of a desire for information than affection, at least its contents lacked the fire often found in "Sherlock's" beats. Here is heart beat No. 8 in the romance:

PERSONAL — SHERLOCK: DO YOU MEAN "C" Mar. '99; Evanston-av. car. Dec. 1902? Was not sure, 'twas friend.

After a month of unlimited suffering, judging from the tale of woe, "Sherlock" comes to bat with the longest heart beat thus far recorded. It appeared in last Sunday's paper. Here it is:

PERSONAL—C.: MOST MISERABLE OF ALL days. Is friendship only for fair weather? Strangers for our faults and weaknesses have no charity, but are true friends not of different metal? They surely do not desert us at first disappointment. Anything causing displeasure to you deeply regretted, and forgiveness earnestly sought. Punishment most severe already. Recall the "Fool's Prayer." Be generous and respond. Neither time, distance, nor silence will change my loyalty.
SHERLOCK.

Forgiveness for Everything.

In exactly twenty-four hours "C" winds up the first chapter of the romance with forgiveness for "everything and anything" in heart beat No. 10, which was printed yesterday morning. "C's" heart was apparently softened, and "Sherlock" was made happy in this manner:

PERSONAL—SHERLOCK: ALL, ANYTHING, everything is forgiven. Just come or write as soon as possible. Address C 85, Tribune office.

Did he go, or did he write? Is it the end, or is it only the beginning? "C" evidently was uncertain of the result of this appeal, for in the paper this morning "Sherlock" is informed that instructions await him. Here it is:

PERSONAL—SHERLOCK: THERE'S NOTHING to forgive. Letter of instructions at Tribune office for Sherlock. C 58, Tribune office.

Surely there is but one thing for "Sherlock" to do. Has he the nerve, or is he faint hearted? His hour is at hand.

WOMAN TO HAVE HEARING ON CHARGE OF BURGLARY.

Mrs. John Brayden, 739 Grand Avenue, Accused by Neighbor—Torn Money Identifies Alleged Holdup Men.

Mrs. John Brayden, alleged burglar, will be given a hearing in the Harrison street police court this morning. She was arrested at her home, 739 Grand avenue, yesterday afternoon on complaint of Adolph Anderson, who occupies apartments in the building where the defendant lives. He says that Mrs. Brayden, who is 25 years old, robbed his apartment on the afternoon of April 17, taking a watch and chain and some clothing. Mrs. Brayden denies the charge.

Robbers Overlook $2,000.—Harry Foster, an employé of the Oakland National bank, was held up by two men in front of Kinsley's restaurant early Sunday morning. The robbers had taken his watch and $15, but had not yet found negotiable paper worth $2,000 when Policeman Goudrey came to his rescue. The policeman arrested E. G. Garland and George M. Goudie.

Identified by Torn Bills.—"Here are the halves of three $5 bills; holdup men got the missing parts," said J. B. Kievlan, 198 Chestnut street, at the exchange window of the United States subtreasury in the morning, then two roughly dressed men pushed their way in front of him and offered the parts of three $5 bills for redemption. The cashier matched the two installments of crumpled currency and then Kievlan seized the two men. They were arrested. They give their names as James Babcock and Andy Knuckey.

Clerk and Money Gone.—While left in charge of O'Brien's grocery store, 3724 Halsted street, John Meyers disappeared. His employer says $375 also is missing. The police are looking for Meyers.

Accused of Robbing Poor Boxes.—Charles Beck was arrested on the charge of robbing poor boxes in Holy Angels' church in Oakwoods boulevard.

TAKES POISON: REGRETS IT: DOCTOR SAVES HER LIFE.

Rosie Hall Drinks Laudanum at Clark and Monroe Streets—E. Lovett, Her Sweetheart, Begs Her to Live.

When E. Lovett, doorman at the Hamilton club, went to the People's drug store, Clark and Monroe streets, last evening to keep a tryst with Rosie Hall the girl met him with a vial of laudanum in her hand. After a word of greeting the girl drank the poison. Immediately she became alarmed and cried:

"There were two ounces of laudanum in the bottle."

She was carried into the drug store, and while the clerks slapped, and prodded, and rubbed the girl to keep her awake some one called Dr. W. Lewis Tallman. When the physician arrived, however, she was rapidly losing consciousness and Lovett was rushing frantically about shouting:

"Keep awake, Rosie. What did you take that stuff for. It was only a joke any way. Keep awake or you will die."

In a short time she was out of danger. Miss Hall, who apparently is not more than 15 years old, lives near Lovett's home at 3225 Cottage Grove avenue. Lovett had told his fellow-employés at the Hamilton club that he had had trouble with his sweetheart, and when he left the club shortly after 6 o'clock last evening he said he was going to meet her and "square himself."

Will Lecture on Christian Science.

A lecture entitled "The Meaning of Christian Science" will be given by Carol Norton of New York at the Third Church of Christ, Scientist, Washington boulevard and Leavitt street, this evening at 8 o'clock.

FINN RELEASED ON $5,000 BOND.

Justice Declares in Court Marooney and Not the Prisoner Is the Guilty Man.

MISS HORNBURG'S CLEW.

Tells of Her Brother-in-Law's Statement in Hickey Case, but He Denies It.

In accordance with the theories of the police, Robert B. Finn, charged with the murder of Jennie Hickey, whose body was found on the breakwater at the foot of Thirty-fifth street five years ago, is temporarily free. Justice Patrick H. Duggan admitted him to bail yesterday morning in the sum of $5,000, William Hanrahan, a saloonkeeper at 3428 Cottage Grove avenue, being his surety. Capt. Shippy and Inspector Hunt offered no objection to their prisoner's release.

In the preliminary hearing in the Englewood police court the case was explained to Justice Duggan.

"That is the man that killed the girl," said Justice Duggan, pointing at Martin Marooney, who was being led from the room. "If appearances go for anything Finn is innocent and Marooney is guilty."

This remarkable statement, coming from the magistrate who will first pass on the merits of the charges made by Marooney, caused a sensation in the courtroom.

Miss Hornburg's New Clew.

After Marooney had been taken to the cell room below, those who were standing in the general office were surprised by the sudden appearance of his sweetheart, Gussie Hornburg. She was almost breathless.

"Where is the captain?" she asked. "I want to see the captain right away." In his private office she told him that it could be proven that Finn had told a falsehood when he had said that he had never heard of the death of the Hickey girl.

"This morning just after breakfast," she said, "William J. Condon, who is my sister's husband and who lives at 368 Bowen avenue, told in the presence of my sister and a Mrs. Selbee that there was no reason for me to worry, for if Martin told the truth he would get out of this trouble all right and that Finn had been accused by a man in his poolroom less than six months ago of being guilty of the murder. I asked if it was 'Martie' who was talking to Finn. He said that it was not, and when I questioned him further he said that he knew who the man was."

Denies Sister-in-Law's Story.

Detectives were hurried out after Condon, who is an employé of a downtown store. He was found in the afternoon and taken before Capt. Shippy, to whom he denied that he had made any such statement as his sister-in-law had declared, and said that he did not know anything about the case.

Miss Hornburg was sent for and repeated the story that she had told in the morning. After a long time Condon admitted that there had been a conversation in his home during the morning, but would not say that he had made any statements concerning Finn.

"It has been talked about the neighborhood for more than a year that Finn and Marooney, or Hall, as I know him, knew a good deal about the murder of the girl. I have heard it a great many times. But I do not know anything about it," he said.

Capt. Shippy did not credit his statement and finally released him.

The police are giving Finn every opportunity to prove his innocence.

Finn Having an Easy Time.

"If the police were trying to shield Finn they could not do more than they seem to be doing," said one of the men about the station yesterday afternoon. "But every one believes Finn had nothing to do with the case, so it is probably all right."

If Marooney had any ill feeling towards Gussie Hornburg for her part in exposing the story it has passed by. She called to see him a number of times yesterday, and each time they met he kissed her.

"I want to do everything that I can do to free him," said the young woman. "I love him and I shall never love any one else. When my brother-in-law said this morning that he had known that Finn had been accused of the murder of the little girl six months ago I knew that it was a clew that would help 'Monte.' So I came right to Capt. Shippy. Now he denies it. But it is the truth and I can prove that he said it."

Refuses to Sign Warrant.

The warrant for Finn's arrest was taken out by Capt. Shippy. Sergeant Garret Stark bluntly refused to sign the warrant when ordered to do so, saying that he did not believe that Finn was guilty and that he would would not be a party to the matter. Capt. Shippy then signed the warrant himself. Mrs. Finn was in the courtroom and left with her husband after the bond had been signed.

Jennie Joyce, the girl who was with the Hickey girl the night that she disappeared, has not yet been found by the police. It is thought that she may know Finn or Marooney and may have seen them on that night. Capt. Shippy said yesterday that he would send for Annie Peliran, the girl for whom Marooney said that he was waiting when he saw the two men and girl in the park. She is said to be in Saginaw, Mich.

Marooney was questioned many times yesterday. He continued to maintain that he had told all that he knew of the case in his last statement and that he had nothing to add to it.

May Prove Important Witness.

An important witness may be Charles M. Hardy, an attorney, who said yesterday that on the night that the Hickey girl disappeared he saw her with a man in Cottage Grove avenue. He said that he believed that he could identify the man who was with her.

"I have not been asked to look at the prisoners at the Englewood station," said Mr. Hardy. "If I am I shall be glad to do so. I firmly believe that the girl was murdered. I was within ten feet of the man and girl at Thirty-seventh street and Cottage Grove avenue and I am sure that I would know him again."

Capt. Shippy says he will "book" Marooney this morning and then the prisoner can be released on bonds.

In the police court this morning Ella Winters, the 16 year old girl whose arrest on the charge of waywardness was the cause of bringing to light the events connected with the latest investigation of the Hickey murder case, will have a hearing before Justice Duggan. Among the witnesses subpœnaed to testify as to her character is Gussie Hornburg.

Eruptions

Tetter, eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Which thoroughly cleanse the blood, expelling all humors and building up the whole system. They cure.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured J. G. Hines, Franks, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Alvina Wolter, Box 212, Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

IS THE STICK BIG ENOUGH?

Recent unfortunate developments make it seem that the new navy is characterized by structural weaknesses of various kinds and the whole navy by manual deficiency. The recent disasters on board battleships, indeed, are of such a nature that the contemplated cruise to the Azores probably will be abandoned. Instead of seven ships we could display only three, and such a display might provoke European satire.

Of the ships which were to compose the squadron only three are fit for duty, the Kearsarge, Alabama, and Illinois. The supports of the turrets and gun positions of the Maine gave way under the energetic explosiveness of smokeless powder and its boilers have proved a failure. Hence, that ship must be in dock for repairs for several months. The Iowa will have to go out of commission because of the bursting of one of its twelve inch guns. The Massachusetts is in such a condition that it must be entirely overhauled. The Indiana is no longer fit for fleet duty. In the meantime the personnel of the navy is in wretched condition. Not only is "the rank and file" inefficient but midshipmen are so inexperienced they cannot be trusted to instruct the newly enlisted men. There is also a scarcity of experienced line officers and thoroughly trained engineer officers. The worst of the situation is that the weakness the Maine displayed when tried by the energy of smokeless powder may be discovered under similar circumstances in every other vessel in the fleet. They are all built on the same structural design. Must all of them be reconstructed to bring them up so the highest standard of efficiency? Again, it is apparent that the life of a big gun in which smokeless powder is used is not yet definitely known. The Iowa's gun exploded at its 125th round, but whether it exploded from a defective fuse, causing premature explosion of the shell, or from the increased energy of the new powder is not yet known. In any event the experts are already beginning to doubt whether the life of these big guns is half as long as they believed it would be.

The fault apparently does not lie with our shipbuilders. They construct strong, stanch ships which satisfactorily meet every detail of the specifications. It rather belongs to the engineering department, which Chief Engineer Melville admits is rapidly deteriorating on account of the small number of line officers assigned to duty. The government engineers and designers limit the offensive power of these vessels by miscalculations in arranging for disposition of guns and construction of boilers, or subject a vessel to tests it was not made to meet. Evidently there is a necessity for overhauling the department. The president in his speech upon the Monroe doctrine quoted the old adage: "Speak softly and carry a big stick; you will go far." Should we not speak softly because we are not carrying so big a stick as we thought we were?

TRAINING IN DUTY.

The Rev. Edward Everett Hale spoke to the students of Yale on Sunday last and gave them some important advice in the matter of training in duty. The speaker was not applying his advice specially to Yale but to all colleges, and particularly to public schools in general. He regretted that this kind of training is no longer a fundamental part of education; that "in the average school training is limited to some one day of the week"; and that "the average boy or girl under our training has a conceited notion with regard to his or her importance."

Dr. Hale has hit one of the weak spots in the modern public school system—the lack of training in duty—duty, to parents, to superiors, and to education. To that is due the lack of respect for authority and obedience to discipline. There was an illustration of this the other day at the Elgin High school. The pupils of that school, who are old enough to have known better, with the exaggerated idea of their own importance, of which Dr. Hale justly complains, undertook to do as they pleased in every respect without regard to the regulations of the school or the authority of the principal. In a word, they were running the school and laughed at any attempt to restrain them or to preserve order. One day, when the insubordination and disorder became too intolerable to bear, the principal lost his temper and, foolishly, perhaps, assaulted one of the offenders, instead of suspending him or dismissing him altogether, whereupon he was assaulted in turn and came near receiving severe punishment. Fortunately, in this case, the people of Elgin, who are on the eve of electing a new board of education and a new superintendent, the old one being deemed too severe, have changed their minds and will now reëlect the old superintendent, with the view to the restoration of authority in the school.

The case at Elgin is not exceptional. In the city of Chicago there are children who have no respect for the authority of teachers and fancy they are running the school, and, worse still, there are some teachers who have no respect for the board of education and fancy they are the managers of the school system. Dr. Hale is old and may be old fashioned, but his criticism is none the less true, and it applies to everything in this country that is or should be subject to higher authority. Disrespect for the governing power in the state, in the school, in the home, is a growing weakness in the republic.

WANTED—AN IMPARTIAL SPEAKER.

The presiding officer of nearly every legislative body—the national senate being a notable exception—is intrusted with much power. It is necessary that he should be, or often business would move slowly or would not move at all. When the power is exercised discreetly no exception is taken to it except by a few persons who may have been foiled in their attempt to play the obstructor's part. A speaker is not obliged to recognize the member who demands the floor most lustily. He can properly be deaf to dilatory motions when he knows that only a handful of men are behind them. It is too much to ask that a speaker shall at all times see and hear everybody.

There are occasions when a speaker cannot decently be deaf and blind, and when he forfeits irredeemably whatever reputation for impartiality and fair dealing he may have by "jamming through," or "gavveling through," legislation. Speaker Miller will have an opportunity tomorrow when the Lindly municipal ownership bill comes up in the house to show whether he is governed by parliamentary law or by the instructions of persons who, for reasons they have not yet avowed, wish to force through the committee bill without amendment.

Substitutes for the bill and amendments to it will be offered. Whether a majority will favor them is uncertain, but they assuredly will have the support of a respectable minority—a minority so large as to have rights which cannot safely be trampled on. One of the rights will be an opportunity to present substitutes or amendments. Another right will be to have a call of the roll on them, so that the sentiment of the house may be authoritatively ascertained.

If seventy-seven members of the house are in favor of the Lindly bill as it stands they have the right to vote down every amendment which may be offered and pass the bill. It is not for the speaker to assume that the opponents of the bill are in a minority and that he will be saving time by refusing to recognize members who have notified him they have amendments to offer and putting the bill through under the gavel. All the adversaries of the bill ask for is an impartial speaker—a fair field and no favor.

A SQUADRON AT KIEL.

The United States will after all be represented at the kaiser's aquatic reception in the harbor of Kiel. In the absence of the secretary of the navy some one declined the emperor's invitation to the north Atlantic squadron and wounded the feelings of Germans. Then the European squadron put in at Marseilles when President Loubet was there on his way to Algeria. Naturally, that surprised Germans and created some irritation. Fortunately, the secretary of the navy returned in time to accept for the European squadron the invitation which had been unwisely declined for the north Atlantic squadron. The German press has quieted down and peace is fully restored.

International amenities are not all-important, but it is better to observe them. If the German government wishes to be civil to an American fleet, it should be given every opportunity. There is as much to learn en route to the North sea as sailing in the Mediterranean, and probably more to learn at Kiel than at Marseilles. The oftener German and American naval officers meet the better will it be for both. Each will learn and will respect the good qualities of the other. The blunder committed by a subordinate of the navy department has been made good. It would have been shockingly tactless to show courtesy to a French president and deny it to a German emperor. No doubt the American fleet will have a pleasant time at Kiel or wherever else a fleet may be invited by a European naval power.

AN ADDITION TO LINCOLN PARK.

Now that Representative Brundage has learned that his Lake View constituents favor the Lincoln park commissioners' bill he must bestir himself to bring it out of the committee where he buried it. The bill, which has passed the senate, is to define the shore line north of the present park boundary and to authorize the commissioners to fill in nearly 300 acres of submerged land, the work to be paid for by bonds issued by the town of Lake View. At present Lake View has no debt. If a debt of that size seems formidable to the taxpayers of the town they may console themselves with the reflection that when the inevitable consolidation of park systems is effected their park debt will be an obligation of the whole city instead of Lake View alone. There is another point to be considered. When that consolidation shall have taken place it will not be so easy a matter as it is now to secure a bond issue of a million dollars or of half a million, even, for the exclusive improvement of Lincoln park. This is the time to do something for that park. It will be to the advantage of Lake View to issue bonds for a park extension which would be especially accessible to residents of the town and will enhance the value of property.

The bill has a referendum clause, and the people will pass on the bond issue. Lake View cannot suffer by the passage of the bill. If the voters take advantage of the measure they will not regret it. Mr. Brundage should inform the chairman and members of the parks and boulevards committee that he has changed his mind; that his constituents want the bill passed in order that they may give themselves and their children a park at the expense of all Chicago.

NEW AND OLD UNIONS.

The advice which delegates of the carpenters' union and the typographical union gave the Federation of Labor day before yesterday was not accepted, but it was not bad advice. If the federation were to resolve to refuse to back up strikes ordered by unions which are less than a year old it would consult the real interests of organized labor, which call for conservative rather than radical action.

New unionism is apt to be as heady as new wine. The men who act in concert for the first time frequently overestimate the power which organization places in their hands and are a little too ready to seek for opportunities to use the new, untried power. They are ambitious recruits who are eager to take part in a campaign because they have not learned that campaigning involves hardships and sometimes closes in defeat. Many new born unions have rushed inconsiderately into strikes without consulting other unions which they have assumed would give them material aid as well as sympathy.

The older unions have learned that not all strikes are won. They have learned also that when one is begun it is expedient to have money in the treasury and not be compelled to ask at once for outside aid. Said one of the typographical union delegates: "I do not believe in strikes where men go out and then rush home to tell their wives and children they must starve." There have been such strikes ordered often by inexperienced unions.

Time works a pleasing change. The union which today is radical and aggressive—"spoiling for a fight"—is tomorrow considerate and conservative. It has been through strikes and knows that they are not to be entered on with a light heart. Some of the unions which have been organized in Chicago during the last twelve months have managed their affairs with so much discretion and self-control as to win the respect of those who have had to deal with them. Others have been a little headstrong and undisciplined. It would be well for old, experienced labor organizations to exercise parental authority over new organizations until they shall have been thoroughly trained in the principles and practice of unionism.

She Knew His Weakness.

[From the Philadelphia Ledger.]

Apropos of President Roosevelt's fondness for large families, a story of his experience as police commissioner is told by a sergeant now on the force. It seems that the wife of a policeman who had just been fined a week's pay for drunkenness appeared one day in the commissioner's office, accompanied by three neatly dressed and attractive looking children. Her pitiful story of back rent, which the subtracted wages was to have paid, and the sight of the children moved Mr. Roosevelt's sympathy, and, taking out his pocketbook, he gave to the woman the amount her husband had been fined. The next day the husband appeared at headquarters, and was asked by a brother officer:

"Say, how many children have you at home?"

"One," was the reply.

"But your wife was around here yesterday with three children."

"O, yes," said the culprit. "She borrowed two of them for the occasion."

LETTER OF MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

Copyright, 1903: By the Marquise de Fontenoy.

JUST before King Edward left on his yachting tour he had a long interview with the Turkish ambassador, Stephen Musurus Bey, who entreated him in the name of the sultan to give some demonstration of friendship and good will to the sublime porte at this particular juncture when it is being harassed by both Russia and Austria, who are undoubtedly working in unison and in accordance with a preconcerted plan.

Musurus, who is an old friend of the king, whom he knew intimately as prince of Wales, having been brought up in London, where his father, the late Musurus Pasha, was Turkish ambassador for nearly thirty years, suggested that this demonstration of British good will might take the form either of the grant of the Order of the Garter to the sultan, the order having recently been conferred upon the shah, or else that the king in the course of his yachting trip to the Mediterranean, after leaving Malta and Athens, should visit Constantinople as the sultan's guest.

The king, however, who had been warned beforehand by Sir Nicholas O'Conor, his ambassador at Stamboul, of the appeal which would be made to him, and who had consulted both Lord Lansdowne and the premier, turned a deaf ear to the suggestions of Musurus Bey, and an effort on the part of the sultan to influence Edward VII. through his nephew, the German emperor, was equally unsuccessful.

In fact, the king did not hesitate to make Musurus feel that England strongly resented the manner in which she had been treated by the porte during the last twenty years or so, and the ingratitude which the Ottoman government had shown for England's support at the time of the Crimean war, and again in 1877, when she prevented Russia from taking possession of Constantinople, stopping her at the gates of the sultan's capital. The king is said to have wound up by declaring that his government would base its policy, as far as Turkish affairs were concerned, upon British interests in the Ottoman empire, and expressed a hope that the sultan would accord a little more consideration to these interests in the future than in the past.

Musurus has, in one word, been given to understand that England no longer attaches as much importance as in days of yore to the preservation of the integrity of the Turkish empire, and that at any rate this has ceased to be the keynote of England's policy in the near east. In fact, the only interest that England may be said to have in the matter is in the maintenance of the Black sea treaty prohibiting the passage of warships through the Dardanelles, which has until now prevented Russia from using her Black sea fleet in the Mediterranean.

England is devoting her attention to strengthening her hold upon Egypt and upon the southern entrance of the Red sea, thus enabling her to retain command of the nearest road to India and China. The traditional friendship between Turkey and Great Britain, which played so great a rôle in the international relations throughout the nineteenth century, has been relegated to limbo and is now a thing of the past.

Talking of the court of St. James, it is doubtful whether there is any post more agreeable for diplomats than London. Certain it is that there are few courts where the relations between the foreign envoys and the reigning family are so close. Thus Count Albert Mensdorff, the first secretary of the Austro-Hungarian embassy in England, who has just been promoted to the rank of minister plenipotentiary, and who will undoubtedly succeed Count Deym as ambassador on the latter's retirement, which is imminent, is not only a warm personal friend of the king and of all the other members of the royal family of England, but is likewise regarded by them as a kinsman, his father, the late Prince Dietrichstein Zu Nicolsburg, having been not only the boyhood friend but also the manhood crony and cousin of the late prince consort of England.

The prince consort, indeed, was Count Albert Mensdorff's godfatner, and at all gatherings of the royal family in England Albert Mensdorff is always included as one of the family party. He is a charming and agreeable man, an excellent amateur actor, and exceedingly well read. King Edward has shown the esteem in which he holds him by recently conferring upon him the grand cross of the Royal Victorian order.

The marquis de Soveral, the minister plenipotentiary of Portugal, popularly known as "the Blue Monkey," is probably the favorite associate and companion of the English king, and by the desire of the latter accompanies him everywhere. Indeed, save for the fact that he is not a kinsman of the royal family, he is probably quite as intimate with them, and especially with the king and queen, as Count Mensdorff.

The German ambassador, Count Wolff Metternich, is another close personal friend of the king, who learned to know and appreciate him while secretary of the embassy during Count Hatzfeldt's tenure of the post, and who personally asked the kaiser to appoint Wolff Metternich as ambassador to his court on Hatzfeldt's death. Indeed, he may be said to owe his extraordinarily rapid promotion to King Edward.

His first secretary is Count John Bernsdorff, who was born in London, and is a grandson of Queen Victoria and son of the latter's lifelong friend, the late Count Bernsdorff, who died as ambassador in London, Queen Victoria being present at his death.

Count Benkendorf, the Russian ambassador, is a particular favorite of Queen Alexandra, who learned to know and appreciate him at Copenhagen, where he was stationed for many years as Muscovite minister, and where he became persona gratissima with all the members of the reigning house of Denmark.

Thanks to these exceptionally close and friendly relations between the principal envoys accredited to the court of St. James and the British reigning family, the position of the diplomatic corps in London is a particularly agreeable one, far more so than at most of the big European capitals, since the great world at St. Petersburg, at Vienna, at Madrid, and in Paris, holds aloof from the members of the diplomatic corps, from the ambassadors down to the veriest youngest attaché, unless they have something over and above their official rank in the shape of blue blood and wit to qualify them for a welcome on the part of society.

Gen. André, the French minister of war, having attained the age limit, has been placed on the retired list of the army, and in consequence thereof figures from now on at the head of the war department as a civilian instead of as a general of division in active service.

The president, in order to signalize the event, issued a decree conferring upon him the highly prized "medaille militaire," a decoration instituted for the special purpose of rewarding exceptional acts of gallantry and heroism among the noncommissioned officers and men of the army and navy, and which, as far as the commissioned officers are concerned, can only be conferred upon full generals who have commanded on the battlefield, who have filled at least two terms as commanders of army corps, or else who have twice been minister of war.

It is on the latter ground that the medal has been conferred upon Gen. André. I do not believe there are at present more than a dozen French generals who wear it on their breast, and there is no decoration in France that the commissioned officer of the army or navy prizes more highly than the "medaille militaire."

Where Water Was Needed.

City Magistrate Crane took it upon himself to read a red nosed prisoner a moral lectdre the other day on the evils of drink, and laid great stress on the wholesomeness of pure water.

"Instead of swilling beer and whisky all the time, cultivate a taste for water," he admonished, "and even when you're invited to take a drink ask for water."

"That's all right, your honor," was the retort. "But I've read my bible in happier days, and there's only one place recorded there where a man asked for water. And you know where he was!"

When Roosevelt is president of Harvard we shall see
A wonderful increase in Cambridge strenuosity;
The red will wave triumphant on every football plain,
And the field will be incumbered with the corses of the slain.

They'll twist the Tiger's tail off, and they'll kick him in the head;
They'll maul the sons of Eli, and on their faces tread;
There'll be nothing living afterward that doesn't wear the red,
When Roosevelt is president of Harvard.

They're talking now at Harvard of a rather gentler game,
Of cutting out the slugging, and the spiking, and the mayhem.
But the present game is pingpong compared with what 'twill be
When Roosevelt is ruler of the university.

O, they'll knock old Eli's head off, and the Tiger's head as well,
And above the shouts of battle will be heard the crimson yell:
"Forward, Harvard! Forward, Harvard! Give 'em fits, boys! Give 'em fits!"
When Roosevelt is president of Harvard.

SCUTARI, Albania, April 20.—[Special.]—All thoughts of sidetracking the crisis in the Balkans have been abandoned, and war is expected this week. I shall probably proclaim myself king of the Albanians, and declare war against Turkey and Germany. Only one thing gives me pause. Mustapha Grouch, as a choice of evils, may release the real Prince Kastrioti, who, it is now positively known, is imprisoned in the castle of Damgloomi, five miles north of the city. In order to spike this gun I have decided to rescue Kastrioti, and then get him out of the country. After Albania is free I shall, of course, restore to him the throne. I would do it tomorrow if it were not for Zuzu. But for her sake I must continue to play the hero on a large scale. She must be my queen or nobody's.

With a dozen trusted followers I shall attempt to effect an entrance to the castle tomorrow night. It will be a difficult job, and I expect some hard fighting, as the fortress is strongly guarded and entirely surrounded by a moat. Until then, au revoir.

Adventures of a Grand Opera Party

SEVEN women who live in the same suburb on the north shore made up their collective mind more than a month ago that they would go together to hear "The Magic Flute."

They discussed the matter of getting seats at some length. There was one business woman among them and she finally solved the problem.

"You make a check," she said to the member of the party who had a bank account of her own. "Make it for $24.50, and payable to yourself. Mail it tomorrow and ask them to reserve seats for us."

"But where shall I send the check?" asked the involuntary treasurer.

Then followed another long and heated discussion, out of which a decision was finally reached that the check had better be mailed to the box office of the Auditorium.

"And to whom shall I indorse it?" pursued the woman of wealth.

That matter was also debated, and it was agreed that the paper had better be made payable to Milward Adams.

"I'll tell you what," said the business woman. "Write the check and give it to me and I'll tend to the rest of it."

The check was made out and mailed to the box office of the Auditorium. Nothing was heard from it in any way. The opening of the grand opera season came and went and still there was no word. One of the seven women interested wrote a letter of inquiry. In the rush of the opening season it was probably overlooked. At any rate no answer came.

As the day of the performance approached the women became excited. Mrs. Brown, who had made the check, went to her bank and there discovered that the check had been presented and paid. Still no notice came from the Auditorium.

At last, a week before the date of the performance, the husband of one of the women was persuaded to undertake an investigation. He went to the bank with an order and was given the canceled check. Then he visited the Auditorium. The man at the box office had no record of reserving any seats for Mrs. Brown. Then he went in to see Mr. Adams. Mr. Adams could do nothing. If a check had been sent it must have passed through the box office. It could not have done that without a record being made of it. Mr. Adams was sorry, but he could do nothing if his box office man had no record of the check or the tickets.

At this point in the debate the suburbanite drew the canceled check from his pocket and presented it to Mr. Adams. Mr. Adams glanced at it and recognized its authenticity. The two men went out to the box office to make further inquiries. The treasurer also looked at the check and then made another search of his records. There was no sign of its receipt and no tickets were being held to the order of Mrs. Brown.

Just then an inspiration came to the man from the suburb.

"Mrs. Brown signed that check," he said, "as you can see. But I believe Mrs. Smith sent it in here by mail. Perhaps she asked for tickets in her name."

The ticket seller looked under the new name and found the seven tickets without any trouble.

"That's always the way when a parcel of women try to do anything," said the man from the suburbs, as he put the tickets in his pocket. "I'm sorry to have bothered you about this matter and I'll certainly tell those women what fools they have made of themselves."

Several of the seven women came over to his house after dinner that night to learn what was the result of his investigation. He was severe.

"It's all your own fault," he told them. "The idea of having one woman sign the check and another mail it and ask for the seats in her name is enough to mix anybody up. It's a wonder you ever got the seats and you would never have got them if I hadn't been clever enough to guess that there was some such twist in the deal."

After he had made all of the women feel much ashamed of themselves, he relented.

"But all's well that ends well," he said, with a smile. "Here are the tickets."

He put his hand into his outside coat pocket, but the tickets were not there. Then he dove into another pocket. He sat up straight and made a thorough search. "Well, where in heaven's name have these things gone?" he asked despairingly.

None of the women present attempted to enlighten him. Instead they looked at each other and grinned. After spending five or ten minutes in a fruitless search for the bits of pasteboard he finally gave it up.

"I'll get you some other seats in the morning," he said as he retired into his study.

The unfortunate man did not sleep well that night. He lay awake and tossed as he reflected what a pale gray ass he had made of himself. Never again would he attempt to straighten out a tangle.

THE ENVELOPE WAS EMPTY.

Again in the morning he made a careful search of his clothing and of the house. There was no sign of the tickets anywhere. He went down to his office feeling sore. His willingness to help his wife and her friends was about to cost him $25 and a lot of chagrin.

As he went into his office the janitor was just carrying out the waste baskets.

"Tom," he said, "I lost some tickets to the Auditorium yesterday. If you'll look through the waste baskets for them I'll pay you $1, and if you find them I'll make it $2."

An hour later Tom came back with the little envelope which still contained the tickets. Clutching the lost tickets in his hand the man from the suburbs rushed out of his office and went straight to the place where the business woman of the unfortunate seven was employed.

"Here are those blamed tickets," he said, laying the envelope down on her desk. "I refuse to be responsible for them another minute. Now count them and see that they are all there."

The tickets were all there, and the woman pinned them, envelope and all, on to her waist so as to be sure that she would not drop or forget them. At 5 o'clock she took the train for the suburb and without even going home rushed up to the house of Mrs. Brown to deliver the precious pasteboards.

"That was a good joke on Mr. Jenkins last night, wasn't it?" she said. "And he was still mad today. He came up to my office and threw the tickets down on my desk, and said he wouldn't be responsible for them a minute longer. Anyway, I've got them here now all right."

Whereupon she unpinned the envelope from her waist. The envelope was absolutely empty. It had been pinned on with the open flap down, and the tickets had dropped out.

"Well, that does settle it," she said, and wept on the shoulder of her weeping friend. While she was retiring that evening she found the missing tickets, and next morning she went around and distributed them one by one to the seven members of the party.

She found one of the seven who declared she had never authorized the purchase of a ticket in her name and who refused to accept or pay for it. That left an extra ticket in the hands of the party, and the other six spent the next afternoon trying to sell it to their friends. They succeeded so well that the next afternoon it was discovered that no less than three different women claimed it, and refused to be put off with any excuse.

By way of compromise the woman who originally made the check and the woman who had done the correspondence agreed to give up their own tickets to the extra two purchasers and stay at home themselves.

When last heard from the seven members of the party—including the two new ones—were having an excited debate as to whether one of their number should be allowed to buy librettos for all the party and another one to pay the car fare.

Perhaps it is fair to presume that at least some of them actually heard "The Magic Flute," though even that seems doubtful. And when the next grand opera season comes around it is certain that some other arrangements will be made to attend it. The grand opera party of this season has resulted in setting half the women in the suburb by the ears.

SPANISH BROKER HELD FOR FRAUD

Dealer in Bills of Exchange at Havana Arrested Accused of Swindling.

FRIEND OF BANKRUPTS.

Drafts on London Sold at a Small Discount Not Accepted by English Bankers.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
HAVANA, April 20.—Santos Vasquez, a Spanish dealer in bills of exchange, was arrested today in connection with some bills he had sold. He had been in business twenty years, and it has been known for some time that his dealings have been suspicious.

Vasquez was in the habit of selling drafts on Fruhling Bros. of London for a small percentage on the value of the drafts to the merchants on condition that the latter remitted the money to meet the drafts when they were due.

Men in Trouble His Patrons.

As a rule only merchants in difficulties did business with Vasquez, the local banks not caring to discount their paper. His arrest was due to an investigation made by the German consul, who had received inquiries from Berlin that German merchants holding drafts of Fruhling Bros. could not get the money.

A number of drafts issued by Vasques are protested. His liabilities are said to amount to over $500,000, and may be much more.

The police will give out no details. It is claimed that the National Bank of Mexico cashed some of Vasquez's paper at Tampico and Vera Cruz. The local papers describe the affair as swindling on a gigantic scale.

Drafts Used to Pay for Goods.

It is alleged that Vasquez had quantities of foreign goods shipped to Havana during the last six months, giving in payment ninety day drafts on Fruhling Bros. of London. This firm accepted the drafts, but refused payment when due, saying the Havana house had not sent it money.

BOGUS PRINCE BEFORE COURT.

Woman Who Married Son of a Coachman Is Said to Be Furnishing Money for His Defense.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
PORTSMOUTH, April 20.—"Prince Athrobald Stuart de Modena," who under that name married Mabel, Countess Russell, here last December, was arraigned in the police court today on a charge of having made a false entry of the marriage at the registrar's office here.

The man's real name, it has been learned, is William Brown. He was remanded for trial. The countess secured a divorce from her first husband, Earl Russell, on the ground of his bigamous marriage to Molly Venstille at Reno, Nev. The earl was convicted of bigamy on his return to England and sentenced to three months' imprisonment. On Dec. 19 last his former wife was married to Brown, who gave the name of Prince Athrobald Stuart de Modena, and claimed to be of the Austrian royal family.

It is stated that the pseudo prince is the son of a coachman living at Frimley, near Farnborough, in Hants. Shortly after the marriage Lady Scott, mother of the countess, ascertained that he was a bogus prince and ordered him from the hotel where the family was stopping.

It is stated that Brown, who is a clean shaved man of about 25 years, went to Madrid after he left the former countess. She was not aware of this, and made inquiries as to his whereabouts. This led to his arrest on his return to London on the charge of falsifying the Portsmouth marriage records. One story is that the ex-countess is much attached to Brown, and that she engaged a solicitor to defend him before his arrest. On the other hand, it is said that she identified Brown after his arrest and made a statement about him to the treasury officials.

DUKE HURT IN AUTO WRECK

LEADING GERMAN SPORTSMAN SUSTAINS FRACTURED SKULL.

Adolf Friedrich Zu Mecklenburg Thrown from His Machine by Collision with Tree and Is Picked Up Unconscious — Considered an Expert Driver by His Friends in Berlin — Mistaken Kindness Causes Trouble in Paris.

[Copyright: 1903: By the New York Herald.]
BERLIN, April 20.—Another automobile catastrophe is reported here this evening. Duke Adolf Friedrich Zu Mecklenburg, one of the leading German sportsmen and automobilists, was thrown from his automobile at Dueberitz. The automobile ran full speed against a tree and the duke was thrown to the ground, receiving a serious skull fracture. He was picked up unconscious, and the automobile was completely demolished. The duke appeared several days ago in the Thiergarten at the Corso, exciting much admiration by his driving of a coach and four.

Kindness Proves Mistaken.

PARIS, April 20.—The moral that a good deed never is done in vain has been upset by the sequel to an adventure which befell an archdeacon when he was run down by an automobile in the Champs Elysées, and instead of lodging a complaint, advised the automobilist to make off as quickly as he could so as escape the police.

His advice was at once taken, and the automobile proceeded on its way, the occupants happy at their escape, but this did not last long, for, almost at the next crossing, they knocked down an old woman and a boy, both of whom sustained serious injuries.

The question now arises whether it would not have been better for the archdeacon to have had their number taken, as the delay thus caused would probably have averted the second accident.

American Auto Team Chosen.

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Alexander Winton, Percy Owen, and L. Mooers will represent the United States in the international automobile cup race in Ireland on July 2. This was announced today by the racing committee of the Automobile Club of America after a second farcical attempt at speed tests by team candidates on the trial course at Westbury, L. I. Winton was selected without a test being required of him.

Son of Mayor Johnson Stopped.

Detroit, Mich., April 20.—A son of Mayor Tom L. It is charged that the automobile was running twenty-eight miles an hour.

LIKE MIDWINTER IN GERMANY.

Twelve Hours of Continuous Snowfall Covers Empire with Drifts—Business Nearly Suspended.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
BERLIN, April 20.—The gale which prevailed yesterday in Germany was followed by a violent snow storm, which has already continued for twelve hours. The snow lies from eighteen inches to three feet deep on the Polish plains. At noon no trains had arrived at Posen for twelve hours. Trains are snowed in on the lines all over Silesia and the province of Posen and shovel expeditions have been sent to dig out the drift covered trains and carry food to the belated passengers.

Telegrams from many cities read alike. Street cars are immovable. Telephone and telegraph wires are down and the trains not running.

Minor accidents have been numerous. The turret over the paradise door of the Magdeburg cathedral was blown down. Forty large trees in the Thiergarten in Berlin were uprooted. Part of the roof of the opera house was blown off.

Among the fine trees planted by Frederick the Great which were uprooted in the park at Potsdam was the largest of all the fir trees.

Denmark Covered with Snow.

COPENHAGEN, April 20.—A heavy snow storm was experienced here on Sunday and Monday, and resulted in serious interruption to railroad traffic and telegraph and telephone communication.

Denmark Buried in Snow.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
COPENHAGEN, April 20.—A furious snow storm has been prevailing here for thirty-six hours, a condition unprecedented for April. The state railways issued a notice today saying trains cannot proceed in any direction from Copenhagen. The snow over the country is from four to six feet deep and in still falling.

Austria Suffers from Storm.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
VIENNA, April 20.—The snow storm which began on Saturday continues in parts of Austria-Hungary. Tonight telegraph lines are down throughout an immense area. Hundreds of accidents are reported. Traffic to Prague and other towns is impossible. The streets are deserted. The storm has been severe in Vienna, but has now ceased.

WARRANTS FOR NAVAL OFFICERS

Porto Rican Government Orders Arrest of Men Accused of Smuggling—Will Be Tried.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 20.—Chief Hood of the internal revenue department has sworn out warrants before a justice of the peace for the arrest of Capt. Andrew Dunlap, U. S. N., commandant of the naval station here; Commander G. W. Ments, U. S. N.; P. V. Mohun, paymaster United States navy; and Engineer Robert Giles for bringing in liquors from the island of St. Thomas on the lighthouse tender Laurel, Dec. 4, 1902, without paying the duty thereon.

Paymaster Mohun is in the United States. Captain Dunlap is at the naval station here and refuses to leave it. The police are waiting for him to leave the military reservation, when he will be immediately arrested. The smuggling cases will be tried by the federal court.

Giles has been arrested and is held under $1,000 bond for trial before the Insular District court.

The following persons have been cited as witnesses: Collector of Customs Cruzen, Revenue Agent Gibbs, Walter St. Elmo, and J. Matheson, employés of the naval station.

BALLOON BALLAST GIVES SCARE

Fifty Pound Bag of Frozen Sand Crashes Through Roof of House in French City.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
PARIS, April 20.—Four members of the Aero club, who had a narrow escape from death when their balloon descended with great rapidity at Arles, in the department of the Bouches du Rhone, threw out of the car to check the descent a fifty pound bag of ballast that had been frozen solid while they were at a high elevation, where the cold was intense. The bag fell through the roof of a house and into a room where two persons were sleeping. They were frightened almost out of their wits, but not injured.

Talk of Reprisals Because of Surtax Upon German Goods in Dominion.

BERLIN, April 20.—The Taglische Rundschau says it learns authoritatively that Germany will enact reprisals against Canada on account of the action of the dominion government in imposing a surtax on German goods. The paper adds that all the political parties condemn the step taken by Canada.

FIERCE FIGHT IN SANTO DOMINGO.

Three Government Generals Slain in Leading Attack on Capital.

REBELS STILL HOLD CITY.

Over One Hundred Republican Troops Killed and Quantity of Ammunition Captured.

SANTO DOMINGO, Republic of Santo Domingo, Saturday, April 18.—[Delayed.]—Troops of the government shelled this city yesterday and several houses were damaged. The government soldiers attacked the city in force at several different points this morning and the fighting lasted for one hour.

The government troops sustained heavy losses. Gen. Cordero, minister of the interior; Gen. Alvarez, governor of Puerto Plata; and Gen. Quesada being killed. Over 100 government soldiers were killed or wounded and the government forces were obliged to withdraw.

The revolutionists made several prisoners and captured horses and ammunition. Their losses were slight, only a few men being killed or wounded. President Vasques narrowly escaped being shot.

The rebel gunboat Independencia has returned here, and it is reported that Gen. Navarro, with a quantity of ammunition, landed near Monte Cristi. The revolutionists are surrounding Monte Cristi.

SERVIA'S KING FEARS ATTACK.

Royal Guards at the Palace at Belgrade Doubled to Avert a Coup de Main.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
PARIS, April 20.—A dispatch received here from the Servian frontier says that the bodyguard at the royal palace at Belgrade has been strongly reinforced. A coup de main is feared, and King Alexander is taking every measure to avert the threatened attack.

King Alexander executed a coup d'état on April 7 when he issued two proclamations, one suspending the constitution for a few days and annulling all the laws passed by the skupshtina and reënacting the laws that existed previous to the constitution in 1901. The second proclamation restored the constitution to its former validity.

It was said at the time that King Alexander's juggliery with the constitution was regarded in Austrian and other political circles as a dangerous experiment.

Albanians Threaten Servia.

LONDON, April 21, 3 a. m.—A Times dispatch from Uskub declares the Albanians, while still defiant, do not wish to fight the Turks, but threaten to attack the Servians, and ask the sultan to aid them.

Ibrahim, the Albanian soldier who killed the Russian consul at Mitrovitza, is at Uskub under sentence of death. Albanians threaten to rescue him, and the lives of the Russian and Servian consuls are openly threatened.

Many Willing to Aid Garibaldi.

ROME, April 20.—Ricciotti Garibaldi, leader of the Italian volunteers in Greece during the war with Turkey, has received letters from almost every country in the world from men who volunteer to join his expedition to free Macedonia from Turkey. These offers include the formation of a battalion in south Africa. Many offers have been received from the United States. Proposals of assistance also have been received, including an enthusiastic letter from Countess Hortense de Nicolai, vice president of the Pennsylvania Woman's National alliance, for peace.

BALLOONIST FALLS 150 FEET.

Parachute Rope Breaks and Man Drops to the Earth—Alive but Injured Seriously.

Houston, Tex., April 20.—[Special.]—A tragedy was enacted before thousands of spectators this afternoon that probably winds up the career of Prof. LeRoy Fewer, the balloonist. He made a successful ascension of 3,000 feet in the air and cut loose with his parachute in good trim. While attempting to shift the course of the parachute on its downward flight one of the ropes snapped, almost reversing it and causing the balloonist to lose his hold when within 150 feet of the ground, and the man fell, turning over and over in the descent. He struck in a soft slough which he had been trying to steer clear of, and this alone prevented his instant death. One arm was broken in two places, two ribs and his nose were broken, and there are believed to be internal injuries. The man still is alive, and the physicians believe he has a chance for recovery.

VESSELS ESCAPE ICE FIELD.

One of Long Imprisoned Schooners Reaches Gloucester, Mass.—Deep Snow in Newfoundland.

Gloucester, Mass., April 20.—The schooner Scepter, one of the Gloucester vessels which have been imprisoned in the ice at Bay of Islands, N. F., rounded Eastern point this afternoon and dropped anchor in the harbor. Capt. Cahoon reports that the schooner Dauntless also escaped the ice, but probably has gone to St. Pierre. Capt. Cahoon says the snow is from twenty to thirty feet deep on the level in Newfoundland, and in ravines it is probably 100 feet deep. He thinks the summer season will not be long or warm enough to carry away the snow. The Gloucester crews are well, the vessels are unhurt, and the cargoes are in good shape.

CHIP IN BREAD: ASKS $10,000.

Adolph Goodman Says the Wood Injured His Throat and He Sues Bakers for Damages.

A small piece of wood which Adolph Goodman says he ate in a piece of bread served to him in a restaurant in Fifth avenue, is the basis of a damage suit filed yesterday, in which Goodman asks $10,000 for the suffering he says he endured in attempting to digest it. According to a declaration, in which he makes Hyman Wittenberg and William Goldberger defendants, he declares that he swallowed the piece of wood last November. Its sharp point, it is asserted, lacerated his throat so that it was necessary to have a surgical operation performed to save his life. The defendants, Wittenberg and Goldberger, are proprietors of bakeries, and it is charged furnished the bread to the restaurant.

KILLED IN DOWN TOWN STREET.

Unidentified Man Is Run Over by a Trolley Car at Van Buren and Sherman Streets.

Confused by the roar of traffic, an unidentified man was run over and killed by a Van Buren street trolley car at Sherman street yesterday morning. The fender failed to save him and it was twenty minutes before the body could be taken from under the car. F. J. Meyers, the motorman, and E. W. Petersen, the conductor, were both taken to the Central detail station. There Meyers said he did not see the man until too late to stop the car and that the accident was unavoidable. The inquest was continued to give the police opportunity to learn the man's identity.

ENGLISH PLAYER AND AMERICAN WIFE TO TOUR AMERICA IN "THE LIGHT THAT FAILED."

FORBES ROBERTSON as DICK HELDAR and GERTRUDE ELLIOTT as MAISIE in "THE LIGHT THAT FAILED."

Johnston Forbes-Robertson and his wife, Gertrude Elliott, have announced their intention of making an American tour with the play, "The Light That Failed" (founded on Kipling's story), which has been drawing crowded houses at the Lyric theater in London since the first performance six weeks ago. The picture herewith reproduced depicts the scene when the heroine, after coldly refusing the young artist, finds, when he has become blind through a wound received in the Soudan campaign and when he has given up all hope, that she loves him after all.

Gertrude Elliott, who is a sister of Maxine Elliott, went to England four years ago with Mr. and Mrs. Nat Goodwin, and a year and a half later was married to the "leading Romeo of the English stage."

It was an evening of sincere pleasure Miss Barrymore gave her admirers and well wishers at Powers' last night when she began her annual Chicago engagement. It was pleasure not alone by the merry entertainment she and her company furnished them, but pleasure in even more abundant measure by the proofs she gave that she is developing noticeably and finely in the mastering of her chosen art.

She returned to them a better actress than when seen here last, showing abilities it had not before been thought she possessed, as well as giving evidence of having gained more of skill and surety in the handling of that line of dramatic work in which she had previously been seen.

She has increased her technical proficiency, but she has sacrificed nothing of the spontaneity, the naturalness and winsome girlishness, that has ever been one of her chief charms as a player, and which is of priceless value to her since it represents that precious, unpurchasable quality in any actor—individuality. She has lost none of her native charm, but she has gained in skill.

It was in "Carrots," the pathetic sketch from the French of Jules Renard, that Miss Barrymore discovered to her audience talents as an actress which it had not before been thought she possessed. She did a piece of repressed emotional work which was thoroughly artistic in the freedom from exaggeration and the fineness of detail that distinguished it. It rang so true in its sincerity and truth that the audience paid it of necessity the tribute not only of close attention but of tears.

This little one act play is the gem of the evening's entertainment, the Law comedy being bright and amusing, but revealing no qualities not found in a score of similar pieces supposed to reflect conditions in the "smart" circles in England. But Renard in his sketch, while his methods are French in the neatness and deftness that characterize them, has told in dramatic form a story of a heartache that belongs to no nation or people alone but which is widespread as humanity itself. He has told of the longing of a child's nature for tenderness and affection and has pictured with power that tragic moment in every sensitive person's life when the first realization comes that there exists in the world such a thing as hatred, as shattered hopes, and broken hearts.

Carrots, the central figure in this sad little revealment of human longings and misunderstandings, is a child who came into the world unwanted by either mother or father, they having quarreled and his arrival not having "brought them together again," as he pathetically says it should have done, when his father tells him the truth. The mother has criticised his every thought and action, has scolded and whipped him until his life is one of constant self-distrust, rebellion, and fear. The father has accepted the wife's word for it that the boy is "peculiar" and sulky, and it is only when, in a moment of overpowering despair and desperation, the boy explains to the father the true condition of things and, telling of his twofold attempt at suicide, begs to be permitted to leave home that realization as to the child's nature and its worth and needs is made clear.

Then comes the father's confession that he also has ceased to care for the woman he calls wife, and then follows that moment of confusion and distress when the youth first realizes that there are others in his home who suffer, and that it is possible for a child to be born into the world unloved from its birth. The pathetic cry, "I can't understand it! What does it all mean?" has in it all the tragedy of lost childhood and shattered innocence. The father tells the boy that the mother suffers, too; that she longs also for the affection of her child, and it is this utterly new thought as well as the realization that the father would be lonely without him that gives the lad courage to stay and endeavor to bring happiness into the home and into his own life.

It is an exquisite little play, whether viewed as a piece of dramatic craftsmanship or as an effective picture of certain life conditions. And Miss Barrymore and the three members of her company who assist her in presenting it deserve only sincerest commendation for the naturalness and quietness that characterize their work. In the title part Miss Barrymore embodies with rare effectiveness the lad just in the stage of awkwardness and shyness that marks the transition from youth to manhood. She is long of leg and arm, drooping of shoulder, and is all hands, exactly as is a boy at that period of his development, and she even puts into her voice a hint of the coming change from treble to bass. She looks the part to the life, and her movements and gestures are all admirably in keeping. Her delivery of the lines shows careful study and thought, for there is the hesitation, the haste, the unevenness of speech that are natural to the child when first talking on a subject long forbidden mention. The dread of the mother is shown in countless deft touches, and the sincerity of the joy when the father tells him he does not believe him a liar or sulky, and ends by calling him by his proper name instead of "Carrots," affected not only the auditor last evening but brought tears to the actress' cheeks as well.

It was a portrayal beautifully finished and highly artistic, and it adds materially to Miss Barrymore's right to recognition as a player of good abilities and still finer promise. Mr. McRae, as the father, was excellent, playing the part with manliness and tenderness. Mrs. Pitt gave the mother the required severity of manner and voice, and Miss Agnew was satisfactory as the servant Annette.

Persons who have read "The Letters of Elizabeth," which had a vogue in the book world not so many months ago, will find "A Country Mouse" something closely akin to a dramatization of that entertaining record of a young girl's visit into English swelldom and her capture of a title there. Miss Barrymore is the young woman, and her assumption of girlish ingenuousness, while as exaggerated in its way as was Elizabeth's, is nevertheless charming, and the ease and skill with which she winds the men of the party around her finger and exasperates the women by so doing is undeniably entertaining and amusing. She captures her duke, however, and the play ends with her assuring him that, although she be a simple country girl and has so many things yet to learn, she will nevertheless try her best to be a satisfactory duchess. And the auditor hasn't a doubt after seeing Miss Barrymore play the part as fascinatingly as she does, that she will make her duchess a distinct success. The actress is especially skilful in her treatment of the rôle because she never for an instant more than hints at the fact that she knows more than the people about her think she does. Even the auditor is kept guessing as to the genuineness of her ingenuousness, and the result is attraction and no flagging of interest. The least revealment of the assumption and the portrayal would lose its chief charm.

Miss Prince as the morally unsteady Lady Sylvia has good looks to commend her, and plays the rôle with fitting self-poise and distinction. Her display of annoyance in the second act is delightfully feminine in manner and tone of voice, and marks the high point in a more than usually creditable impersonation. Miss Green was thoroughly satisfactory as the flirtatious Violet Aynsley, and Mrs. Pitt did a capital bit of character work as a servant with a delightful cockney accent. The men of the cast were also entirely competent, Mr. Davenport impersonating with winning good humor the old duke whom the Country Mouse finally landed matrimonially; Mr. Elliot as the money furnishing husband of Lady Sylvia, Mr. McRae as the lover of all the women he could find, and Mr. Howard as the admirer of no woman who was not married, and, therefore, "uncertain," being entirely adequate.

Jury Secured to Try Ghoul.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 20.—The case of Rufus Cantrell, confessed "king of the negro ghouls," was called for trial today. A jury was selected this afternoon after seventy-six names had been exhausted. Prosecutor Ruckelshaus made his statement to the jury, saying the prosecution would rely for conviction on the evidence of Cantrell in the Dr. Alexander trial, which was, he said, a complete confession.

EIGHT KILLED IN BLAZING WRECK.

Fast Erie Passenger from Chicago Crashes Into Freight at Red House, N. Y.

DEAD NOT IDENTIFIED.

Accident Caused by Mistaking of Special Signals Intended to Avert Collision.

Jamestown, N. Y., April 20.—[Special.]—The fast Erie train No. 4, from Chicago to New York, was wrecked at Red House, N. Y., and eight persons killed and ten persons injured, three of them seriously. Only one of the dead, Robert N. Hotchkiss of Meadville, Pa., has been identified. The others were burned in the wreck of the passenger train and the freight with which it was in collision.

The accident was caused by the precautions taken by a freight crew to avoid it.

Seven bodies, apparently those of three men, three women, and a child, were burned beyond recognition in the fire which followed the wreck. The women are said to have boarded the train at Youngstown, and to have come from Pittsburg.

R. S. McCready, a mail weigher of Meadville, Pa., and Frank Barhite of Jamestown, a traveling salesman, are missing, and it is likely two of the unidentified bodies are those of the two men.

Seriously Injured.

The injured:
Bell, R. T., fireman; head and back bruised.
Cleminger, H. F., mail clerk, Gerry N. Y.; ribs fractured and body bruised.
Cooks, S. A., negro porter, New York City; back and ribs injured.
Drougosan, John, Duluth; bruised and badly cut.
Foote, Mrs., 80 years old, St. Paul, Minn.; bruised and shocked.
Gabler, H. C., express messenger, Marion, O.; leg cut off; probably fatally injured.
Johnson, C. S., negro porter, Somerville, N. J.; leg fractured.
Mesick, C. W., 228 Adams street, Chicago; back badly injured.
Pulsifer, H., New York City; badly bruised.
St. Sel, Anna, Brooklyn, N. Y.; shocked.

The passenger was derailed by striking a freight train which was taking a siding at Red House. The wreck at once took fire and the combination car, two dry coaches, and two sleepers, together with several freight cars, were consumed.

Signals Become Mixed.

The freight was drawn by two engines. Some trouble was experienced in entering the siding, and the foremost engine of the freight was sent in along the siding with a flagman to hold the express. It is alleged that the operator in the tower, Lawrence Vale, a boy, 17 years old, saw the light engine of the freight, which was bringing up the flag, and supposed the freight was on the siding behind it. Vale then displayed a white signal toward the passenger train, indicating to the engineer that he had a clear track.

The engineer on the passenger train failed to see the flagman sent out from the forward engine of the freight train and saw only the clearance signal from the tower. The train ran toward the east end of the siding at high speed, collided with the second engine of the freight train just as it was about to clear the main line.

No. 4 is one of the fast trains on the Erie. The two private cars attached to it today were occupied by W. J. Murphy, his wife, and two officials of the Queen and Crescent railroad, and J. L. Frasier, general superintendent of the Clover Leaf. All escaped uninjured.

SERIOUS CLASH BETWEEN PENNSYLVANIA CLASSES.

Sophomores Kidnap Two Freshmen, Who Are in Turn Liberated by Some of Their Associates; Fight Follows.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 20.—[Special.]—The trouble which has been brewing for the last two weeks between the two lower classes of the University of Pennsylvania broke out tonight fiercer than before, and three men are lying in the university hospital, one of whom at least is seriously injured. It was part of the sophomores' program to kidnap the probable freshman bowlman for tomorrow's fight.

Joseph B. Barker, third, a sophomore, and five other sophomores captured Terry and Bush, two freshmen, likely men for bowlman. The captors took them to Baker's room, where, with doors locked and Terry and Bush securely tied in chairs, they celebrated.

One freshman, hearing the commotion, organized a band of 100 or more, armed with a huge barber pole. Barker's door was smashed and the prisoners liberated. After demolishing all furnishings in the sophomores' room, more second year men came up, and a general mêlée ensued. Baker, sophomore, and Bush and Terry, freshmen, are now in hospital.

Tomorrow afternoon all old scores will be settled, according to time honored custom, in the annual bowl fight.

BARREL MYSTERY VICTIM KNOWN.

Positively Identified by Relatives as Benedetto Madonia of Buffalo.

KILLED BY CONIACKERS.

Several Trust Companies Threaten to Leave the Clearing House Association.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE. New York, April 20.

The victim of the barrel murder mystery was identified today. The murdered man was Benedetto Madonia, 40 years of age, of 47 Trenton avenue, Buffalo, N. Y. A picture of the murdered man was positively identified by Joseph De Prima, a brother-in-law of Madonia, who is now serving a term in Sing Sing prison for counterfeiting.

Victim of Barrel Murder Identified.

In addition to clinching the identification of the murdered man the police also found the motive for the crime. Madonia came to New York from Buffalo early this month to demand of the gang of counterfeiters that the property of his brother-in-law, who was a member of the gang, be turned over to him. His demand was refused. He went to Sing Sing, had an interview with De Prima, and came back with enough evidence to send every member of the gang to jail for counterfeiting. He attempted to use this information as a club to force the gang to disgorge the property of De Prima, and was lured to an out of the way place and killed.

De Prima said his brother-in-law had been in this country only two years. He said that Madonia had visited him in prison on April 11, and when he went away said he would return again the next day. De Prima said he had not seen or heard from him since that day. The convict also accurately described the clothing found on the murdered man and furnished other information that made the identity positive in the minds of the police officials. To Warden Johnson this afternoon De Prima through an interpreter said:

"The man is Benedetto Madonia, my brother-in-law. I was sent here before there was a division of the money. All of us were not caught, and I was entitled to my share. I sent for Madonia to come and see me. He came a week ago last Saturday and I instructed him to get my share. They must have quarreled over the money and he was killed. There was no Mafia in the thing."

A New York detective arrived in Buffalo this evening and went to Trenton avenue. Mrs. Madonia identified a picture of the man found in the barrel as that of her husband. She said: "My husband went to New York about the first of the month. I heard from him twice, since he went there and wrote to him in care of Salvatore Macolozo. The children must have torn up his letters. I can't find one of them. In one of my letters I told him to come quick, as we wanted to see him. The reason my husband went to New York was because my brother was in trouble there and was sent to Sing Sing prison for four years. My husband said that he thought if he went to New York he could have my brother sent to a prison near Buffalo".

Two, if not three, of the leading trust companies of this city contemplate following the lead of the Union Trust company by severing all connection with the Clearing House association. It is known that the Continental Trust company and the New York Security and Trust company have all but decided to take this action. The United States Mortgage and Trust company also is, according to best information, likely to do the same.

Trust Companies May Leave Clearing House.

President Bannard of the Continental Trust company practically admitted today that his company had all but decided to withdraw its clearing house connection. It is presumed that these companies take the same ground as the Union Trust company, which decided that the clearing house or banks have no right to govern the affairs of the trust companies unless the latter are permitted to have a voice in the management of the Clearing House association. The trust companies also take the ground that their deposits in the banks ought to be regarded as reserves.

Charles S. Fairchild, president of the New York Security and Trust company, said the trustees of his company had not yet taken up the matter of withdrawing from the clearing house connection. An official of the United States Mortgage and Trust company said:

"We have not discussed the matter seriously, but I will not deny that the matter has been considered."

The general and executive committees of Tammany hall will meet immediately upon the adjournment of the legislature, and it is stated that W. S. Devery will ask for recognition, which, if refused, will make him an avowed candidate for mayor. There is no change in Croker's and Murphy's program—Devery himself is to be kept out of the executive committee. His delegates, however, will be allowed to sit in the general committee, as the law guarantees them that right, and it is not improbable that there will be a compromise so that Devery's district, the Ninth, may be officially represented in the executive committee. Dr. W. J. Stewart would be acceptable to the Murphyites.

Bill Devery May Be Candidate for Mayor.

Devery's associates say that he will present himself at the general and executive committees and demand recognition. Refusal of recognition then will afford him a basis for a new action against the leaders. If he is again defeated in the courts he will take his fight to the primaries.

It can be stated on the highest authority that Devery's friends will run him for mayor on an independent ticket if he is turned down by Tammany. His friends have conferred with the leaders of the social democratic party, which this year will nominate by convention. Devery is liked by Daniel De Léon and others in the social democracy. If they should run him for mayor he also would run on an independent ticket after securing his nomination by petition.

Daniel F. McMahon probably will be re-elected chairman of the executive committee, and it is a good guess that Patrick Keenan will succeed John McQuade.

At the annual election of the society of Tammany, or Columbian order, tonight the following sachems and officers were elected for the ensuing year: Sachems — John F. Ahearn, Thomas J. Dunn, Victor J. Dowling, John Fox, Asa Bird Gardiner, Randolph Guggenheimer, Louis F. Haffen, Patrick Keenan, Charles F. Murphy, Daniel F. McMahon, George W. Plunkitt, John F. Scanneil, Timothy D. Sullivan. Secretary, Thomas F. Smith; treasurer, Peter F. Meyer; sagamore, Bryan P. Henry; wiskinskie, John A. Boyle.

Tammany Elects New Officers and Sachems.

Senator John F. Ahearn, Victor J. Dowling, Louis P. Haffen, and Timothy D. Sullivan are the new sachems elected in the places of John F. Carroll, Maurice Featherson, John W. Keller, and George C. Clausen.

William C. Whitney and Thomas F. Ryan are to be called as witnesses to the present hearing growing out of the attack made upon the Metropolitan Street railway by William N. Amory. It was announced today by James W. Osborne that he will call Mr. Whitney and Mr. Ryan for the purpose of obtaining information regarding the methods used in purchasing the Third avenue railroad and the price paid for that property. Representatives of Whitney and Ryan say information will be furnished willingly.

Want W. C. Whitney to Tell About Third Avenue.

"There are many things yet to be explained," said Mr. Osborne, "and one of them relates to the purchase of the Third avenue road. Vreeland said only $4,000,000 was paid for the property, yet the figures quoted in the report made to the railroad commissioners do not agree with that assertion.

"The official figures show $7,500,000 appropriated to pay for the Third avenue. We want to know what was done with the extra $3,500,000, and if only $4,000,00 was paid for the Third avenue line, we have a right to know. Whitney and Ryan can tell who got the money, if it went astray."

At the close of an all day session of the employés of the "L" roads, which continued until late tonight, it was announced by President W. D. Mahon of the international organization of street railway employés that the settlement schedule arranged by the executive committee with the management of the Interborough railway company had been unanimously ratified. The settlement is in the nature of a contract with the general manager, Edward P. Bryan, and will be signed on behalf of the men by a subcommittee of the executive committee. It already has gone into effect.

"L" Roads Men Ratify Terms and Strike Is Off.

"The employés," said Mr. Mahon, "are entirely satisfied with the settlement, as is shown by the unanimous ratification. Their grievances are settled to their liking."

John H. Finley, Ph. D., LL. D., professor of politics in Princeton university, was elected president of the College of the City of New York tonight. Although there were twenty other candidates for the office, the vote of the trustees was unanimous for Prof. Finley and he has accepted. President Finley was born near Galesburg, Ill., in 1863 and was graduated from Knox college in that city in 1887. In 1892 a professorship in Leland Stanford university was offered him, but he became instead the president of Knox college. In 1899 he undertook editorial work for Harper's and McClure's, but was called to the newly established chair of politics at Princeton.

John H. Finley of Illinois Highly Honored.

John McLean, vice consul for the United States at Yokohama, Japan, has come all the way from the mikado's kingdom to be a witness for the prosecution in the silk fraud cases pending against Abraham S. Rosenthal and Martin L. Colin, silk importers of this city. Mr. McLean avers that on Aug. 15, 1901, which was immediately after the exposure of the alleged frauds, Walter Tucker, a clerk of the Rosenthal concern, called at the consulate and said his firm in New York had discovered that an error had been made in one of their invoices and had instructed the Yokohama branch to make out and forward to New York a corrected consular invoice. Tucker, he says, returned later, not with one but five corrected invoices.

RECEIVER SELLS STOCK HELD BY GEORGE S. LORD.

Twenty-five Shares of L. A. Becker Company Disposed of at Par—Some Other Assets in Hand.

An investigation of the assets of Lord, Owen & Co. shows that the drug firm may realize more out of the securities owned by it and by George S. Lord than was at first announced. John J. Williams, the receiver, yesterday sold twenty-five shares of George Lord's stock in the L. A. Becker company at par, demonstrating that the company is in excellent financial condition. Its shares are worth much more than was said in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE, which rated them as having a merely nominal value.

The L. A. Becker company is an Illinois corporation, organized to manufacture soda fountains. George S. Lord, as shown by his schedule, held twenty-five out of the 2,500 shares of its stock, and the firm of Lord, Owen & Co. held none. Receiver Williams, under order of Judge Kohlsaat, disposed of the twenty-five shares for $2,500, this being the exact amount Mr. Lord paid for them.

The Becker company has grown enormously in the last four years, the annual sales increasing from $40,000 to $380,000. All of its earnings have been devoted to development of the business and no dividends have been paid. Wilkinson, Reckitt, Williams & Co., accountants for the company, recently reported it in splendid financial condition. The company is in its sixth year. It has grown to its present standing under the direction and active management of L. A. Becker, its president, who controls two-thirds of its capital stock.

Receiver Williams also sold yesterday 800 shares of the Dearborn company stock. The price received was $24,000, or $30 a share. The par value is $100, but investors declare it has an intrinsic value and it is expected to mount higher soon. Dividends have been paid by the company in past years.

Regarding the H. Gundling Mining company, the receiver said that while no dividends had ever been paid by it, yet it was rated at a good figure. The company controls property near Tipton, Mo.

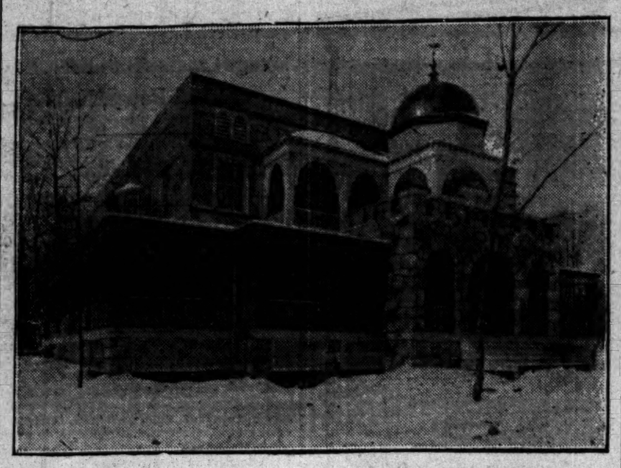

Additional schedules filed by Receiver Williams yesterday in the federal court gave the names of 1,131 drug dealers and other merchants who are creditors of Lord, Owen & Co. The total amount of these merchandise claims was listed in the petition filed by the firm, so the aggregate of the liabilities is not changed.

It had been expected that the business of the firm might be taken up and continued by new men. Mr. Williams says this will not be done. The stock on hand will be sold at auction and the business wound up.

RELIGIOUS SECT ERECTS UNIQUE BUILDING AT LAKE GENEVA, WIS.

Williams Bay, Wis., April 20.—[Special.]—Among the many new buildings that have been erected on the shores of Lake Geneva during the last winter, none have a more unique architectural appearance than Mahanaim, quarters of a new religious sect that has set up a foundation and established a home at this place. The building has just been dedicated.

The institution has been established by the Rev. George Chainey, and the object, as set forth, is "to maintain a home of personal freedom, combined with association and profit sharing, including work, pleasure, and continuous education in every department of being, that shall be a light to the world."

The residents of the home will be associates, students, and guests. The general work of the school will consist of public and private lectures, interpretations of the great revelations, and class work for life expression. The associates render eight hours of service in return for board, lodging, and tuition. Those who acquire an interest in the institution are paid wages for their work and interest on the money they may invest in it.

The institution is attracting attention, and is expected to grow rapidly during the summer. The new building was erected at a cost of $20,000.

RAID FAILS TO STOP BETS.

HAMMOND POLICE MAKE TWO ARRESTS AT LAKESIDE.

Take "Kid" Weller and His Sheet Writer, but Substitutes Fill Places and Gambling on the Races Goes On—Tip That It Will Be Wide Open Hereafter, but Chief Cox Says He Will Obey Orders of the City Commissioners.

The long promised raid on the gamblers at the Lakeside track came off yesterday afternoon and resulted in the arrest of "Kid" Weller, boss of the "bookies," and Herman Meyer, his sheet writer. It was just as the horses were coming out for the fourth race that the Hammond police swooped down on the track, and the bettors were so busy getting their money up before bell tap that they had no time to attend to raids. Some of them got their money up at 10 to 1 right over the heads of the police.

Weller was the only bookmaker molested, and before the police could get him outside the gates a substitute was up in his chair running the book as merrily as before. Weller and Meyer were held at Hammond in bonds of $100 each, and the hearing of their case was set for Thursday. In the meantime, so the tip goes, gambling at the track will be wide open.

Entrance of the Police.

When the sports saw Chief of Police Lawrence Cox strolling up from the gate with "Rod" Wells, superintendent of the track, they thought it was too easy. Behind the chief walked Sergeant De Bow and two patrolmen, and that constituted the raiding party.

Once inside the betting ring Chief Cox stopped in amazement. He saw that John Condon had kept the letter of his promise by the removal of the big betting booths and sign boards, but he saw that the booths had merely given place to chairs, while the blackboards had shrunk to a size that could be comfortably held in the hand.

Chief Cox called his three aids and set off down the row of stands to where the crowd was thickest. Some one told him where "Kid" Weller was, and in dashed the chief and seized him by the collar. At the same time Sergeant De Bow took Meyer, the sheet writer, and seized all the paraphernalia, including the cash box, containing $500.

The shouts of the bookmakers and the scramble of the bettors about the stands never ceased for a moment as the policemen pushed their two charges through the throng and marched them out to a trolley car. A little following of sports streamed out after the party, one man helping Weller into his overcoat, which he had forgotten.

Business Continues as Before.

Weller's assistants promptly produced a new batch of tickets, new sheets, and a fund and prepared to carry on the business. Tom Quinn mounted the chair, chalked up the odds, and had taken in $200 before the police had Weller in Hammond.

In the meantime "Rod" Wells jumped into his buggy and beat the trolley car into Hammond. He was waiting in Prosecuting Attorney W. J. McAleer's office when the arrested bookmakers were brought in. Weller gave his name as "George Miller" and Meyer stated that he was "H. Martin." Then Wells gave bonds for their appearance and they were released.

The police commissioners will meet this morning and decide whether a big raid should be made. Chief Cox said last night that he would have taken a large force with him yesterday had he known that open pool-selling was in progress.

Gov. Durbin of Indiana again communicated with the Hammond police board during the afternoon, saying that he had been informed that poolselling was still going on at Lakeside and intimating that his orders had not been obeyed.

OPERA SINGER MEETS ACCIDENT

Miss Georgia Caine Slips on Stage at Studebaker and Will Be Forced to Retire for a Few Days.

Miss Georgia Cane, the prima donna in "Peggy from Paris," met with a serious accident during the first act of the musical comedy at the Studebaker theater last night. While making her entrance she slipped on the stage and sprained her hip so seriously that she had to be supported during her opening song. At its conclusion the curtain was rung down and Miss Caine was carried to her apartments in the Auditorium hotel, and it was announced the injury would retire her from the stage for four or five days. Her understudy, Miss Eula Jensen, took Miss Caine's part in the play.

AMENDS SUIT AGAINST SPRINGER

William H. Tinsler Says Failure to Secure $10,000 Promised by Defendant Embarrassed His Business.

William H. Tinsler has filed an amended declaration in the Circuit court in his $250,000 damage suit against Warren Springer. Tinsler says he leased property at Polk and Desplaines streets from Springer and that the latter agreed to advance $10,000 toward paying for a building Tinsler was to erect. On that promise Tinsler says he executed his promissory note for $100,000 in favor of Harry R. Lieb for the balance of the building fund. He alleges that Springer failed to advance the $10,000 and that Lieb did not make the loan of $100,000, and as a result, Tinsler says, he was injured to the amount of $150,000.

ROOSEVELT ASKS LESS WAR TALK.

President Intimates Army and Navy Officers Should Cease Hinting at Conflict.

FRIENDLY WITH KAISER.

No Need Seen of Comparing Strength in Manner Unfavorable to Foreign Powers.

WARNING TO ARMY AND NAVY.—President Roosevelt intimates to officers that they should stop discussing probability of war with Germany, as it might hurt relations with a friendly power.

RUSSIAN EASTER.—Unique dinner in honor of the festival is given at the embassy.

NAMES OF WARSHIPS.—Suggestion is made that names of vessels captured in war of 1812 be given to new ships. Also that Indian names be used when all states are represented.

POSTAL SERVICE.—Tests prove practicability of cars in which, while in motion, letters can be posted.

Washington, D. C., April 20.—[Special.]—Before leaving Washington President Roosevelt strongly intimated to the officers of the army and navy that they should stop discussing a probable war with Germany.

President Roosevelt has not muzzled the officers of the two fighting arms of the country, but he deprecates a useless discussion of a subject which is certain to cause bad feeling, if nothing else.

The president does not relish the disposition on the part of the newspapers which have frequently predicted a war with Germany.

It is a curious fact that since the Dewey-Von Diedrichs incident at Manila and the Venesuelan incident the one pet subject of discussion among the army and naval officers has been a war with the kaiser's government. It has been touched upon with some feeling. The naval strength of the two countries has been compared and the fighting abilities of the crews and the generalship of the officers and the possible scenes of battle have been discussed freely.

Recently Admiral Dewey was interviewed on this topic, and his opinions have the indorsement of practically every officer and man in the navy and the army.

Germany always was the nation with which a prospective war would be had. No other European nation was considered in this respect. So persistent were these conversations that the president decided it was best for both countries that they should cease. His attitude was not dictated by any fear of Germany, but he did not consider it in good taste for the officers constantly to talk of war with a friendly power and to make comparisons unfavorable to that nation.

William P. Williams, assistant United States treasurer, had another conference with Secretary Shaw today, relating to the charges made against him. The voluminous papers, containing the answers filed by Mr. Williams, were discussed at some length. No decision has been reached by Secretary Shaw as to whether Mr. Williams should be removed. It is probable that no action will be taken until the president returns.

One of the results of the investigation of the postoffice scandals was an order issued today by Postmaster General Payne, discharging the five postal clerks detailed as machinists to repair the canceling machines. Charges were made that these men were employed by the International company of Binghamton, N. Y., which rents most of the canceling machines used in the postal service, and that they also received salaries from the government.

A unique luncheon was eaten at the Russian embassy today in celebration of the Russian Easter festival, the food having been blessed by priests in New York and brought here by Countess Cassini, who attended the Easter service in the Russian church in New York yesterday.

Count Cassini has suffered from sciatica for some weeks, and the countess did the honors for the embassy, assisted by the attachés.

On the menu today was "paschal," a mushlike food similar to our cottage cheese, made of milk with a few raisins in it, and served with a thick cream. "Gulich," or bread made by the wife of the priest and blessed by him, formed another article of food, while gayly colored hard boiled eggs, cut in two, and served with sauce, furnished another course.

The food was served in Russian style with all the religious service possible. All members of the embassy staff were present, the only outside guest being Miss de Smirnoff, the daughter of the former attaché of the Russian embassy.

Count Cassini has received the decoration of St. Alescandre Newski, the highest religious decoration except the cross of St. Andrew.

An effort to revive in the new naval vessels the names of those American ships which brought honor to the flag in the war of 1812 is being made by Rear Admiral Bowles, the chief naval constructor. He has recommended to Secretary Moody that the two training ships and the training brig authorized by the last congress be called Hornet, Peacock, and Boxer.

The Peacock was a captured British vessel, but there always has been a strong sentiment among the naval men, for patriotic and historical reasons, in favor of perpetuating in the nation's own navy the names of foreign ships of war which lowered their flags to the American fighting craft. Secretary Moody probably will adopt the recommendation.

There is a strong feeling in the navy toward changing the present system of nomenclature, so as to permit the use of Indian names and the names of famous American fighting vessels for the modern armorclads. But it is not probable that this will be done until every state in the union has had its name bestowed upon a warship.

***

Officials of the postoffice department today conducted a practical test of the new postal system for the collection of letters by means of street railway cars while they are in motion. The device consists of a narrow letter box so arranged on the body of the car that at right hand street crossings letters may be dropped into it while the car is running under a moderate speed.

It practically provides a long and wide trough like mouth on the side of the car, which is entirely without covering of any kind, so as to admit of a quick, vertical drop of the letter as the car glides by.

To show that the mechanical arrangements of the box will provide adequate protection for the mail from injury in rainy weather large quantities of water today were dashed against the car and into the mouth of the box before and after the letters were dropped into it, and they were taken out perfectly dry. It practically was demonstrated that without stopping the car letters can be posted in the new mail receptacle with all convenience and safety.

Every box and seat in Lafayette theater was filled tonight with spectators to witness the Mask and Wig club's performance of "Sir Robinson Crusoe," the audience being one of the most brilliant housed by a Washington theater this season.

Mrs. Roosevelt occupied one of the most prominent boxes, having with her Miss Roosevelt, Capt. and Mrs. Cowles, and other friends. Gen. Draper had in his boxes the Austro-Hungarian ambassador and Baroness Hengelmüller, the British ambassador and Lady Herbert, Col. Edgerley, Secretary Moody, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sackett of New York.

Others having boxes were the Argentine minister and Mme. Garcia Mérou; Miss Kean, who entertained Miss Janet Fish and Miss Christine Roosevelt and a party of young friends and Senator Elkins, Gen. Bates, Mrs. Harriet Blaine Beale, and Mrs. Slater.

Mr. and Mrs. George Westinghouse gave a tea to about 150 guests today. Mrs. Westinghouse was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Leonard Wood, Mrs. John W. Foster, Mrs. Condit-Smith, the Misses Bell, Miss Cresson, Mrs. Charles W. Fenton, Mrs. Lansing, Mrs. Herman Westinghouse, Miss Westinghouse, Miss Rachel Aiken, and Miss McConway, all house guests from Pittsburg. The tea was followed by a dinner party in honor of Mrs. Westinghouse and her guests, and later a theater party to witness the performance of the Mask and Wig club. Mr. and Mrs. Westinghouse will leave Washington with their guests tomorrow for the grand opera week in Pittsburg and to attend the wedding of the earl of Yarmouth and Miss Thaw.

Members of the interstate commerce commission left Washington tonight for New York, where they tomorrow will hold a hearing in the important "coal trust" case.

Charges of pooling freights and earnings were made by citizens of New York against practically all the coal carrying roads, and the commissioners consider the case as of great importance. Subpœnas have been issued for President Baer, General Solicitor Campbell of the allied coal roads, and many men prominent in financial and railroad circles.

On May 20 at Chicago there will be a hearing concerning the transportation of salt from points in Michigan to Missouri river points and intermediate localities.

HOSE SAVES MAN IN WELL WHEN ITS WALLS CAVE IN.

Friend Throws Rubber Pipe to Digger, Who Gets Air, Though Buried Under Tons of Sand—Rescued Uninjured.

La Crosse, Wis., April 20.—[Special.]—Rare presence of mind saved Henry Streitz from death beneath many tons of sand at the bottom of a well.

Streitz was engaged in digging a well for R. L. Ferguson. He was working at a depth of eighteen feet, when the sand at the top began to cave in, M. A. Wolfe, a bystander, hearing Streitz call, and realizing what was happening, seized a piece of hose, which he threw down to the unfortunate man. Streitz seized it and held the end of it close to his face.

The work of rescue was done through difficulties. Several times, when the rescuers had nearly reached the imprisoned man, the soft sand caved in again, each time refilling the well. Only one man could work at a time, and long before Streitz was reached all hope of finding him alive was given up.

The rescuers were unaware of the fact that the old piece of hose, the end of which Wolfe had thrown to Streitz, was conveying air to the man in the well.

ROOSEVELT OUTING NEARS END.

President Will Leave Yellowstone Park Soon and Resume His Tour of the West.

Cinnabar, Mont., April 20. — President Roosevelt has about completed his tour of the Yellowstone park. Today he was at Fire Hole geyser basin. Tomorrow he will return to the Norris geyser basin, and go from there to the Grand cañon, where the upper and lower falls are situated. He expects to return to the post headquarters on Wednesday, and will remain in that vicinity until Friday afternoon, when he will resume his trip. The members of the president's party who have been living on the train at Cinnabar since April 8 will probably join the president in the park Thursday morning.

COURT MODIFIES MERGER DECREE.

Northern Securities Company Permitted to Pay Dividends Pending the Appeal.

PETITION IN ERROR FILED

Thirty-four Reasons Why Railroad Combine Does Not Violate Anti-Trust Law.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—[Special.]—Judge Sanborn today modified the decree in the merger case and the Northern Securities company will pay dividends to its stockholders pending a final decision of the whole case by the Supreme court of the United States. The modification of the decree relieves $4,000,000 of May dividends before the final decision is given, when $14,000,000 will be distributed. Judge Sanborn expressed the opinion that the Supreme court would decide the case in November, 1903.

Although the decree was not modified until noon, the effect on the stock market was immediate. Dispatches from Wall street stated that Northern Securities stock jumped from 94½ to 96¾. St. Paul gained 2 points.

Case Goes to Supreme Court.

Another development of the day in the merger case was the filing of the appeal to the United States Supreme Court. The petition on behalf of the Northern Securities company alleges thirty-four points of error in the decree of the Circuit court. Exceptions are noted to every paragraph in the decree, and the court is claimed to be in error in rendering any decree save one for a dismissal of the petition and proceedings.

The principal points of error upon which the Northern Securities company appeals to the United States Supreme court are the following:

"The court erred in holding and deciding that all contracts and combinations which merely tend to restrain interstate commerce, whether by suppression of competition or otherwise, are in themselves, although such tendency does not result in any such restraint, violations of the act of congress of July 2, 1890, known as the anti-trust act.

"The court erred in holding and deciding that all contracts and combinations which merely confer the power to restrain interstate commerce, whether by suppression of competition or otherwise, are evasive contracts or combinations in restraint of such commerce and declared illegal by the anti-trust act, though such power is not, and is not intended to be, exercised.

"The court erred in holding and deciding that every combination whereby the power is acquired to suppress competition between two parallel and competing lines of railway operating under state charters and engaged in interstate commerce, is a combination in violation of said anti-trust act, whether such power is exercised or intended to be exercised or not.

"Combinations Not Illegal."

"The court erred in holding that consolidations of railway companies created by or under state laws and competitors in interstate commerce, are effectual restraints upon such commerce, and that such consolidations, though expressly authorized by state charter, are violations of said anti-trust act and illegal.

"The court erred in holding and deciding that the said anti-trust act, if construed as forbidding or restricting the shareholders of the two defendant railway companies from selling their shares to the Northern Securities company, or exchanging them for shares of that company, or forbidding or restraining that company from making such purchase or exchanges and holding the railway shares thus acquired as its own, is a valid law and not in conflict with the fifth amendment of the constitution of the United States.

"The court erred in holding that the said anti-trust act was intended, and was and is effectual, to include and prohibit 'virtual consolidations' of parallel and competing railway companies chartered by the several states, and combinations looking to such 'virtual consolidations.'"

Before deciding to modify the decree of the Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Sanborn heard arguments from attorneys representing the Northern Securities company, the Northern Pacific, and the Great Northern. The United States district attorney, under instructions from Attorney General Knox, opposed any change in the decree.

Judge Sanborn based his decision to modify the decree as requested by the Northern Securities company upon the Supreme court's rule 36, which provides that when an appeal is allowed from a final decree granting an injunction a judge who took part in the decision may make an order suspending the injunction during the pendency of the appeal upon such terms as to bond or otherwise as he may consider proper for the security of the opposite party. In fitting this rule to the present case Judge Sanborn said:

"It is the customary practice for the courts to exercise this power whenever their action will not injuriously affect the rights of the party who has secured the injunction. In this case that party is the United States.

United States Not Affected.

"These dividends do not belong and cannot in any event be paid to the United States. It does not claim to have and it has not any pecuniary interest in them. Its purpose in prosecuting this suit and its interest in this injunction are only thereby to enforce the law against illegal combinations.

"The appeal in this case will probably be determined by the Supreme court about November, 1903. It is not perceived how the payment or the retention of these dividends during the pendency of this appeal can injuriously affect any right of the United States in this litigation, and the only question here is whether these dividends shall be piled up in the treasuries of the railway companies or paid to the stockholders to whom they legally belong and who must ultimately receive them.

"The retention of the dividends by the railroad companies while the appeal is pending will not enhance or speed the enforcement of any legal right of the United States, while it might inflict unnecessary loss and injury upon the stockholders who are justly entitled to receive those dividends as soon as they are earned.

"The order of the court will accordingly be that the operation of that portion of the decree which enjoins the railway companies from paying the dividends upon their stock which is held by the Northern Securities company is suspended during the pendency of the appeal."

Good News for Wall Street.

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Judge Sanborn's decision to modify the merger decree completely changed the tone of the stock market today. In some way or other the impression gained ground that the decision would be unfavorable to the company, and from it was from the opening of the market up to the announcement of the announcement of the decision there had been considerable selling of stocks for both accounts, this being reflected in declines of a point or more all through the list.

During the three hours' trading that preceded the announcement of the decision the price of Northern Securities declined from 97¼ to 94¾, which was within less than a point of the lowest price at which the stock has ever sold. When it became known that a stay had been granted there was a rush to buy the stock both by traders and on orders from commission houses. This brought about an upward movement, which was even greater than had been the morning's decline. So completely had the sentiment in regard to the stock been changed by the terms of the stay that practically all offers of stock were withdrawn and buyers found none was to be had except at prices several points above the quotation which prevailed just prior to the announcement of the decision—between 95 and 96.

Only a few hundred shares were sold and orders placed in the market when the stock was selling around 95 were executed between 96 and 96¾. It was natural that this heavy advance should be followed by a reaction which carried the stock down to 97¾.

WILL WED ASSISTANT TO DR. JACQUES LOEB.

The latest of the spring engagements in University of Chicago circles is that of Miss Charlotte Leonard, 5086 Jefferson avenue, and Dr. Martin H. Fischer, formerly of the university, now assistant to Prof. Jacques Loeb at the University of California. Miss Leonard was a member of the class of 1903, but left the university last year. While a student she was a member of the Sigma club. Dr. Fischer is a Chicago man. He graduated from Rush Medical college as valedictorian of the class of 1901, and immediately was taken into the faculty of the university as an assistant in physiology. Working with Dr. Loeb, he assisted in many of the latter's discoveries and has done valuable research work himself. Dr. Fischer recently returned from California for the wedding, which will take place May 6.

COACHMEN WANT A UNION

DEVELOP GRIEVANCES OF AN ETHICAL CHARACTER.

Wages and Working Conditions Satisfactory, but They Desire a Line Drawn Between the Man Trained in the "Best Families" of England and Those Educated in South Halsted Street—Also Aim to Exact More Consideration from Other Employes.

Coachmen in various stables of the city have caught the fever of organization and are clamoring for some labor leader to form them into a union. They have suddenly discovered that they have grievances that cannot be offset by their gorgeous suits and the position of honor at the tail end of a swell turnout.

"Buttons," the bell boy, has his union. "Hostler," the stableman, is a member of an organization which controls 2,000 men. Even "Bridget," the maid, has joined the army of union labor. But the coachman has remained without affiliation.

"Buttons," obeying the orders of his union, refuses to open and shut the carriage door. "Hostler" will no longer do aught but clean the stables and harness. "Bridget" has taken the stand that a man without a union card is no man at all. Now the coachmen have decided that the only solution is a union.

When their representatives came to Organizer Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor he at first refused to listen to them, but finally agreed to take up their case if they would get twenty bona fide coachmen to promise to be charter members of the first union of its kind in the country.

Crying Needs of Coachmen.

The objects, as outlined by the petitioners, are as follows:

We want to keep our business exclusive.

We want to do nothing but coaching, so we can become the models of our trade in the country.

We want to become the expert judges of all the horses purchased by our employers.

We want hostlers to do the cleaning of the stables and harnesses.

We want our clothes cut and made by tailors of the first grade, and want to select the material ourselves.

We do not want to sit in state while our employers are spending several hours visiting.

Fitzpatrick is not accustomed to dealing with coachmen, and proposed that they form a union along stereotype lines. He asked them to frame a wage scale and make out a working schedule, such as is customary with new organizations. This they refused to do, asserting that they were paid according to the wealth of the family that hires them, and that their working conditions depended chiefly upon the habits of their employers.

Want to Elevate the "Profession."

"We want a union, yet we don't want a union," said one of the men. "What we are anxious to get is a sort of club which all of the better coachmen of the city can join, find out what should be the salaries of each, and what are reasonable demands from our employers.

"We don't want a set scale of wages. The coachman educated by the best families of England is worth more money than the one brought up in South Halsted street. The one who knows the value of a horse is worth more than one who can merely sit stiffly and carry out the idea that his employers have been wealthy for generations. We are members of a profession, and what we want is a union to force the other employés about the house to recognize the fact."

If the coachmen succeed in getting together the twenty men demanded by the federation their union will be formally launched, chartered by the American Federation of Labor, and made a permanent body. Before this is done the local leaders will take steps to prevent the movement from taking a course that will make the organization a copy of that which amused and "helevated" Sam Weller while he and Pickwick were sojourning at Bath.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARY E. MACLACHLAN, an old resident of Chicago, died at the residence of her son, Hugh W. MacLachlan, 412 North Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, late Sunday evening. Mrs. MacLachlan was born in Scotland in 1835 and had lived in Chicago thirty-five years. She was a widow. Two sons and a daughter survive her, William F. MacLachlan, Hugh W. MacLachlan, and Mrs. Margaret I. Sandes. The funeral will be held tomorrow from the house of her son, 414 North Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, at 1 o'clock. Interment will be at Rosehill.

H. B. GILLESPIE, a pioneer mining man of Aspen, Colo., died recently in South America. He discovered the Spar mine in 1881, and was part owner of the Mollie Gibson property. He was prominent in politics, and in 1886 was democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, but was defeated. He recently retired from active life and started on a tour of the world, accompanied by his wife and two sons.

C. H. MORGAN, Chicago, for many years connected with the Northern Pacific and the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroads, died on Friday at the Augustana hospital, and the body was cremated at Graceland yesterday afternoon. Mr. Morgan resided at 275 Huron street.

HARRY L. MERRICK, the editorial paragrapher of the Washington Post, was buried from his home in Washington, D. C., yesterday. The remains were taken to Portsmouth, O., the home of Mrs. Merrick, and the interment will take place there.

LOCKOUT HITS 30,000 MEN

THREE BIG HARD COAL COMPANIES SHUT DOWN.

Question of One Hour of Work a Week Is the Issue on Which Employers and Employes Divide — Refusal to Remain Full Time on Saturday Results in Suspension of Operations in Schulykill District — Miners Were Confident of Victory.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., April 20.—[Special.]—Thirty thousand mineworkers were locked out today in the Schuylkill region by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company, the Lehigh Valley company, and the Susquehanna Coal company. The action of the coal companies has caused excitement throughout the Schuylkill region.

The stand taken by the companies was caused by the miners refusing to work more than eight hours on Saturday. The report of the strike commission declares that they shall put in the regular nine hours on Saturdays as on other days, but last week the mine employés served notice that they would not serve the extra hours. The companies answered by declaring that the men should put in full time or consider themselves discharged. On Saturday the men threw down their tools and left the collieries when eight hours had expired. They went to their homes confident that the companies would not carry out their threat.

Men Confident of Victory.

There was a feeling of confidence yesterday that the men had made their point and no trouble was looked for. All this was changed today when the men reported for work and found themselves locked out. The men found notices posted stating that work had been suspended indefinitely at the Lehigh Valley, the Philadelphia and Reading, and the Susquehanna coal companies.

John Mitchell, president of the United Mineworkers of America, arrived here this afternoon and will hold a conference with the members of the three district boards, beginning tomorrow.

The board members say there are many details to be adjusted and that the workers in many portions of the districts are much agitated. There have been strikes, chiefly by the driver boys, and others are feared if there is not a speedy settlement. The district officers have been advising the men to remain quietly at work and not to make any disturbance while the district boards adjusted the difficulties. The sessions of the board probably will last several days.

Weighman Issue Up Again.

One grievance made known here tonight is the alleged refusal of Coxe Bros. & Co., in the middle coal field, to permit the miners to employ a check weighman. The award of the commission makes it compulsory for the operators to employ, at the expense of the miners, a check weighman whenever requested by a majority of the men at any colliery.

While here Mr. Mitchell will direct the selection of three members to the board of conciliation. Secretary George Hartlein of the ninth district says that the men understand that the primary finding of the commission was that working conditions should be the same as they were in 1900, except where concessions are granted. In 1900 the men worked only the eight hours on Saturday.

Ultimatum by Alton Trainmen.

Bloomington, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—The Chicago and Alton trainmen announced today that they had given the final notice to the officials concerning the acceptance of the proposed new schedule, containing the 15 per cent increase in pay to freight men and 12 per cent to passenger men, and that there would be no further conferences. A reply is expected at any time. The schedule is different from that submitted by the officials.

The ultimatum of the Alton employés follows a joint conference between the committees from that road and those of the Rock Island, Santa Fé, Wabash, and Illinois Central. The Santa Fé has accepted the scale. The Rock Island has been granted a postponement until after President Roosevelt completes his tour over that system.

Great Northern Is Firm.

St. Paul, Minn., April 20.—It was officially announced today that General Manager F. E. Ward of the Great Northern has sent to the committee of trainmen representing that system a communication announcing: First, that the company refused to treat with the committee, its officers, or the officers of the national order of conductors and trainmen, as an organization; second, that the company refuses to grant any of the demands of the committee relative to increased pay for men serving on double header trains, or to abolish double heading, or to grant any concessions whatever on this issue.

St. Louis Car Employes Threaten.

St. Louis, Mo., April 20.—It is stated that unless the St. Louis Transit company grants the demands of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employés, which are already formulated for submission immediately after the exposition dedicatory exercises, a strike will be ordered on the system. The Transit company controls all the street car lines in St. Louis except those of the Urban system.

CONTEMPT ORDER AGAINST STRIKERS

Men Must Show Cause or Be Punished for Violating Judge Holdom's Writ.

YOUNG COMING TODAY.

Teamsters Employed on Gas Company Work All on Duty Except at One Barn.

Striking gasworkers were taken before Judge Holdom yesterday and ordered to show cause why they should not be punished for contempt in violating his injunction. At the same time crowds gathered around the barns of F. G. Hartwell, who does the hauling for the People's Gaslight and Coke company, and prevented his teamsters from going out to work.

The officers of the teamsters' union took no hand in the struggle, for they received news that their president, Albert Young, was on his way home from Boston and would assume charge of the situation today. As Young is a firm believer in the validity of contracts, his presence is expected to bring an end to the vacillating policy of the members of his union.

The serious phases of the strike were brought out in the hearing before Judge Holdom. Affidavits by officials and employés of the company were read. These set forth that twenty-five of the strikers were guilty of violations of the injunction. Acting on the evidence they contained, the judge ordered the men to show cause by Saturday why they should not be punished.

Argument of Attorney Meagher.

"This is not an ordinary strike," said Attorney James F. Meagher in his plea for the company. "It is conspiracy. If it were not for the loyalty and fearlessness of the employés now at work this city would be in a state of chaos. This is a contest between right, justice, law, and order against anarchy. These outsiders who are engineering the trouble are merely trying to enforce their own injunction.

"There has never been such a strike in the history of labor. The French revolution with all its horrors offers no parallel. Lives are endangered, property is liable to destruction. Pipes 1,800 miles in length may be destroyed and 320,000 consumers may be shut off from light. Invalids and persons accustomed to leave their lights burning at night may be killed when the threat to plunge this city in darkness is carried out. A fluid highly inflammable and highly explosive is being disregarded by these ruffians."

Protection Offered to Pickets.

Attorney Meagher then submitted a photograph of a notice sent out by President J. J. Laverty of the Gas Workers' Mutual Aid and Protective association, in which protection is offered to the pickets and strikers. It reads as follows:

"To Whom It May Concern: The bearer is regularly appointed picket to notify all persons in the employ of the gas company that organized labor has declared a general strike in all departments of said company and request them to support us. All men complying will be fully protected and accepted as members and entitled to all privileges thereof. J. J. LAVERTY,

"President Gas Workers' Mutual Aid and Protective association."

Workers Hounded by Strikers.

Further charges were made by the attorneys for the company that the orders of the court were openly defied, that wagons were stopped and the drivers threatened until they returned to the barns, and that force and intimidation were used on the men who refused to leave their work. It was also asserted that the loyal employés were hounded by the strikers, who even had tried to shut off their grocery supplies.

Against these charges the attorneys for the strikers urged that the injunction was not binding in that it was issued on conclusions made by the gas company. It was announced that on Saturday the strikers will have affidavits in answer to those filed by the attorneys for the company.

Teamsters Nearly All at Work.

Attempts to stop the teamsters during the day failed at Sheldon and Lake streets, where the west side stables of Mr. Hartwell are located. He was there in person when the teams went out, and with the police quelled all disturbances. Two of the teamsters were followed for over a mile and returned, saying they were afraid to go out again. On being ordered to do their work both consented and finished the day.

The teamsters and the company are anxious to have Young back in the city. His orders, it is believed, will be respected by the strikers and their pickets. When he arrives a call will be issued for a special meeting of the union, and at it he will outline the course of action the men are to pursue.

No Interruption, Says Mr. Wooster.

At the offices of the company it was reported that the making of gas and the tapping of the drip traps was being carried on as usual.

"We have eight more men at work than we had before the strike started," said Vice President C. K. Wooster. "The teamsters are working from all the barns except those in Stewart avenue. Reports that the company has not been able to keep up with its orders are false."

STRIKE IN A MACHINE SHOP.

Employes of H. W. Caldwell & Son Go Out on Demand for Nine Hour Day.

Employés of the H. W. Caldwell & Son company, Western avenue and Seventeenth street, struck yesterday morning because the firm would not grant them the nine hour day. The 200 men who went out are machinists, pattern makers, and metal workers.

Three weeks ago the iron trade unions made a formal demand on all the manufacturers of the city for an increase in wages and a nine hour day. The Caldwell company signified its willingness to grant the wages, but refused to change the hours.

Out of the 500 shops in the city over half have agreed to the terms of the unions, and those who hold out will suffer from strikes.

Job Settles a Strike.

Frederick W. Job, secretary of the Employers' association, settled the long drawn out strike of the picture frame makers during the day. Over 2,000 of these workers have been trying to force their employers to give them higher wages, shorter hours, and recognition of their union. The trouble has tied up the industry for three months. The settlement does not include recognition of the union, but stipulates that there shall be no discrimination against union men. It arranges for a joint committee to adjust the wage and hour controversy. Pending its decision the men are to return to work.

Final Notice Given Bakers.

The master bakers of the city will notify their employés tomorrow either to settle the differences that seem liable to cause a strike in the trade or bring the trouble to open warfare. This decision was reached last night at a meeting in Jung's hall, 106 Randolph street. The master bakers are willing to give the men $1 more a week than they demand if they will not ask for the nine hour day. These terms were rejected once, but it is believed they will be finally accepted.

The South Water street merchants and their helpers will meet tomorrow and make another attempt to adjust their troubles. They are agreed upon terms of settlement for all but two branches of the work, banana unloading and poultry handling. The men want $12 a week for handling bananas, and the firms are willing to grant but $10. The firms want the men to accept 8 cents a crate for unloading chicken coops from freight cars, and the men want to be paid $8 a car, to be divided among the four doing the work.

FIGHT CENTERS IN CONTEST FOR CITY ATTORNEYSHIP.

Northwestern University Drawn Into the Struggle When Professors Divide in Their Support of the Two Candidates—Mayoralty Question Is Forced Into Background — Lively Campaign Closes in Chicago Heights —Elections in Many Suburbs.

Interest in Evanston's city election today centers in the struggle between Mortimer W. Mattison and William C. Gilbert for the office of city attorney, and the contest for mayor has been pushed into the background.

Northwestern university became directly involved in this fight yesterday when an open letter signed by Prof. George A. Coe and Prof. John H. Gray was issued criticising the university paper for supporting Mattison. A second letter was at once circulated by Mattison's friends advising students to take the advice of Profs. Holgate, James, Wilde, Charles J. Little, Cumnock, and fifteen others.

Drainage District Involved.

Mr. Gilbert's friends yesterday emphasized the fact that two years ago Mattison was elected on an anti-convention ticket, and that Gilbert is running for the office this year on a similar ticket. They urge also that the citizens' ticket should be elected as a protest against Evanston's being taxed for a drainage scheme without its consent.

A number of the students will support Mr. Mattison because he is a Northwestern alumnus.

Republicans claim majorities of from 200 to 700 for their entire ticket, which is headed by John T. Barker for mayor. On the opposition ticket George E. Gooch is the candidate for mayor.

Charles R. Webster, president of the Municipal association, said yesterday that the resolutions indorsing Mattison for city attorney had been approved by eight of the eleven members of the executive committee. He said the issue was not a personal one, but was whether an efficient officer should be supported.

Contest in Chicago Heights.

The liveliest city campaign ever waged in Chicago Heights ended last night in a general massmeeting. Two tickets, bearing the names of the same candidates for the minor offices, but with opposing men for the mayoralty, are in the field. The citizens' ticket is led by J. C. Mote, formerly a deputy sheriff of Cook county, and A. J. J. Miller, who once served as mayor, heads the independent ticket.

Elections in Other Suburbs.

In Maywood two tickets are in the field. Charles Mauch, president of the village board, is a candidate for reelection on the labor ticket. Edward C. Nichols is an independent candidate.

In Melrose Park the chief issue is the saloon license question, the regular citizens' ticket advocating a $500 license, while the caucus ticket desires a $1,000 license.

Harlem has one of the greatest struggles in its history, and three tickets are in the field. The one issue is "more money from the racetrack."

In Lyons, Riverside, and La Grange the campaign has been quiet.

Want Their Names Changed.

Three persons applied to the Circuit court yesterday to have their names changed. Alfred T. Olson asks that his name be changed to Alfred Theodore Lane. Swen P. Anderson wants to be known hereafter as Swen P. Andreen, and Nils Otto Lindgren asks that his name be changed to Otto Spegel.

A simple remedy at the beginning of a disease is better than a council of doctors at the critical stage.—MUNYON.

Thousands of Philadelphians are at present victims of the Grippe. That dreaded disease is epidemic; and yet a simple remedy is at hand which is a sure preventive. At the first appearance of a cold—the forerunner of Grippe—MUNYON'S COLD CURE should be used at once. There will be no fear or danger of Grippe then. A few doses will break up most any form of cold. It has been demonstrated in thousands of cases that it immediately checks discharges of the nose and eyes, stops that awful sneezing, promptly relieves the throat and lungs, allays inflammation and fever and tones up the entire system. It is simply invaluable in all forms of Grippe, or obstinate colds.

Carpets of these modern days.

Mandel's superb showing.

Carpets of every variety can be made into rugs to fit any shaped room, no matter how odd it may be. Plain centers or those in which only a faint outline of some small conventional design are used are the correct thing, and with these centers is an accompanying border in the "art nouveau" or conventionalized floral effect. The border is narrower than the old time carpet trimming, being not much over a foot across. The plain colors are rather delicate, soft shades of blues, greens and reds having the preference. For the rose pink wall is shown a beautiful shade of green and for the room in ivory tints there is the rose colored carpeting. These carpet rugs are most fashionable when showing the hardwood floor about them to the width of a foot or more, but they can of course extend to the base board if desirable.

The new fastener.

When the rugs are adjusted with the Don Schain fastener, which operates exactly like the clasp on a glove, it is an easy matter to take them up, clean and relay in short order.

Stair carpets.

For stairs and halls Mandel's are showing the yard wide carpeting, a pretty color being an Empire red, a brilliant shade which is going to tone with a wall of soft green. The pretty reception hall where it is to be laid is to lead into a drawing room in ivory tints, with a rug carpet of softest green. The handsomest Wilton carpeting sells at $3 a yard, but qualities ranging from 1.75 upward are to be had. From $1 to 1.75 is the price of the newest patterns in Axminster weaves, while the old reliable body Brussels still on the market, which wears like iron, ranges in price from $1 to 1.50.

New mattings.

It is almost time to be thinking of the mattings for the summer cottage, and in this connection may be mentioned the Crex grass mats shown at Mandel's which are rapidly taking the place of the Chinese and Japanese floor coverings. They are an Amercan product, made from the grass of the northwest lake regions, and the colors secured by dyeing the warp. Their price varies from 35c to 50c per square yard. Then, too, there are the Japanese and Chinese mattings in profusion, made in the homes of the natives out of the thickly growing river grasses, women and children uniting with the heads of families in its production. Mandel's prices range from 12½c per yard up.

While on this subject of matting it may be mentioned that the firm of Mandel Brothers, far from confining its work to nearby trade, is preparing to send many hundreds of yards of Calcutta matting for use in the gold mines of Kimberley, South Africa. No, the miners are not going to use it to walk on while at work; its purpose there will be to act as a sieve over sail canvas, catching the small particles of gold which fall from its meshes.

Linoleums.

For the housewife who requires linoleum for the kitchen or bathroom, there are some excellent English and German samples whose colors never wear off because they are not on the surface alone but are solid. This linoleum, which is really a combination of cork and linseed oil, is practically indestructible.

Carpet sweepers.

The carpet sweeper is the greatest labor-saving device ever invented to lighten household duties. The sweepers we sell are recognized as the most satisfactory made. We carry a complete line of Bissell sweepers, for some of which we have exclusive control, selling them under our own name. Bissell's Premier carpet sweeper, with the latest improvements, $3. Mandel Special carpet sweeper, 2.50. Standard carpet sweeper, $2. Domestic carpet sweepers, 1.25.

Rug cleaning and repairing

Costly rugs often meet with accidents, so rug owners welcome the opportunity of having their floor coverings repaired at times. Mandel's employ two Armenians reared as rug weavers who are capable of working out the most intricate designs, no matter how large the hole, and making the rug as good as new. Native yarns are used by these weavers, and the greatest of care is exercised in the darning process.

A fine art.

The cleaning of rugs and carpets has reached a fine art, and the facilities offered at the same establishment for such renovation are without equal in this city. The most sadly soiled rugs, when subjected to the naphtha bath into which soiled rugs are plunged, look, after they come out of the hot room heated to 160 degrees Fahrenheit, as well as, if not actually better, than when first purchased.

These baths are perfectly harmless, and deal death and destruction to all germs and microbes.

Time for new curtains.

All the new styles at Mandel's.

The day of the bristling scrubbing brush and the big red moving van is at hand. The poet is in the midst of his lay, the sound of the hammer and the carpet beater is abroad, and the mistress of the household is up early and late superintending the renovation of everything within her domicile, while paterfamilias is, strange to say, busier at his office than he has been since the same time last year and is obliged to leave his breakfast half finished and take his dinner at the club, so great is the rush of work—all of which indicates that "spring is coming 'round this way."

Mandel Brothers have been laying their plans for this season of general cleanliness and consequent upheaval for some time, and, knowing that one of the first furnishings to be replenished in this housecleaning period (because of its fragility) is the window covering, they are stocked up with every new conceit in this line, from the simple lace curtain at a few dollars to the Saxony Brussels and Pompadour Arabian at several hundred dollars a pair.

Bonne Femme curtains.

For the drawing room of the massive stone mansion requiring something not absolutely plain there are the new Bonne Femme curtains to be hung on the sash in the form of one large panel to a window. They can be drawn to one side at will by a slender suspended cord — a point which is greatly in their favor. They do not supplant the regular draped curtain, which is, of course, hung inside the sash affair. The Bonne Femme ends, as a rule, in a deep scalloped flounce, and those of Arabian lace have large squares of lace applique above the ruffle. The Pompadour Arabian pattern has the flower designs raised. Mandel's show some costly drapings of this kind, one handsome pair of curtains being listed at $325. Many of these window coverings are made in Mandel's own factories at Paris and Mirecourt, France, after designs original with the house.

Renaissance curtains.

Renaissance lace is if anything to be more used than ever in spite of the rumor that its popularity is on the wane. Most original and elaborate are some of the Saxony Brussels net which Mandel's have imported from Eibenstock, Saxony, and the surrounding hamlets. Their beautiful designs are made by hand with embroidery hooks, and represent the patient labor of years at the hands of the European peasant. You can buy them for as low as $12 per pair, and from that up to $150 for some very elaborate effects.

Colored curtains.

Reckoning from Mandel's supply the colored point applique curtains are going to have a great vogue for the conservatory, dining room, and den. The handsomest pattern seen up to date for the room of posies is shown here in black net appliqued with birds of bright plumage and the big leaves of the palm and other foliage. And right here it is well to note the fact that these brilliant drapes, with the exception of the black nets, are washable. For den the curtain of Moorish character is appropriate, and a stunning dining room curtain is of white net with a large crimson eagle in the center. The mistress who is searching for library window drapings should take a glance at the white net with its border appliqued in heraldic design with armorial bearings, rampant lions and all the insignia of the knights of old to inspire the beholder with awe as well as to impress with their artistic beauty. Many of these colored applique curtains of Mandel Brothers come from St. Fiden and various cantons of Switzerland.

A new fad.

A fad of the hour is the seersucker curtain of cream shade bordered with green or brown applique, and very dainty for summer use. Mandel's are showing a silk curtain of Etamine stoff which resembles much a fine poplin and is appliqued in wreaths and bowknots of filet guipure lace and net, the designs for which are evolved from the firm's own artists at work in the big retail store.

Parquetry floors.

There was a time when a dry goods store with a carpenter and cabinet maker's shop attached would have been regarded as an incongruity. However, this is no longer so, as is evidenced by Mandel Brothers' parquetry floor department. This firm employs a corps of workmen who fit and lay hardwood floors in the most exemplary fashion, according to the taste of the house owner, or that of their own special designers. Hardwood and parquetry floors are easily cleaned, indestructible and full of artistic possibilities.

Mandel's do an extensive business in the laying of these floors, and are always pleased to submit estimates.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ON WATER.

C. H. Harrison crib, bad.

The Harrison street pumping station is near Halsted and Harrison streets.

The Lake View pumping station supplies all territory north of Belmont avenue to Devon avenue.

Chicago avenue station supplies all territory between Belmont avenue and Lake street east of Western avenue, with a mixed supply from the Chicago avenue and the Carter H. Harrison tunnels.

Fourteenth street station supplies all territory between Lake street and Forty-seventh street east of Canal street with water from the four mile tunnel.

The territory between Lake street, Canal street, Forty-seventh street, and Western avenue is supplied by a mixture from Carter H. Harrison, Chicago avenue, and four mile tunnels, by stations at Harrison street and Twenty-second street.

The territory between Belmont avenue and Forty-seventh street, west of Western avenue to the city limits, except Austin, is supplied from the Carter H. Harrison tunnel by stations at Springfield avenue and Central Park avenue.

The territory south of Forty-seventh street and east to the lake and city limits in both directions is supplied from the Sixty-eighth street station with water from the Hyde Park tunnel.

The boundaries of adjoining areas fluctuate three or four blocks either north and south or east and west, according to the varying pressure from the pumping stations.

A number of our men quit work a short time ago under the following circumstances: We were among the first to adopt the 54 hour week in Chicago, and at the time the shorter hours were put into effect we submitted the arrangement of hours to a vote of our employes. Almost unanimously they voted for a division of the 54 hour week which provided for a Saturday half holiday. A vote was taken a second time last fall with the same result. Upon a recent demand by the Machinists' union that we run the shop nine hours each day, we offered to take a vote again and abide the preference of the majority of our men. This vote was taken and resulted in a majority favoring the Saturday half holiday. A number of our employes then quit work, although expressing themselves as entirely satisfied with their jobs. Our shop is an open shop, not discriminating for or against union or nonunion men. Apply to

"INDIAN HOLLOW" [printed 8 times]
TO LET [printed 4 times]
FOR SUMMER SEASON. [printed 4 times]
This is a rare opportunity to secure a splendid summer home—the well known estate of the late Thomas T. Bouve of Boston.
This is one of the show places of the Atlantic coast and one of the most beautiful summer places in New England, situated at "Old Colony Hill," Hingham, Plymouth county, Massachusetts. Stone buildings, fine water supply, gas lighting. The mansion stands in the center of a park, with oak woods back and noble trees on the lawns. Fine drives for every day in the year. Nantasket Beach less than 2 miles away, and the celebrated "Jerusalem road" along Cohasset Rock Cliffs on the open ocean. Trains to the city and to Nantasket Beach every half hour, also electric lines to both. Beautiful drives to two steamboat landings and fine harbor sail to Boston. An extraordinary opportunity to hire one of the finest places on the Atlantic coast. Address W. L. B., Room 50, 113 Devonshire-st., Boston, Mass.

BARGAIN EXTRAORDINARY.

Marvelous Piano Values for This Week Only.

A splendid, high grade, beautifully made piano regularly sold for $350—this week only $195. We have eight of these handsome MANUFACTURER'S SAMPLES—the very highest quality a well known and reputable eastern manufacturer could produce—over a thousand of these elegant instruments have been sold at $350 each, with uniform satisfaction to the purchases—at our special price they represent positively the best piano value ever offered in Chicago.

These pianos came to us direct from the factory—they are exquisitely finished in both genuine mahogany and handsomely figured walnut—the inside finish is equal to the outside—hand carved panels, daintily designed cases—choice of two different styles in each wood—full front desk—Boston fall-board—three pedals—FULL SIZED MODERN UPRIGHT PIANO—fine repeating action—clear, silvery tone—and backed by the Vose guarantee for five years. Handsome stool and dainty piano cover of Parisian design free with each instrument.

Of course, this is not the famous Vose piano, but you cannot afford to buy a piano without first inspecting these superb manufacturer's samples, which, while they last, you can purchase on terms to suit your own convenience, at only $195.

The popularity and prestige of the celebrated VOSE PIANOS are a guarantee of their intrinsic merit—in tone quality they stand supreme—the envy of imitators, the delight of connoisseurs.

In the new Vose factory are hundreds of machines that seem almost beyond the scope of human ingenuity, they are so delicately exact in their operation. And the skilled artisans who use these marvelous machines not only know intimately their every capability, but they know the needs, the requirements, the possibilities of Vose pianos—while the experts who actually build the Vose pianos, who do the major portion of their work by hand—they are more than artisans—they are artists who take genuine pride in making every Vose detail a masterpiece.

Your best interest demands that you visit the Vose warerooms before you invest one dollar in a piano.

VOSE & SONS PIANO CO., 246 Wabash-av.

ALTERATION PIANO SALE.

On or about May 1st we shall make extensive alterations on the second and fourth floors of our building. Rather than move or place the pianos in storage we shall dispose of all new pianos not in our regular catalogue as well as new sample and slightly used instruments at a very heavy reduction from former prices, guaranteeing the purchaser a positive saving of from $75 to $125 on every piano.

This is to you the most important event that has ever taken place in the history of the piano trade of Chicago. The stock represents the highest grade of pianos, therefore, any one wishing to purchase a good piano within the next six or eight months will profit by a call during this great sale. MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

PIANO PURCHASERS

WILL FIND A DECIDED ADVANTAGE

IN LYON & HEALY'S

THIS WEEK.

24 different makes of pianos, including Steinway, Knabe, Mason & Hamlin, Miller, Hazelton, Krakauer, Fischer, and other great names are exhibited side by side in our warerooms. All these different pianos are distinguished by some special features. The workmanship in each is of a superior character and every one of these pianos is of a design approved by the highest standard of public taste.

We have at the present time over 600 pianos of these makes and can suit each purchaser to a nicety. There is no shade of tone, no refinement of touch and action known to a piano that we cannot show you. And there is no variety of mahogany, oak, walnut, ebony, or any durable fancy wood that we cannot find for you in this unexampled stock. It is well to note that the various terms employed in describing pianos take on a new meaning here. For instance, one can form no idea of how beautiful mahogany may be until he sees the superbly marked mahogany cases in our stock.

In addition to the foregoing we offer:

SPECIAL THIS WEEK.

UNABLE TO PROVE MURDER.

Police Let Stamm Be Discharged on Preliminary Examination, but Will Go to Grand Jury Later.

Wilford Norman Stamm, arrested on suspicion of having shot and killed his wife on April 5, again obtained his freedom yesterday. He appeared for preliminary examination in the West Chicago avenue police court and was discharged. The police will make one more effort to push the case. As soon as a witness recovers from her present illness Inspector Wheeler says he will go before the grand jury in an effort to have Stamm indicted. It was because of the absence of this witness yesterday that Stamm owes his release, the police say.

OPINIONS BY APPELLATE COURT

Right of Yale University to Invest Its Funds in Notes, Bonds, and Mortgages Is Upheld.

The Appellate court rendered a number of opinions yesterday, and some of the more important decisions were the following:

Yale university was held to have ample power to invest its funds by purchasing notes, bonds, and mortgages. The case involved a note for $12,000 given by Joseph K. Cass, and secured by a mortgage. Another mortgage was given subsequently to other parties, and when the university sought to foreclose it was fought by the holders of the second mortgage, who contended that the university had no power to purchase the note and trust deed, and that, therefore, the purchase was void.

It was decided that Clarence E. Fish was lawfully discharged from the position of chief clerk in the city controller's office in March, 1902. Fish declared he was discharged without being given an opportunity to be heard. Controller McGann replied that Fish was a "probational" employé, and after a fair trial was found incompetent and discharged. The court finds the controller acted within the provisions of the civil service law.

For error in overruling a motion to vacate a judgment, the suit brought by Mary A. Childs and Jerome A. Smith against Isadore Silverman for alleged damage to personal property was reversed and remanded. In the absence of Silverman a judgment for $93 was entered against him. A motion to set aside this judgment was overruled, but the Appellate court authorizes the lower court to pass on the motion.

The injunction granted by Judge Chytraus restraining Harry J. Franks and Sol L. Lowenthal from building an iron and iron and glass canopy in front of the premises at 137 Madison street, occupied by the La Salle theater, was continued in force.

Other opinions by the court were as follows:

10690—Illinois Central railroad company vs. Vincent Satkowski; reversed and remanded.

10693—C. F. Marlow vs. American Trust and Savings bank et al.; affirmed.

10698—Celia Macavenny et al. vs. Mary Ralph; affirmed.

10701—Sprague's Collecting agency vs. George Spiegel; reversed and remanded.

10707—Illinois Central railroad company vs. Joseph Brown; reversed.

10719—Gilchrist Transportation company vs. Northern Grain company; affirmed.

10722—Francis Beidler vs. Harry Richardson et al.; affirmed.

COUNTY HOSPITAL WARDS FULL

Boy with Mumps Turned Away—Crush of Patients Caused by Pneumonia.

Warden Happel of the County hospital announced yesterday that the institution is taxed to its utmost, chiefly because of the unusual number of pneumonia patients. The authorities at the Juvenile home were refused admission for a boy with the mumps. The contagious disease ward in the hospital has a normal capacity of forty-five patients, but over fifty are being cared for, and sick persons are daily turned away because of lack of room. The ward is divided into four sections, for measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and erysipelas, but no provision is made for any other contagious disease. The warden has been urging the building committee to erect a separate building for contagious diseases.

LAKE SHIPPING NEWS

Freights and Charters.

There were more boats than cargoes, and rates began to sag in consequence. At the close of business best offers were 1¼ cents for corn. Charters were: To Buffalo: Davidson, Rend, wheat. To Sarnia: Panther, oats at 1¼ cents.

CLEVELAND, O., April 20—Ore rates for the season were fixed today and contracts for moving about 4,000,000 tons were made on the basis of 75 cents from ports at the head of Lake Superior. The steel trust began chartering and covered about 2,000,000 tons. General Manager Wolvin insisted on last year's differentials, which means 75 cents from Marquette and 65 from Escanaba. Other shippers had figured on paying 80 cents from Marquette and 70 from Escanaba, but they will of course hold for the same figures offered by the trust. Vesselmen will accept contracts at 85 cents from the head of the lakes, but they do not like Marquette or Escanaba business at the rates quoted.

Games Today.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Cincinnati at Chicago.
New York at Brooklyn.
St. Louis at Pittsburg.

Manager Selee of the Chicago National league club and Forecaster Cox will shake the dice box once more today. If Selee wins the baseball season in Chicago will open this afternoon, and a five months' stock of rah rahs will be released by the impatient fans. If Cox wins, as he has on a couple of previous occasions when the stake was not quite so large, Selee and his fans will have to go to cover again and swear.

The Colts got back last night from their opening series of the pennant race in St. Louis, where they broke even with the cardinals in four games, and the Cincinnati team will arrive this morning. The two teams are scheduled to begin play at League park on the west side at 3:30 this afternoon. President Garry Hermann, the new leader of the Ohio club's affairs and a chief in National league war dances, will come along with his ball team, and it is said he will be accompanied by a party of Cincinnati enthusiasts who refuse to allow four straight defeats at the hands of the Pittsburg champions to dampen their patriotism.

Taylor and Kling as Battery.

Everything has been fixed for the opening of the season except the weather man. It has been arranged for Gov. Jack Taylor to pitch the first ball and for Mayor Johnny Kling to catch it in his municipal mit. On account of the strenuousness of the occasion President Harry C. Pulliam has provided two umpires for the happy crowd to say mean things to. There will be the veteran Robert Emslie, with a new hair cut, and James (Bug) Holliday, who is one of the novitiates of the National staff, but not a novice on the ball field. Bug won so much money as a bookmaker last year that he grew tired of horseracing and has returned to his first love.

Manager Frank Selee's squad of Colts, after stopping off at Champaign and slaughtering the Illinois university team just for a workout, arrived last night from St. Louis. The train was over three-quarters of an hour late and it was almost 11 o'clock when they reached town. Most of the players have as yet not found a place to live, and went with Mr. Selee to the Victoria hotel.

Tinker Has a Sty.

Tinker has developed a sty in his left eye, and says it bothers him while at bat, but expects it will go away soon. Manager Selee thinks well of his invalid twirler, Corridon, who was left at the hospital. "He is a good one and has a great arm," said he, "and when he gets back in playing form, I expect him to do great work."

The lineup of the team will be about the same as that in the games at St. Louis, although a shift may be made at first base in order to improve the batting. The lineup will be as follows: Taylor or Weimer, pitcher; Kling, catcher; Hanlon, first base; Lowe, second; Tinker, third; Evers, shortstop; Jones, Slagle, and Dobbs, outfield.

Manager Selee is elated over the showing his men made at St. Louis, and says that after the weeding out process is over there will be a team which will play good ball. He said St. Louis had a good team, and that the cardinals would make trouble for some one before the season was far advanced.

Selee expects to have his new pitcher, Wicker, report here on Wednesday, and Third Baseman Casey will probably show up soon.

Manager Kelly will bring his Cincinnati team to town at 7 o'clock this morning. He said last night that Harper and Peitz would be the reds' battery this afternoon.

COLTS WIN AN EASY CONTEST.

Selee's Men Trounce University of Illinois Team by a Score of 15 to 5.

Champaign, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—Chicago National leaguers won from Illinois today in a comedy of errors by a score of 15 to 5. Illinois started off well and scored three runs in the first inning and two in the second, but were unable to do anything after that. The leaguers pounded out six runs in the third by several errors and three hits.

Miller, while twirling for the collegians, pitched fine ball, but Selee's men pounded Pond and Pfeffer hard. Lundgren pitched the first six innings and retired, when the score was 8 to 5 in favor of Chicago. Weimer relieved Lundgren and was effective for the rest of the game.

The game for Illinois was by far the worst they have played this season. The contest was stopped at the end of the last half of the seventh inning to let the leaguers catch a train. Score:

COLLINS' MEN DRAW WELL

BOSTON AMERICANS OPEN SEASON BEFORE GREAT CROWDS.

Over Nineteen Thousand People See the Afternoon Contest with Philadelphia and There Is a Big Attendance at the Morning Battle—Huhites Win in the Morning, but the Champions Win Out by a Great Batting Rally in the Second Match.

Boston, Mass., April 20.—[Special.]—Capt. Jimmy Collins' boys and Connie Mack's champions opened the American league season here today with a victory apiece.

Waddell was the victim in the forenoon game, which Boston won, 9 to 4, while the veteran Cy Young fell before the Athletics in the afternoon contest, won by Mack's men, 10 to 7. Just 27,658 people saw the two games, the afternoon crowd attracting 19,282.

In the forenoon Boston clinched things in the fourth inning, in which Freeman, Parent, Lachance, Ferris, and Winters hit the sphere skillfully and hard, five runs resulting.

Cy Young struck out the first man up in the afternoon on three pitched balls, and for six innings only one Philadelphia man got as far as first. But in the seventh inning the visitors began to comprehend Cy's twister and fell upon him for six runs. Hughes was substituted, but opportune hitting developed four more runs for Capt. Cross' band in the last two innings.

Philadelphia tried out young Bender in the latter part of the game, his pitching being generally good.

Charley Farrell, the Brooklyn veteran, now with Boston, was given a diamond ring when he went to bat in the first game. Scores:

NATIONAL'S FIRST IN BOSTON.

Home Team Wins from Philadelphia in the Morning, but Loses in the Afternoon.

Boston, Mass., April 20.—[Special.]—Boston and Philadelphia split even today in the National league opening in this city. With Pittinger against McFetridge in the forenoon the home team picked off a victory, 4 to 3, in a hard fought, keenly played game. In the afternoon, however, Victor Willis failed to deceive the Quakers, who won without much effort by a score of 10 to 7. Exactly 1,827 people saw the first contest, the afternoon crowd bringing the total to 5,694. Abbaticchio and Bonner, Boston's two new men, made an excellent first impression. Score:

WHITE SOX READY FOR OPENING.

Comiskey's Team Goes to St. Louis Tonight for the First Game Tomorrow.

Comiskey's White Stockings leave today for St. Louis in prime shape for the opening battle in the American league pennant race tomorrow with Jimmy McAleer's browns. All of the men who will be carried to the Mound city are in condition, and Manager Callahan expects to come back with a majority to his credit.

President Comiskey will accompany the team and will direct the work of his men from the bench. "Commy" and Callahan have decided to try the shift made at Dubuque, and as the result Frank Isbell will be seen covering the territory in the vicinity of the third corner of the diamond, while "Cosy" Dolan will hold down the initial bag and corral wild throws which "Issy" is likely to heave in his direction.

The plan of having Isbell on third and Dolan on first seems to work well, as the former guardian of the initial sack is apparently getting on to the angles of his new position and Dolan had considerable experience last year at first base with the Brooklyn team.

The remainder of the team will be about the same as that which has been playing in all of the exhibition games. Jesse Tannehill will be at short and Daly at second. The outfield will consist of Jones, Green, and Hallman. Callahan has not yet decided which pitcher will work in the opening game, but it would not be surprising if he sent one of the new men into the game to try his hand at fooling McAleer's stars. Sullivan will officiate behind the bat.

Rusie to Play Ball Again.

Muncie, Ind., April 20.—[Special.]—Amos Rusie, formerly a star National league pitcher, has contracted to manage the Vincennes (Ind.) baseball team. Probably Rusie will pitch and play first base. He has been doing day labor in Muncie since leaving the National league, has been living a sober life, and hopes again to appear on the diamond as a king of pitchers.

New Record at Three Cushions.

Stewart and Scriber defeated Heckslinger and Artz, 25 to 5, in Clark's team three cushion tourney last night. The winners bring a new record by scoring their required number of points in eighteen innings. Daly and Hartsig play Heckslinger and Artz tonight.

WITFUL INJURED; MAY BE RETIRED.

Clever Derby Filly Runs Into Fence During the Stake Event at Memphis.

SHOULDER AND HIP HURT.

Accident Occurs at the Eighth Post and Is the Fault of Jockey Hall.

Memphis, Tenn., April 20.—[Special.]—The Crescent City Derby winner, Witful, met with an accident in the Gayoso Hotel stake at Montgomery park this afternoon, which will retire her from racing. The daughter of Mirthful and Response, which S. C. Hildreth valued at $15,000, cannoned into the fence below the last sixteenth pole and hit an upright post with such force that her head was knocked across the pickets, four teeth knocked out, and it is thought her jaw is broken.

The worst injuries, however, were to her shoulder and hip. The former was dislocated and the latter knocked down, which precludes all possibility of her ever going to the post again, according to the veterinaries who attended her.

The accident was almost a repetition of the one in which McChesney figured at Harlem last June, when he was knocked down in the Derby trial and so injured that he had to be withdrawn from the American Derby, which was run a week later. Witful's race today was her trial for the Cumberland Derby, which will be run at Nashville on Thursday, and which her owner thought she would win easily.

Jockey Hall at Fault.

Jockey A. Hall, Hildreth's rider, is blamed for today's mishap. He got the filly away in front, but was pinched off in the first hundred yards, then took her to the outside of the bunch and did not get her on her stride again until the middle of the backstretch, where she was nearly half a dozen lengths behind. At the half pole Witful got going in earnest, and, running around on the outside, picked up the leaders one by one until at the eighth pole she was on even terms with The Don and Flocarline, and Rightful was only two lengths in front. Then Hall, in reaching for his whip, let go the filly's head, and she swerved into The Don. The latter bumped Flocarline, who was next to the fence, and both Wonderly and Phillips had to pull up. That left the road clear for Witful, and instead of straightening her away Hall continued to whip with his right hand. She hit the fence a hundred yards farther on with such force that the impact could be heard in the grandstand. Hall's boot hit the fence and considerable skin was scraped off the leg. Witful went around to the middle of the turn before he could pull her up. He slid out of the saddle when he did, and the mare was led back to the paddock and attended to at once. The mixup allowed Rightful's stable companion, Pericles, to drop into second place and finish four lengths in front of The Don.

The Schorr colors finished in front in another race, Mordella taking down the big end of the purse in the four and one-half furlongs for 2 year olds. It took the best she had to win by a scant length from Viona, who contested every foot of the way.

Results at Oakland.

San Francisco, Cal., April 20.—[Special.]—The fourth race at Oakland today resulted in something of a surprise, Bill Massie beating such horses as Horton, Rio Shannon, and Royalty, although a little over a week ago Marineuse beat him. Lizzie Rice, backed down from 8 to 3 to 1, was off last in the dash and had little chance. Watercure was backed to land the last race, but he must have sulked. C. E. Murray, owner of Anvil, claimed Judge Voorheis in the fifth race for $825. Summary:

First race, Futurity course—Maresia won, John Boggs second, Nullah third.

Second race, ½ mile—Whoa Bill won, Juana second, Ravelana third.

Third race, 1 1-16 miles—Rim Rock won, Tom Slavin second, Bedner third.

Fourth race, 1 mile—Bill Massey won, Rio Shannon second, Horton third.

Fifth race, ¾ mile—J. H. Bennett won, Somenos second, Judge Voorheis third.

Sixth race, 1 mile and 50 yards—Divinia won, Frank Wood second, Oriana third.

Vanderbilt Wins a Race.

PARIS, April 20.—W. K. Vanderbilt's Marigold, with Nash Turner up, won the Prix Simonian at St. Cloud today.

Results of Marathon Race.

Boston, Mass., April 20.—Of fifty-five sturdy runners who started from Ashland at noon today in the Boston Athletic association's annual twenty-five mile run to this city, known as the Marathon race, forty crossed the finish line, with John C. Lorden of the Cambridgeport gymnasium winner. Samuel A. Mellor Jr. of the Mohawk Athletic club of New York finished second. He won the race last year. Michael Spring of the Pastime club was third.

SMALL CROWD AT TRACK.

BETTING TROUBLE INTERFERES WITH LAKESIDE ATTENDANCE.

Jockey Berkson Is Seriously Injured by the Fall of Maxille and Is Taken to the Hospital Suffering from Concussion of the Brain — Bondage Easily Captures the Feature Event, with Owenton in Second Place—Other Results.

Racing at Lakeside was an unprofitable proposition to Managers Condon and O'Leary yesterday, as the attendance was the smallest in the history of the track and the betting naturally the lightest. The removal of the betting booths and the reports that there would be no booking had their effect on the patrons. Those who took a chance at betting found the bookies awaiting them on chairs ready to register bets, but without giving out marked tickets. Kid Weller was in charge as usual until after the third race, when he was arrested and taken to Hammond, Tom Quinn taking his place for the remaining three races. He will probably have charge today.

The first serious accident of the meeting occurred in the first race, when Maxille, owned by C.R. St. Clair, fell, a hundred yards from the start, throwing Jockey Berkson heavily. The boy was carried to the jockey room, where, on examination, he was found to have a triple fracture of the left collar bone and concussion of the brain. Berkson was removed to the Garfield Park sanitarium, and late last night was reported better. The mare was at first thought to be dead, as she lay on the track motionless for some time, but when she regained her feet it was found she had escaped injury. The race was won by Dr. Worth, who led from start to finish.

The feature event, a mile dash, was captured by Bondage, who was disqualified last Saturday for fouling Albula. The winner was easily the best. Phillips got him tangled up at the start and was last away. He took the overland route, overhauled his field before reaching the last eighth, and won with a length to spare. The good horse Owenton finished second, with Albula third.

Burnie Bunton, who was beaten by St. Minor and Scorpio on the opening day of the meeting, showed some of her old time speed in the fourth race, in which she galloped in front of her field from flag fall to finish.

Notes of the Lakeside Track.

Frank Doss, the well known horseman, is seriously ill at the Hawthorne track.

Mrs. H. Arthur's filly, Philo, a candidate for the American Derby, is seriously sick at Lakeside with lung fever.

Alaska, ch. g., by Fellowcharm—Sister to Ruth Ryan, owned by A. M. Linnell, died from lung fever at the Lakeside track yesterday morning.

Jockey Booker was indefinitely suspended yesterday. Booker rode Miss Lizo last Saturday and finished among the also rans, while yesterday she ran over her field on the end and won handily.

TALENT IS HIT AT AQUEDUCT.

Only One Favorite Manages to Reach the Wire First—Canarsie Stakes to Palm Bearer.

New York, April 20.—[Special.]—Only one favorite was successful at Aqueduct today and the layers got back some of the money they have lost since the opening of the meeting. Another crowd of 8,000 persons turned out, attracted by the perfect weather and excellence of the card.

The Canarsie stakes for 2 year olds, at four and a half furlongs, provided the most sensational finish of the afternoon. It was a lively betting affair, in which R. W. Walden's double entry, Petunia and Contentious, ruled favorite at 11 to 5, with Frank Farrell's Nameoki second choice at 16 to 5, and Foxhall P. Keene's Palm Bearer third in favor at fours. Spring and Woodhart were scratched, but Bronx and Ballycastle were added, making a field of ten.

Aqueduct Summaries.

First race, 5 furlongs—Flying Buttress, 102 pounds [Minder], 7 to 1, won; Royal, 123 [O'Neil], 16 to 5, second; Demurrer, 120 [Haack], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:14. Syrlin, Himself, Sun Shower, and Captivator also ran. New York left at post.

Second race, 4½ furlongs, selling—Rombino, 98 pounds [Redfern], 8 to 5, won; Bruceville, 102 [Odom], 6 to 1, second; Mimon, 94 [J. Robson], 20 to 1, third. Time, :57½. Mildred L. M., Evelyn Arnold, Dixie Paradise, Symphony, Aloom R., E. C. Runte, Atwood, Sunglint, Equity, Thunderbay, and King's Oaks also ran.

Third race, 7 furlongs, selling—Animosity, 105 pounds [H. Callahan], 20 to 1, won; Torchlight, 118 [Minder], 20 to 1, second; Past, 103 [Desouza], 7 to 2, third. Time, 1:28 3-5. Miladi Love, Louise Elston, Mezzo, Musidora, Caledonite, Alpaca, Breaker, Cloche d'Or, Viviani, and San Andres also ran.

Fourth race, the Canarsie stakes, 4½ furlongs—Palm Bearer, 107 pounds [Gannon], 4 to 1, won; Nameoki, 110 [Hoar], 16 to 5, second; Ninepin, 107 [Minder], 10 to 1, third. Time, :55. Contentious, Knob Hampton, Petunia, Bronx, Interlude, Ballycastle, and Charlie Fisher also ran.

Fifth race, 7 furlongs, selling—Kickshaw, 102 pounds [O'Neil], 4 to 1, won; Oclawaha, 110 [J. Martin], 4 to 1, second; Rostand, 104 [Gannon], 5 to 1, third. Time, 1:28. Rene, J. H. Sloan, Squanto, Mosketo, Bride Card, Graden, Imperious, Benduro, Jovo, and Fabius also ran.

Sixth race, 5½ furlongs—Saccharometer, 111 pounds [Gannon], 6 to 1, won; Illyria, 114 [Odom], 4 to 1, second; Courtmaid, 109 [J. Martin], 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:07 4-5. Alan, Athlana, Showman, Twin Rose, Drop o' Rye, Pittacus, Lorina, and Navasota also ran.

DURNELL AND HERZ MAY SPLIT.

Report That There Is a Disagreement—Prince of Endurance Sold to Brown.

Memphis, Tenn., April 20.—[Special.]—Durnell & Herz have sold their American Derby candidate, Prince of Endurance, to R. H. Brown of New York, who bought If You Dare and Dr. Loder from the firm some time ago. There is a well founded rumor that Durnell will sever his connection with Herz when the stable reaches Worth the last of this week. The executive committee of the New Memphis Jockey club was to have continued the investigation of the charges which Jockey Coburn made against Emil Herz that the latter had asked him to pull If You Dare some days ago, but on account of the sickness of President Montgomery the inquiry was postponed.

ANOTHER MATCH AT MEMPHIS.

Two Year Olds Ed Tierney and Molinos to Meet Tomorrow for $500 Purse.

Memphis, Tenn., April 20.—[Special.]—A match has been arranged between John W. Schorr's Molinos and John Fay's Ed Tierney, which defeated the former by a narrow margin in the Memphis stake on Saturday. The club will add $500 and the race will be run on Wednesday if the track is good. The weights will be 110 pounds each. Bullman will ride the Schorr horse and Coburn Ed Tierney.

Bardolph Only a Sprinter.

Nashville, Tenn., April 20.—[Special.]—Four of the local candidates for the Cumberland Derby were given their final preparation this afternoon. The course was heavy. The Gerst colt, Fore and Aft, was the only one to go the Derby route, nine furlongs. He negotiated the distance nicely in 1:59½, with 115 pounds up. Barca was sent one mile in 1:47, and breezed out the distance in 2:04. The Gorman & Bauer colts, Bardolph and Sinner Simon, reeled off a mile in 1:50¼. The former stopped to a walk, and is a doubtful proposition over the route. He will not accept the issue, Bellew having decided on Sinner Simon. George Hendrie's colt breezed three-quarters in 1:25 as a preliminary to his final preparation tomorrow.

Belmont Driving Club Meeting.

The promoters of the Belmont Driving club held an informal meeting last night to take action on 110 applications for membership. It was the intention of the charter members to limit the membership to sixty-five at $25 each for the season of six months. There is a possibility the membership will be increased. This will be decided at a meeting to be held Thursday night. The grounds selected for the new sportsman's club is the old Electric park, which is large enough for a half mile track, a grand stand, and a clubhouse, all of which will be built immediately.

Mrs. Corrigan Hurt in a Runaway.

Lexington, Ky., April 20.—[Special.]—In a runaway at the farm of her husband today, Mrs. Edward Corrigan was painfully hurt. She had started to the city driving a spirited horse, which became unmanageable and ran away. The vehicle was smashed and Mrs. Corrigan thrown against the stone turnpike, striking on her face and head. Her face was badly cut and bruised. Mr. Corrigan arrived from Louisville tonight and took Dr. Simmons to assist the country doctors in dressing the wounds, which are not serious.

Featherstone String Goes East.

Lexington, Ky., April 20.—[Special.]—The racing string of Millionaire A. Featherstone, consisting of twenty-five horses, left here on a special train today in charge of Trainer Julius Bauer for Westchester. Among the horses were the noted Black Fox, the 4 year olds Igniter, Arsenal, and Disadvantage, and the 3 year olds Peeper, Ingold, Boundling, Pebble, Mesmer, Mary Street, and Hymettus. The horses have been wintering at Kenmore farm and are in good condition.

Foals of Royal Breeding.

Lexington, Ky., April 20.—[Special.]—At J. B. Haggins' Elmendorf farm today the brood mare Phida, by Onondaga, dam Maria D., by Lisbon, foaled a bay colt by imp. Bathampton. Phida is a sister to Ornament. Marechel Neil, by Hanover, dam Markerine by Algerine, has foaled a bay filly by imp. Semphonius. She is a sister to The Commoner and is owned by Harry Stanhope.

SPLIT IN BOWLING RANKS.

Rival Bodies Meet at Mussey's, but Fail to Reach an Agreement—New Party Is Formed.

As a result of a meeting of the new Chicago Bowling association, held last night at Mussey's, there is a split in the local ranks. Godfred Langhenry and Frank Pasdeloup, the local members of the American Bowling congress, took exception to the methods used in organizing the new body and refused to sanction it. The players who were instrumental in forming the new body refused to recede from their position, and finally withdrew from the meeting.

Langhenry then called a meeting of those remaining and formed an organization, with Ollie Leonard as president and J. G. Bransfield as secretary.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and bylaws, and will report at a meeting to be held May 12 at the Sherman house.

Opening games in the Commercial Bowling league's championship tournament were played at Mussey's alleys last night and drew a large crowd. The Grocers won two games from the Coal league, and the Business Men two from the Hardware players. Edwards of the Coal league won the prize for high game for the night with 224. Scores:

Business M.	804	869	781	Hardware	794	830	840

NORTHWEST.

Wahoo	979	951	941	Atlas	811	906	894

The second series in the West Side individual tournament was rolled last night, Ritter, who rolled at De Proft's alleys, leading with 1,012. Other good scores were: Steers, 996; Funk, 988; and Gunderson, 969.

Play in the Illinois Bowling association tournament last night failed to change the standing of the leaders.

Senior Girls Are Champions.

By overwhelmingly defeating the junior college basketball team yesterday afternoon the senior college coeds of the University of Chicago won the silver cup offered by Miss Dudley, women's physical director, and the banner offered by Coach Stagg. The score was 18 to 4. The seniors had things their own way almost from the start, the juniors only once putting up a stiff defense. The score at the end of the first half was 14 to 2. The star work of the game was done by Miss Agnes Wayman, captain of the senior team, who threw six goals from the field. The junior five showed excellent team work, but was woefully inaccurate in throwing.

Cricket Club Elects Officers.

The Chicago Cricket association held its annual meeting last night at the Wayside Inn, and the following officers were elected: President, Frank Bennett, Douglas Park club; first vice president, T. Waldron, Hyde Park Cricket and Athletic association; second vice president, F. Kelly, Pullman Cricket club; secretary-treasurer, T. Piddard, Douglas Park club. One new club, the Chicago Thistle Cricket and Athletic association, was admitted to membership.

Lake High's Victory Protested.

The championship title of the Girls' Basketball league, which was won by Lake High last Saturday, will be protested at the meeting of the high school board of control this afternoon by the Hyde Park team. The Lake team defeated Hyde Park at the women's gymnasium at the University of Chicago by a score of 6 to 5. The Hyde Park girls claim Umpire Post refused to allow Miss Hazel Page to try for a free throw when the rules give her the right. Yesterday morning the Hyde Park management received a letter from Umpire Post, who said he was mistaken in the decision.

Brunswick Makes Good Run.

Wadsworth defeated Brunswick, 50 to 42, in the Mussey three cushion carom tournament last night. Brunswick made a high run of 7. Riley and Wheeler, each with two games won and none lost, play tonight.

ATHLETES STAR AT AUDITORIUM.

Annual Gymnastic Display of the Y. M. C. A. Pleases a Large Crowd.

WEIRD DUMBBELL DRILL.

Fancy Figures Are Executed by the Performers—Fun in Potato Race.

Grand opera was succeeded by grand athletics at the Auditorium last night. Fencers, wrestlers, runners, jumpers, gymnasts, and athletes galore trod the boards on which for two weeks the stars of the operatic world performed. The occasion was the tenth annual athletic and gymnastic display of the central department of the Young Men's Christian association, which proved the best in the history of the organization.

A crowd of over 3,000 viewed the events, and so great was the interest that most of the spectators remained during the four hours of continuous performance. From start to finish the stage was a scene of activity. The representation of a daily scene in the gymnasium was the curtain raiser, followed by a dumb bell drill with a musical accompaniment. Led by Director G. W. Ehler, 130 picked athletes went through a finely executed series of movements, finishing with a maze of running figures. The scene was animated, the well trained contestants, dressed in white uniforms, with the blue sash and star of the department across their breasts, forming a picturesque panorama.

Fun in the Potato Race.

It remained for the interclass relay potato race to furnish the first fun of the night. The slippery canvas on the stage made it impossible for the contestants to turn with certainty. Falls were as frequent as if the race had been for bananas instead of wooden potatoes. A wand drill for the junior, intermediate, and working boys' classes brought out a number of embryo Sandows, who went through the movements with grace and precision.

Juniors from the Evanston, West side, and central departments kept the crowd in a state of uproar in the relay potato race. West side was represented by a number of tadpole athletes, whose maiden efforts were a source of much amusement. Central was behind at the start, but gradually made up the lost ground and won.

Fails to Beat World Record.

Two invitation events were well patronized. W. R. Knox, after winning the pole vault at 10 feet 10 inches, cleared 11 feet, and then had a try for the world's indoor record of 11 feet 1¾ inches. In this he was unsuccessful. The horizontal bar contest gave the German turners a chance to show their skill, and John Duha received first prize.

The fencing, wrestling, and other exercises were watched with interest, but the crowd, which was distinctly central in its preferences, had a chance to let loose when their basketball team played rings around the champion west side team, and won by a score of 25 to 14.

Summary of Events.

Interclass potato race—Won by 8:15 class; 6:15 class second.

Junior relay potato race—Won by Central department; West Side, second; Evanston, third.

20 yards run, Central championship—Won by M. G. Cirkle; E. F. Larson, second. Time, :02 3-5.

20 yards hurdle race—Won by C. S. Jacobs; W. E. Ferriara, second; William Tourtelot, third. Time, :04 2-5.

Invitation horizontal bar contest—Won by John Duha, Central Turn verein; H. Vockeroh, Chicago Turn gemeinde, second; E. E. Utz, Central Y. M. C. A., third.

Running high jump, championship—Won by L. Clapper; C. E. Clapper, second; E. F. Larson, third. Height, 5 feet 9 inches.

Invitation pole vault—Won by W. R. Knox, Milwaukee Athletic club.

Wrestling, championship, lightweight—Won by C. E. Clapper; welterweight, by F. Haines.

110 yards potato race—Won by R. H. Johnson; W. B. Tourtelot, second; L. S. Taylor, third. Time, :22.

220 yard potato race, championship—Won by E. M. Tourtelot; W. F. Knudson, second; G. Gustafson, third. Time, :45 1-5.

Basketball—Central, 25; West Side, 14.

FORBES TOO MUCH FOR LOVE.

Bantamweight Champion Has All the Better of the Contest at Philadelhpia.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 20.—[Special.]—It was thought that against Tommy Love of this city, a bantam who went through the western country cleaning up all the boys he met, Harry Forbes, the Chicago champion, would have his hands full at the windup of the Washington Sporting club tonight. The reverse proved to be the case. Forbes did not stop Love as he did Jimmy Devine the week before, but he clearly demonstrated that Love was not in his class. Love, moreover, deserves credit for putting up a rattling good bout against overwhelming odds. He did the best he knew, but that best was made to look poor compared with the work of Forbes. In the fifth round Forbes dropped Love with a short left hand hook. Love was up in an instant, apparently much the worse for the punch, but Forbes did not make the slightest attempt to follow his advantage. Forbes did cut loose in the sixth round and had Love in pretty bad shape when the gong sounded. The latter was pretty badly punished about the body.

SILER'S GOSSIP OF THE RING.

Attel and McGovern Matched to Fight at Fort Erie on Decoration Day.

[BY GEORGE SILER.]

Abe Attel, the clever San Francisco featherweight, and Terry McGovern were yesterday matched to fight before the International club of Fort Erie on Decoration day afternoon. The articles call for the boys to weigh in at 126 pounds at 3 o'clock, the purse to be divided on the basis of 75 per cent to the winner and 25 per cent to the loser. This lets out young Mowatt, who was seeking a match with McGovern.

Billy Gee, Otto Sieloff's manager, yesterday posted $500 as a forfeit to match Otto against any lightweight in the country, barring Joe Gans, at 133 pounds, weigh in at 3 o'clock. Henry Fagin's manager talked some of accepting Gee's challenge and was offered $25 to make the match, but he weakened when called upon.

Sieloff has a match on with Mike Ward of Sarnia, Ont., who recently defeated Fagin. The bout is scheduled to take place at Port Huron, Mich., on April 30.

Billy Rotchford and George Monroe will contest ten rounds at Kansas City next Thursday night, and on May 10 Rotchford tackles Jimmy Kidwell for ten rounds at West Baden for a percentage of the gate receipts and a $100 side-bet.

Benny Yanger, accompanied by his manager, John Hertz, and Emil Thiry, his trainer, left for Cincinnati last night, where Yanger will prepare for his fight with Kid Broad, which takes place at Louisville on May 24.

O'Brien and Walcott Draw.

Boston, Mass., April 20.—Jack O'Brien of Philadelphia gave Joe Walcott ten rounds of fast fighting before the Health and Physical Culture club tonight, and a draw was announced, as both men were on their feet. O'Brien broke a knuckle on the left hand in the second round, but with this handicap he gave Walcott a terrific pounding and compelled him to clinch repeatedly.

Jabez White Outpoints Sullivan.

LONDON, April 20.—Before the National Sporting club tonight Jabez White of Birmingham beat "Spike" Sullivan of New York on points after fifteen rounds of hard fighting. The men weighed in at 137 pounds and the "go" was for a purse of $2,760. White has accepted an offer of the Yosemite club of San Francisco for a bout with Jimmy Britt or Willie Fitzgerald in June.

Schuh Outpoints Furey.

Louisville, Ky., April 20.—George Schuh of Louisville was given the decision over Barney Furey of Cincinnati in a fifteen round bout tonight.

Acefull in the English Derby.

LONDON, April 20.—J. H. Martin will ride Herman B. Duryea's Acefull in the Derby.

A WASHINGTON, D. C., LADY

Makes a Remarkable Statement.

After Years of Sufferings from Acute Nervous Dyspepsia,

Paine's Celery Compound

Effects a Happy Cure.

Dyspepsia, one of humanity's most cruel enemies, is effectually cured by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. This tormenting disease is caused by acute inflammation of the nerves centered about the stomach. In dyspepsia nervous energy is wasted, and the entire digestive organism is deranged. The needs of dyspeptics may be summed up as follows: The great nervous system requires strengthening; the blood now charged with impurities must be cleansed, so that it will flow healthily and in abundance; the stomach, weak and unreliable, must be toned up. Paine's Celery Compound in the springtime will accomplish all that is needed for the dyspeptic sufferer, and banish troubles that make daily life unbearable. Mrs. Ada Cochrane, Washington, D. C., says:

"I have been for years a sufferer from acute attacks of nervous dyspepsia, and during the past winter I heard so much about your Paine's Celery Compound I decided to try what it would do for me. I used less than two bottles and experienced relief almost from the first dose I took. I did not find it necessary to finish the second bottle. I therefore do not hesitate to add my hearty indorsement to the many thousands of testimonials you already have."

FOR WOMEN

Much That Every Woman Desires to Know

About Sanative Antiseptic Cleansing

And about the Care of the Skin, Scalp, Hair and Hands.

Too much stress cannot be placed on the great value of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent in the antiseptic cleansing of the mucous surfaces and of the blood and circulating fluids, thus affording pure, sweet and economical local and constitutional treatment for weakening ulcerations, inflammations, itchings, irritations, relaxations, displacements, pains and irregularities peculiar to females. Hence the Cuticura remedies have a wonderful influence in restoring health, strength and beauty to weary women, who have been prematurely aged and invalided by these distressing ailments, as well as such sympathetic afflictions as anæmia, chlorosis, hysteria, nervousness and debility.

Women from the very first have fully appreciated the purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy which have made the Cuticura remedies the standard skin cures and humour remedies of the civilized world.

Millions of the women use Cuticura Soap, assisted by Cuticura Ointment, for preserving, purifying and beautifying the skin, for cleansing the scalp of crusts, scales and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening and soothing red, rough and sore hands, for annoying irritations, and ulcerative weaknesses, and for many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath and nursery.

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure

Costs Nothing If It Fails.

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer.

I am a specialist in Rheumatism, and have treated more cases than any other physician, I think. For 16 years I made 2,000 experiments with different drugs, testing all known remedies while searching the world for something better. Nine years ago I found a costly chemical in Germany which, with my previous discoveries, gives me a certain cure.

I don't mean that it can turn bony joints into flesh again; but it can cure the disease at any stage, completely and forever. I have done it fully 100,000 times.

I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism, and I will mail you an order on your druggist for six bottles Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure. Take it for a month at my risk. If it succeeds the cost is only $5.50. If it fails, I will pay the druggist myself—and your mere word shall decide it.

I mean that exactly. If you say the results are not what I claim, I don't expect a penny from you.

I have no samples. Any mere sample that can affect chronic Rheumatism must be drugged to the verge of danger. I use no such drugs, and it is folly to take them. You must get the disease out of the blood.

My remedy does that even in the most difficult, obstinate cases. It has cured the oldest cases that I ever met. And in all my experience—in all my 2,000 tests—I never found another remedy that would cure one chronic case in ten.

Write me and I will send you the order. Try my remedy for a month, as it can't harm you anyway. If it fails it is free.

Address Dr. Shoop, Box 670, Racine, Wis.

STRONG MARKET IN WHEAT

PRICE TENDENCY IS STILL TOWARD HIGHER LEVELS.

Armour Support Checks Local Selling and Big Decrease in Visible Supply, Local Shipping Sales, and Some Unfavorable Foreign Crop Reports Help the Advance—Corn Easier—Oats Higher Early on Covering, but React—Dull Market in Provisions.

A slight decline in English markets following the moderate advance here on Saturday prompted some local selling of wheat at the opening, and there was a decline of ¼c to ½c, but open support of both the May and July deliveries by Armour gave notice that the attitude of the bull interest had not been changed, and the market turned strong.

In the last hour the trade broadened, May going through 78c on Armour bidding, and an increasing number of shorts showed signs of uneasiness. The close, which was near top prices, showed gains of ⅝c for May, ½c for July, and ⅛-⅜c for September. May sold from 77⅝c to 78½c. After an early advance to 78⅝c, there was a quick break of ⅜c on the pit, fear that the open Armour support was to be followed by Armour selling, but the market worked back to a still higher price, reaching 78½c and closing at 78⅜-78½c. July closed at 72⅞c.

The northwest markets were inclined to be easy, but St. Louis was strong, the May there selling up 2c on shipping demand and covering by shorts, and the advance there helped start this market up. There were bullish helps of various kinds, notably a big decrease of 2,893,000 bu in the visible supply, which is now down to 37,271,000 bu.

Shipping Sales Here.

There was a shipping demand for the decreasing stocks of contract wheat here, a drop in lake rates making it possible to sell two cargoes of 220,000 bu to the seaboard. St. Louis reported sales of 100,000 bu No. 2 red, and Toledo sales of a similar amount. There were a few loads worked from here via the gulf, about 64,000 bu, and the seaboard reported export sales of 200,000 bu. There were some unfavorable foreign crop reports, the drought in Spain practically unrelieved, and serious damage threatened by high temperatures. The weather in France was a little more favorable, but in Germany it was still wintry and unpromising. Reports from Minneapolis that the mills which closed down on Friday would probably start up today robbed the bears of one help they had been counting on.

World's shipments were heavy, 9,098,000 bu, including 2,978,000 bu from Russia. The large Russian shipments were responsible for a decline of ⅛-¼d in the Liverpool and London market, but stocks on ocean passage are still diminishing, the decrease this week 544,000 bu to a total of 32,952,000 bu. Paris was ¼c to ½c higher, Berlin ½c higher, Antwerp unchanged. Conditions for the growing crop in this country were favorable, Nebraska getting general showers. There was a small increase in the interior movement, primary receipts 376,000 bu, compared with 295,000 bu a year ago. Clearances were 660,000 bu. The trade in May was not of large volume, the buying led by Armour, Logan-Bryan, and McReynolds. Milmine-Bodman were large sellers of July. Harris-Gates, Mitchell, and Armour buyers.

Corn Trade Narrow.

The corn market showed signs of strength early, July coming within the smallest possible fraction of reaching 45c, but the volume of trade was light at all times, and there was enough selling pressure to cost the market all its advance and close it lower. May sold off to 44c, but closed at 44⅛c, a loss of ¼c. July closed at 44⅝c, its premium a shade lower. The weather was a little more favorable for farm work, but receipts continue light, 80 cars inspected in, with 3 contract, and 90 estimated for today. The cash market on an entirely local demand was steady to ½c higher. The early strength was stimulated by large local shipments of 1,281,000 bu. There was a decrease in the visible supply of 625,000 bu, and local stocks in store decreased 614,000 bu. Primary receipts were 280,000 bu to 262,000 bu last year. Export sales at the seaboard were 64,000 bu, and clearances 445,000 bu. World's shipments were 2,743,000 bu, and the amount on ocean passage decreased 344,000 bu, to 8,525,000 bu. Liverpool futures were steady to ⅛d higher. There was some selling of July by provision interests.

Early Bulge in Oats.

Oats were strong early on continued showery conditions in Illinois and Iowa, and further covering by shorts. May sold up ⅝c to 35⅝c, but there was considerable realizing on the advance, and it was all lost at the close. Deferred deliveries were stronger, July up ⅛c, and September ⅝c. There was buying of May early by McReynolds, Harris-Gates, Farnum-Sickel, of July by Wagner and Wrenn. On the upturn McReynolds sold May and Wagner July, and the pit thought Patten was adding to his line of July shorts. It was generally reported that the country was not selling any more freely on the advance, but receipts show some increase. There were 162 cars inspected in, with 13 standard, and 210 are estimated for today. The cash market was steady. Shipping sales, 40,000 bu. Local stocks decreased 310,000 bu to 407,000 bu, and the visible supply decreased 200,000 bu to 6,479,000 bu. Clearances were 11,000 bu. Export sales at the seaboard, 100,000 bu.

All Provisions Rule Quiet.

In the provision list ribs were the only articles showing much strength, and here the advance, as compared with Saturday, was only 5c. Pork and lard closed 2½c better on the July, the most active delivery. Demand for the ribs came mainly from small packing interests, the larger ones doing the selling. Pork was more than ordinarily dull, and so was lard. Hog receipts were 35,000, yards prices being 5c lower. Estimated today, 19,000. The eight western packing points reported 55,200 hogs, against 54,300 the previous week and 65,000 a year ago. Average weights were 3 lbs heavier than a week ago, but 5 lbs under last year. Shipments of cured meats were 2,685,000 lbs, against 2,687,000 lbs a year ago, and of lard, 1,337,000 lbs, as compared with 900,000 lbs last year.

Rye was fairly firm and steady, the May 50c bid and held at 50½c. The July was offered at 49⅝c. No. 2 regular was nominally 51@52c. Receipts were 19 cars. There were 24,000 bu withdrawn from regular elevators.

Barley was firm on the better grades and dull for poor. Receipts, 22 cars. Screenings quotably 30@38c. Feed barley nominal at 36@39c local billed. Malting low grade quotably 45@46c, poor, musty, thin, and dirty around 42@43c, fair to good, 48@50c, and high grade to choice 51@54c.

No quotable changes were made in timothy seed. Contract was called $3.70, with $3.30 bid for September. The cash range was from $2.25@3.00. Contract clover remained $12.000, little or nothing being done.

Flax seed was also a slow market, though spot seed was 1c higher, No. 1 northwestern $1.12, and southwestern $1.09. May was offered at $1.10, with $1.08 bid. There were 15 cars here, 12 at Minneapolis, and 15 at Duluth.

Trade Gossip on 'Change.

Foreign weather and crop conditions are still matters of prime importance to the wheat trader. Broomhall reported more favorable weather in England and France, but snow in Germany. Of the outlook in Spain he cabled: "The rains mentioned in our report last Tuesday proved to be insufficient to relieve the droughty condition. High temperatures since then have aggravated the injurious effects of the drought, and crops are threatened with serious damage." A Paris cable to Harris-Gates said: "Weather has improved today, but for a week past we had sharp frosts, which made crop prospects less favorable. It is too early to make an estimate on our crop as yet, but it is feared that the wheat crop has been further damaged by recent frosts."

Lake rates dropped ⅝c yesterday, the supply of vessels being larger than that of cargoes, and this enabled shippers to work two cargoes of No. 1 northern wheat, 220,000 bu, on which bids had been a little out of line.

There were rumors yesterday of private settlements of May wheat. There are always such rumors when any "deal" is in progress, and while they could not be confirmed, the fact they were in circulation bore testimony to the existence of the general belief that Armour has enough May bought to control the market, and that shorts will have to settle sooner or later either in the pit or in private.

Concerning the sharp advance in St. Louis May wheat, Gardner wired: "Stocks are getting low here. There is a good short interest still out. The market is getting bare of offerings and shorts are still coming in."

Some of the elevator interests operating in Illinois are predicting increased receipts of oats.

Mail advices from European grain dealers received yesterday by a local shipper discuss crop and market conditions as follows: "Paris, April 11.—The weather seems to be improved and we believe that the advance on your side, just as well as on our side, is partly due to speculation. It is true farmers here have up to now been reserved with their offers, but we believe that after the holidays these offers will be more liberal, and that consequently we shall have a reaction. As regards the future crop, there are always some complaints, but in any case we do not think that the result will be as good as last year." "Berlin—The demand for foreign wheat is slow and not to fill up any lack of wheat, but only to better the quality of flour. The outlook of the new crop is not discussed much yet—it is too early. No doubt the percentage of replowing is higher than usually, but whether or not it is a material damage that will result does not trouble the trade much, as the character of the complaints does not imply great anxiety."

Estimated arrivals for today are: Wheat, 45 cars; corn, 90 cars; oats, 210 cars; hogs, 19,000.

Capt. Phillips, who returned to Kansas last week, writes from Sedgwick to reassure any of his friends who might have had doubts as to the Kansas wheat crop, that weather and soil are perfect, and the promise for a crop of fully 100,000,000 bu.

W. J. Rarden has joined the staff of Knight-Donnelley, and will have charge of their floor business.

Houses having a lively interest in the oats crop are in receipt of discouraging advices from the central and southern parts of the state, where many sections are reported so flooded that farm work cannot be prosecuted, and where the early seeded oats are being drowned out. This means a good deal of reseeding and a late crop in sections where the damage has been done.

IN THE NEW YORK MARKETS.

Quotations on Dry Goods, Coffee, Tin, Copper, Lead, and Other Special Lines.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The improved conditions of weather have been reflected to a slight extent in the dry goods trade both at first and second hands. The latter have shown materially more activity, and, while buyers are confining their purchases to actual requirements, it is evident that conditions show an improvement which is likely to be reflected in all departments in an increasing degree.

Lead—In London, £12 12s 6d; here, $4.67½. Spelter, £22 15s in London, $5.65 in New York. Iron—Glasgow, 54s; Middlesboro, 48s 10½d; locally, No. 1 foundry northern, $22.25@22.75; No. 2 foundry northern, $20.75@21.25; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern soft, $21.50@22.00.

Coffee, Spot and Futures.

The market for coffee futures opened steady at unchanged prices, but became slightly more active, and gained a partial 5 points under firm European cables, small port clearings, and interior receipts and covering, reacted just before the close under liquidation, and closed easy, net 5@10 points lower. Sales were reported of 29,250 bags, including May at 3.50@3.95c; September, 4.30@4.35c; October, 4.30@4.45c; November, 4.40@4.50c; December, 4.75@4.80c; January, 4.80@4.85c; March, 4.95@5.00c.

Poultry—Alive—Unsettled. Dressed, steady; fowls, 13@13½c; turkeys, 15c.

PREFERRED ADVANCED FROM 44 TO 49 ON GOOD BUYING.

Talk of Dividend and Desire to Place the Stock on a Higher Level Given as Occasion for the Activity—Pneumatic Tool Dividend Deferred but Not Passed—Earnings in Excess of Corresponding Period Last Year—U. S. Steel Annual Meeting.

American Can preferred was sharply advanced, both in New York and Chicago, yesterday. The buying was through brokers who usually act for the financial insiders in the company. The preferred advanced from 44 to 49, and closed at the high price. Locally Sidney C. Love & Co., Logan & Bryan, and E. L. Brewster & Co. were the buyers. The Logan & Bryan people frequently have large orders in the grain market, given by D. G. Reid.

Transactions on the curb in New York amounted to 12,000 shares common and preferred. The advance then was 1¼ on common and 4 on preferred.

The rise in the stock was accompanied by talk of the commencement of dividends on the preferred. The stories from New York were to the effect that 3½ per cent would be paid. The annual meeting will be held on April 28, and at the meeting it was asserted dividend action would be taken. This announcement has been made so often that nothing except the advance in the shares gave it any color of authority at this time. The preferred stock has been selling low, and there was some indication that the people directing the financial affairs of the company wished to put the shares on a higher basis.

In a general way it was known the physical condition of the property had been brought to a high state of efficiency. But that has been an expensive operation, and if the managers proceed on the same lines with reference to surplus that they follow in the case of the Rock Island the chances of a 3½ per cent dividend at this time would seem to be remote.

Tool Dividend Deferred, Not Passed.

It was learned yesterday from a member of the executive committee of the Chicago Pneumatic Tool company that at the meeting in New York last week the dividend was not passed but deferred. It is possible, therefore, that, through misunderstanding of the action of the board, some needless heavy losses have been sustained by those who acted without proper knowledge of the position of the company.

The factional troubles within the board of directors have been referred to three members of the executive committee, they being John A. Lynch, Charles H. Wacker, and W. J. Chalmers. No doubt is entertained that this committee will be able to satisfactorily arbitrate the differences. It was learned yesterday from one of the members that the earnings of the company for the March quarter of 1903 were in excess of the profits for the corresponding quarter in 1902. He also said the current dividend had been earned.

Subscriptions to German Loan.

Offerings of the imperial German 3 per cent loan, amounting to $72,500,000, made in Chicago through Otis, Wilson & Co., resulted in subscriptions here and in contiguous territory to the extent of 3,000,000 marks. About half the sum was subscribed for in Chicago. The percentage of allotments to subscriptions will be approximately 2 per cent, since the loan was greatly oversubscribed at home.

The United States and Great Britain made light subscriptions. France, on the contrary, was a heavy subscriber. But the loan was oversubscribed several times in Germany alone. Applications already reported amount to $3,438,850,000.

Mergenthaler Profits Fall Off.

The profits of the British Mergenthaler company for the last year were £131,108, being the lowest yet reported. In 1899 they were £162,290, and in 1900 £200,027, and in 1901 £214,511. The reserve fund was drawn down to the extent of £29,368 in order to pay the common dividend. The loss in profits is attributed to severe competition and to continuance of depression in the British printing trade.

Steel Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the United States Steel corporation was held in Hoboken, N. J., yesterday. The acts of the directors, the finance committee, and the executive committee during the last year were approved. These proceedings included purchase of the stock of the Union Steel company and the stock and bonds of the Troy Steel Products company.

Mr. Gary said that after due investigation it was decided that the acquisition of the Troy property was desirable, particularly to supply the trade in Worcester and several other cities in Massachusetts.

The following directors were reëlected for three years:

Francis H. Peabody,	P. A. B. Widener,
Charles Steele,	James H. Reed,
William H. Moore,	H. C. Frick,
Norman B. Ream,	William Edenborn.

The election of the following directors in the course of the year was ratified: James Gayley for the three years ending in 1904, in place of Percival Roberts Jr., resigned, and Robert Bacon of the first class for the three years ending in 1905, in place of William E. Dodge, resigned.

The meeting was attended by seventy-five stockholders, representing 1,884,894 shares of preferred and 2,305,168 shares of common stock. The meeting was harmonious throughout.

The directors reported the gross earnings for the year at $560,510,479 and the net at $133,208,763. The company ratified the change in the company's fiscal year to correspond with the calendar year and the proposition to spend $36,000,000 in improvements that are expected to add $7,000,000 in increased earnings and to reduce expenses by $5,000,000 more was approved.

Dividends Declared.

The Georgia Southern and Florida railway has declared a regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent on its first preferred and 2 per cent on its second preferred stock, payable May 5. Books close April 25.

The Pullman company has declared a quarterly dividend of $2.00 a share from net earnings, payable May 15, to stockholders of record at the close of business April 30, 1903. Checks will be mailed.

The Allis-Chalmers company has declared a quarterly dividend of 1¾ per cent on its preferred stock, payable May 1. Books close April 25, and reopen May 2.

Montreal Light and Power Bonds.

The Montreal Light, Heat, and Power company, capitalized at $17,000,000, has just issued $3,414,000 first collateral trust 5 per cent gold bonds to pay in part for the Lachine Rapids Hydraulic and Land company and its affiliated companies, which have recently been acquired. The Montreal Light, Heat, and Power company now has full control of all the gas, electric light, and power companies operating in the city of Montreal, serving a population in excess of 330,000. For the last fiscal year the company reports combined gross earnings of $2,324,942, and net earnings of $1,186,748, leaving a surplus of $762,618, after paying all interest charges. The company has sold its issue of $3,414,000 of bonds to N. W. Harris & Co. and the Bank of Montreal, who are now offering them for public subscription.

Review of Foreign Exchange.

Concerning the foreign exchange market Schumacher & Co. say:

"The fluctuations preceding the present advance were due to the uncertainties of the money market and the improvement in the relations between the subtreasury and the banks, from which latter a lower money market is expected. Whether it will be permanent or temporary is a matter of conjecture, but on this will depend the permanence of the present advance movement in exchange.

"It is unusual to find our bank reserves so low as they are at this period, when money has been expected to be plentiful. That the situation is different from what was expected is probably due to the mass of undigested stocks and other securities pressing upon the market and absorbing an abnormal portion of the funds which should have been available for legitimate trade purposes.

"The supply of commercial bills is growing smaller and smaller from week to week, while the demand is becoming more and more general. From all appearances a great part of our distributed securities will have to be carried by Europe, just as they were last year, and the bills drawn against them will go towards supplying this demand."

Eastman Kodak Earnings.

Federal Trust Earnings.

Profits of the Federal Trust and Savings bank for the first year of its existence are estimated at 7½ per cent on the $2,000,000 of capital. The earnings now are at the rate of $15,000 a month net. For the first ten months the total profits were $122,000, or a trifle over 6 per cent, leaving the remaining two months to earn the additional 1½ per cent. The bank has been fortunate in that it has had no losses.

New Bank Will Open Today.

The Hamilton National bank will open its doors today in the quarters formerly occupied by the Merchants' National in La Salle street, between Washington and Randolph. The bank has a capital of $500,000, and will start with some good accounts.

Money Market Conditions.

The probable course of the money market is being influenced by happenings such as the funding loan of $5,000,000 made necessary to take up outstanding paper of William Cramp & Sons' Ship and Engine Building company of Philadelphia. The company's paper has been floated in Chicago at 6 per cent. Now that there is seen the embarrassment under which the concern labored, although doing a large business, there will be a tendency to look still more carefully into commercial paper. There is scarcity of funds in the east for commercial as well as speculative purposes, and it doesn't escape the attention of the careful observer that the money market and money conditions in the east will bear watching.

Just now there is an easier feeling in Wall street. The subtreasury continues to lose to the banks. It had at the clearing house yesterday a debit of $987,063. The stock market, however, was quite heavy until the announcement that the Northern Securities company would be permitted to distribute dividends. This had a stimulating effect. But since the main question at issue has not been disturbed, a rally on account of the dividend modification has at best an insubstantial basis.

Alton Will Redeem Bonds.

The Chicago and Alton Railroad company announces that it will pay principal and the interest at maturity, May 1, of its outstanding sinking fund 6 per cent gold bonds of 1878. There are $1,653,000 of these bonds still outstanding. The railroad has two other issues which it may refund this year at a considerable saving.

Chicago Stocks.

Aside from the trading in American Can shares, the principal activity was in Boxboard preferred. The shares continued firm at 26.

The street railroad stocks were in better tone, City Railway closing at 215. Union Traction common sold at 8¼. Northwestern L common was a little better at 27, and a small lot of South Side Elevated sold at 106½.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Movement of Cattle, Hogs, Sheep, and Lambs, with the Range of Prices and Comparisons.

Monday brought a liberal run of live stock to the Chicago market. The receipts included 26,000 cattle, 35,000 hogs, and close to 25,000 sheep, many of the latter being reconsigned from western yards. The cattle trade ruled dull and generally lower; hogs opened on lower bids, but strengthened up and closed fully steady; sheep were dull and lower.

The following is a statement of the movement of live stock at the Chicago stockyards for the period indicated, with comparative figures:

Receipts—	Cattle.	Calves.	Hogs.	Sheep.

Cattle.

About the same number of cattle as arrived on the previous Monday met much different market conditions yesterday. The demand was slack and an outlet could only be had by further concessions, prices ruling weak to 10c lower than the close last week, and the close was dull. Absence of prime heavy steers and some hunting for them was noted. Export orders were not as liberal as a week ago, owing to a break in London and Liverpool prices. Top cattle here sold at $5.50, but they were not as good as the top-getters last week; bulk of steers, $4.60@5.35; bulk of cows, $3.25@3.75. Quotations:

Fancy steers	$5.25@5.50
Good to choice steers	4.85@5.25
Fair to good steers	4.50@4.90
Common to fair steers	4.00@4.50

Choice calves, 100@150 lbs	5.25@6.00
Common to good calves, 175@400 lbs	3.00@4.50

Hogs.

From a weak and lower opening, the hog market strengthened up, with the advance of the morning, and closing prices were mostly 10c higher than early bids, or fully steady to strong with the close of last week. The principal strength to the trade, was furnished by one of the big local packing concerns going down the line and cleaning up supplies as it went. Top for the day, $7.52½, and the bulk, $7.15@7.40. The quality was the best seen for several weeks. Quotations:

Good to choice, 245@400 lbs	$7.40@7.52½
Common to good, 245@400 lbs	7.10@7.30
Good to prime, 190@245 lbs	7.25@7.45

Mixed, 200@245 lbs	6.95@7.30
Light mixed, 160@200 lbs	6.75@7.10
Pigs	6.50@6.75

Sheep.

A large proportion of the sheep and lambs offered were forwarded from other markets. The demand was not favorable to 25,000 on offer, and prices ruled mostly 15@25c lower than late last week, although a few prime offerings held steady. Quotations:

Good to choice yearling wethers	$5.50@6.00
Good to choice wethers	5.50@6.00
Good shorn wethers	5.50@5.90
Good to choice ewes	5.00@5.75

IN FOREIGN MONEY MARKETS.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, and Securities in London, Paris, and Berlin.

LONDON, April 20.—Rates for money were some easier in the market today, and supplies were larger. Discounts were steady. Large receipts of gold are expected at the Bank of England.

Operators on the stock exchange were idle. The promise of cheaper money was mainly responsible for the strength of consols. Americans opened dull on the unsatisfactory bank statement and the anxiety concerning the Northern Securities decision. Southern Pacific was markedly weak, and Wabash was exceptionally firm. Later there was a general improvement and stocks closed firm. Grand Trunk improved. Rio Tintos were firm.

PARIS, April 20.—Prices on the bourse today opened heavy on continued selling. Only Rio Tintos showed a strong advance. The reports of the continued gravity of the Balkan and Moroccan situation led to heavy offers of Spanish, Turkish, and other securities, though internationals generally were firm. Rentes were irrègular, but made a slight advance. Kaffirs were heavy and inactive. The private rate of discount was 2 15-16.

BERLIN, April 20.—Transactions on the boerse today were curtailed owing to the derangement of the telegraph lines by the storm. Business generally was depressed and almost nominal. Canadian Pacific was slightly stimulated by London advices. Home funds were firm.

A GOOD MAN TO FOLLOW:
The stock of the United Verde Copper Company fifteen years ago sold at $1 a share and it now sells for $300 a share.
The stock of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company sold three years ago at $5 a share and it now sells for $25.
These two companies now produce nearly one-fourth the copper of the world.
Professor GEORGE A. TREADWELL was the first man to see their immense riches and value, and it was on his recommendation that investors put their money into the enterprises.
Professor Treadwell believes that the properties of the company which now bears his name are richer and more valuable than those of the United Verde or the Greene Consolidated, and he recommends the TREADWELL stock to his friends now with no less confidence than he recommended the United Verde and the Greene Consolidated stock to them then.
The stock is actively dealt in by the following houses:

Some Efforts to Hammer Out Amalgamated and St. Paul by Using Illness of H. H. Rogers — Both Properties Close Higher — Advances in Other Shares Influenced by Reports Showing Prosperity of Investment Industrials and Railways.

[BY A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, April 20.—[Special.]—The entire market was naturally dominated by the Northern Securities merger decision amendment. Several other elements had decisive influences in various directions.

That the bears were in a bad way for argument ammunition was borne out by the fact the principal reason offered for selling Amalgamated and St. Paul was the illness of H. H. Rogers, who has large holdings in both companies. Sellers declared it not improbable that the Rogers holdings in both companies might come upon the market, but friends and business associates of Mr. Rogers declare this is not the case, as the affairs of the Amalgamated Copper president are so arranged that whatever the contingency there will be no sales in the open market of his holdings.

Incidentally it is worth recording that St. Paul led the advance of the afternoon, with Copper not far behind.

One of the important developments of the day was the appearance in the market of what is popularly designated as high class investment buying, in which large insurance companies as well as important financial interests were conspicuous. The relaxation in money rates had some influence in this direction, but more potent still were the wonderfully prosperous conditions of various railroad and industrial corporations reported on all sides and suggesting in not a few cases higher dividends. This buying was well distributed, but its effect was more clearly shown in high priced shares, where, the supply being limited, any real demand promptly puts the prices up.

Cases in point were Brooklyn Union Gas, which rose 6 points on 300 shares; Consolidated Gas, up over 4 points on 3,800 shares; Westinghouse up 8½ on 100 shares; General Electric up 2⅝ on 1,200 shares.

The pool operating in Baltimore and Ohio continues to manipulate that stock up in hope of attracting a public following, using as a basis for the advance the admittedly large earnings of the system, in fact, something like 9 per cent now being shown on this stock. Talk of increased dividends, however, does not find favor in high semi-official circles.

A consistently strong stock today was Manhattan, which in the morning rose over 2 points and maintained the gain until the close. The impression in the morning was that the stock was advanced in order to permit selling of other parts of the list, but this theory did not seem well founded. The talk is that the old pool in Rock Island, composed of insiders, is again at work on that issue. The stock lately has been so much a plaything of speculative interests that it is not at present a favorite in the street.

IN NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, Railway Shares, and Other Securities in Wall Street.

NEW YORK, April 20.—The bond market was dull but quite steady. Last week's dealings in bonds reached an aggregate in the par value of $15,445,500, which is a decrease of no less than 46 per cent, compared with the corresponding period of last year. The total sales par value, $2,485,000. United States 3s, coupon, and the old 4s declined ¼. The new 4s advanced ¼ on the last call.

BUTTER PRICES RULE EASIER.

Receipts Growing Larger, Pasturage in All Sections Improving, and the Trade Becoming Bearish.

There was a decline of about ½c on butter prices yesterday. The receipts are liberal, the season is well advanced, and grass is making rapid headway under favorable weather. Consumption is good and the home retail trade is fairly satisfactory, but there is little outside demand, the declining tendency of prices keeping buyers out of the market, excepting to supply immediate requirements. The offerings of cheap butter, such as packing stock and roll, are small, and such goods hold steady, but all other descriptions are in ample supply and weak. Vegetables generally are steady. Strawberries were in liberal receipt, and trade active at about Saturday's prices.

MINNEAPOLIS MILLS RUN AGAIN.

Millers and Railroad Companies Reach an Agreement Over Question of Rates.

Minneapolis, Minn., April 20.—The shutdown of the Minneapolis flour mills, undertaken as a protest against discriminatory freight rates on flour as compared with wheat, has come to an end. While no formal concessions have been received which justify the millers in resuming, it is understood that one of the Minneapolis-Chicago roads gave signs of breaking away from the concert of action.

FLOODS IN WABASH VALLEY.

River Reaches 18.6 Feet and Is Still Going Higher, Many People Leaving the Lowlands.

Vincennes, Ind., April 20.—The Wabash river reached 18.6 feet this morning, and continues to rise. Thousands of acres of land are under water, and for the third time this year many people have been forced to move from the lowlands on the Illinois side.

NEWS OF THE RAILWAYS.

FALLING OFF IN EAST BOUND SHIPMENTS OF FREIGHT.

High Rates and Competition of Lake Lines Cause of Decrease—Interstate Commerce Commission to Begin Investigation of Anthracite Coal Roads in New York—Free Transportation to Persons Seeking Business Locations to Be Cut Off.

The competition of the lake lines for flour and grain traffic is having a serious effect on the eastbound roads. Eastbound shipments by the all rail lines last week were the lightest in many months, and present indications point to an exceedingly light business during the summer.

The all rail rates are now higher than they have been for years at this season, and flour and grain shippers are unable to pay those rates. The lake and rail rates are also higher than formerly, but they are sufficiently lower than the all rail rates to make shipments by lake possible. It is not considered probable that the present high rail rates can be maintained much longer.

Under existing conditions rates cannot be cut secretly, and consequently if a road finds it has to make lower rates to secure business, it must make an open reduction by filing the reduced tariff with the interstate commerce commission. Such action on the part of any one of the eastbound roads will compel all others to come down with the rates.

East Bound Shipments.

Shipments of flour, grain, and provisions from Chicago to the seaboard were as follows:

	Flour, brls.	Grain, bu.	Provisions, tons.
Last week	82,238	1,793,000	21,385
Previous week	120,797	2,091,000	22,394
Last year	93,558	1,110,000	21,293

Continued bad weather and small farmers' deliveries made the grain deliveries here by the western roads last week the smallest in nearly a year. They were 2,273,000 bushels, a decrease of 322,000 bushels from the previous week, and an increase of 187,000 bushels over last year. All of the decrease was in corn and oats.

Inquiry on Coal Combine.

The interstate commerce commission will meet in New York today to begin an inquiry into the anthracite coal combination. The commission is acting under instructions from Attorney General Knox. If the commission finds that the combination is in restraint of traffic it is understood that Attorney General Knox will begin forthwith proceedings against the coal roads in the United States courts under the Sherman anti-trust act.

President Baer of the Reading railway company, and who is also head of the Temple Iron company, has been served with a subpœna and will be called upon to tell of the operations by which the Temple Iron company controls the coal carrying roads.

Presidents and principal officers of all other coal roads, as well as the independent coal operators, have been summoned.

Still Raising Freight Rates.

Although it was supposed that advances in freight rates by western roads had reached their limit some time ago, yet it appears that the roads are far from satisfied, and whenever an opportunity affords another turn upwards is given to some commodity. The latest advance is in rates on sand used by glass manufacturers in Ohio and Indiana, which will be advanced on July 1 from 10 cents to 25 cents a hundred pounds from Chicago and East St. Louis to all points in the Central Traffic association territory.

Transportation Notes.

Western railroads have decided to cut off free transportation to persons whose business it is to look up locations along their lines on which to establish industrial concerns, it having been determined that under the Elkins law such transportation cannot be lawfully issued.

The board of directors of the Pullman company at a meeting held here yesterday declared a quarterly dividend of $2 a share from net earnings, payable May 15 to stockholders of record at close of business April 30, 1903.

Charles Russell has been appointed division superintendent of the Illinois division of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé. R. I. Parker is made superintendent of the Missouri division. F. E. Jolam becomes superintendent of the Colorado division.

RECEIVER IN HERMAN AFFAIR.

Federal Judge Rules on Case of Milwaukee Man—Fraud Found in Many Mortgages.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 20.—[Special.]—Judge Seaman of the federal court today appointed Paul G. Lewis as receiver for the estate of Henry Herman, whom he declared a bankrupt. Lewis tomorrow will take charge of all the personal assets, but will have nothing to do with the Plankinton bank receivership. Judge Halsey of the Circuit court will appoint a successor to Herman as the assignee of the Plankinton bank. This will be done upon application of the National Bank of the Republic of New York and other creditors, who ask that the Wisconsin Fidelity Trust and Safety Deposit company be appointed. Of 108 mortgages which have been filed with the register of deeds only four have been found which have not been the basis of irregular dealings.

HOWARD TRIES TO PROVE ALIBI.

Man Accused of Killing Gov. Goebel of Kentucky Gets Confused on Witness Stand.

Frankfort, Ky., April 20.—James B. Howard, on trial on the charge of killing Gov. Goebel, today declared he was in the Board of Trade hotel when the crowd passed bearing the wounded man. He could give no description of the manner in which Goebel was being carried and got considerably tangled on this point.

Mrs. Henry E. Youtsey is here and will be called by the defense to contradict her husband as to his confession made on the witness stand in the Howard trial. Youtsey's brother-in-law and other relatives are also here for the same purpose.

James Howard was recalled this afternoon for the purpose of being asked if he had been given a pardon by Gov. Taylor. He said he had not. Sheriff White testified as to arresting Howard and bringing him here.

ALL RATES OFF IN IOWA: BLOW TO STATE COMPANIES.

Action Is the Result of a General Understanding Reached Yesterday — Will Reduce Competition Ultimately.

Rates are off in Iowa, a general understanding to that effect having been reached yesterday. For several years conditions there have been unsatisfactory, and several previous attempts have been made to declare rates off, but a compromise was reached by which the bars were let down on preferred business only, and that without having much effect. Of late complaints of rate cutting have been general, all classes of companies being involved, and any understandings as to maintenance of rates were declared off yesterday.

The result will be to put Iowa into the list of unprofitable states for many companies, and ultimately reduce the competition there. The effect will be felt most severely by the numerous state companies. At present the companies are prevented from combining their experience or acting together in any way, but the Bennett rates are used as an advisory tariff. A case is pending in the United States court at Des Moines, where it will be up next month, which may do away with this anti-compact law. The present flurry may clear the air by that time and produce better conditions in Iowa.

Judge Hazen at Topeka decided yesterday that the fire insurance companies there were not operating in violation of law in getting their rates from the Eldredge bureau. Nearly two years ago the county attorney there began proceedings against practically all the companies under the anti-trust law, charging them with violation of it in using advisory rates. Depositions were taken in Chicago from a number of managers, and two months ago the case was argued for the companies by Thomas Bates of Chicago, after putting P. D. McGregor, manager of the Queen, and a number of local agents on the stand. The testimony was strongly to the effect that the rates were merely advisory and that the companies varied from them at will.

W. R. Payne of Nashville was appointed yesterday general agent of the Mutual Life of Illinois for Tennessee. He has been the general agent of the Washington Life.

R. S. Critchell of Critchell, Miller, Whitney & Barbour has returned from Florida.

The committee on classification of fire risks met yesterday and went over the various suggestions as to plans, and will have another meeting before reporting to the companies interested.

Fire losses last week in the United States were $2,500,000, which is much heavier than they have been averaging for the last two months. Nearly a million of this, however, came from the Beaumont oil field fire, on which there was practically no insurance.

The Marquette agency of the New York Life has moved into its new quarters on the fourteenth floor of The Tribune building. There are a hundred men in the agency, and private rooms are provided for the ten members of the $200,000 club and the twelve members of the $100,000 club.

Kansas Courts Deny Injunction.

Topeka, Kas., April 20.—The district court here today denied an application for injunction against fifty-six fire insurance companies doing business in Kansas on the ground that they were violating the anti-trust act. The state in its application charged that they had combined to control the rates of insurance.

WOMEN FAINT IN THRONG OF WAITING TAXPAYERS.

Crowd Swamps County's Treasurer's Office and Doors Are Locked—Many in Line for Hours.

Standing in the crowd for hours waiting to pay their taxes proved too much for two women yesterday and they fainted. The police forced a way through the throng and the women were carried out of the building and taken away by friends. Their names were not learned.

So great was the crowd in the County building that the doors to the treasurer's office were locked and only a few taxpayers admitted at a time. Before this was done, however, men and women, several of the latter with babies in their arms, crowded into the room until there was scarcely room to move.

The crowd gathered early and many stood in line for hours. Seven watchmen struggled to keep open an aisle to the elevators. Treasurer Hanberg ordered none of his clerks to stop work for lunch, and by this method several hundred more persons were attended to. Last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday over 8,000 persons paid their taxes. Yesterday's number is put at 3,600.

In the afternoon Treasurer Hanberg notified the county board that next year he would insist on having larger quarters in which to transact his business.

ELKINS SUED FOR COMMISSION.

Robert Burton and George A. Dubrueil Say Senator Owes Them $500,000 for Services and Information.

Washington, D. C., April 20. — Senator Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia is made defendant in a suit for $500,000, filed by Robert Burton and George A. Dubrueil, who allege that Senator Elkins employed them in November, 1901, to procure for him certain information, plans, data, and legal opinions concerning the Western Maryland railroad company, for the purpose of aiding him to acquire a controlling interest in that company. He proposed to pay them for services rendered him or his business associates in this matter, provided he obtained the controlling interest. Senator Elkins, it is stated, received the property, but neglected to pay them. Burton and Dubrueil say Senator Elkins made millions out of the deal.

WOMAN DIRECTS WORK OF MEN.

Miss Edith F. Jones Is Superintendent of Machine Shops Where 100 People Are Employed.

Directing the work of 100 men, Miss Edith F. Jones, 22 years old, serves as superintendent of the Preble machine works, Ninety-first street and South Chicago avenue. Miss Jones had just completed a course in mechanical engineering in a Chicago school, when her father, Robert H. Jones, died. He owned the shops, which passed to the widow, and the daughter was made manager of the estate. Two weeks ago the former superintendent resigned, and Miss Jones took his place. She has as an assistant in the management of the business Miss Fannie W. Hilgard, who attends to the correspondence. Miss Jones lives with her mother at 314 Ninety-first street.

'PHONE PLANT GOES AT AUCTION

Independent System Which Has Cut Out Bell Company in Fond du Lac District Is Bankrupt.

Fond du Lac, Wis., April 20.—[Special.]—The Little Wolf Telephone company was sold at receiver's sale today to Leander Choate of Oshkosh, one of the bondholders, for $65,000. This amount represents the bonded indebtedness of the company, which has been in business for four years, and has a local exchange of 800 subscribers, besides over 400 miles of toll line, virtually driving the Bell company out of the local field. Creditors to the amount of $30,000 are not provided for, and the stockholders, who had invested $80,000, get nothing.

MARSHAL SHOT BY OUTLAW DIES

Another Death Results from Adventures of McKinney, Slain by Officers in California Sunday.

Bakersfield, Cal., April 20.—City Marshal T. J. Packard died this morning from the effects of the wounds inflicted by Outlaw McKinney and his companion, Al Hulse, making the sixth victim of the outlaw's murderous career. There is intense feeling against Hulse, who is secure in the county jail. It is positively known that the ax found in McKinney's room and the ammunition which McKinney was using were purchased by Hulse.

FILE HEALTH CASE TODAY

CHARGES PRACTICALLY WILL BE AGAINST DR. REYNOLDS.

Commissioner Will Be Asked to Sign the Complaints, but It Is Believed He Will Refuse to Do So and Will Tender His Resignation — Friends Say He Has Been Too Lenient with Wealthy Property Owners, Merchants, and Politicians.

Specified charges will be filed tonight, technically against two inspectors in the health department, but in reality against Health Commissioner Arthur R. Reynolds, possibly including Chief Inspector Andrew Young. No charge of corruption will be made against inspectors or officials. A plain statement of the matter is that the health laws have been violated openly, and the question is one of responsibility.

No one in the city administration has been unaware of this condition of affairs, but now that it is the subject of grave charges some one will have to stand responsible for it, and Dr. Reynolds is probably the one. That he will be retired from office is generally believed, and Inspector Young may also step out.

Yields to Outside Pressure.

Reasons for the violations are not hard to find. Dr. Reynolds has permitted some of them because influential men asked him to. He has permitted others because poverty stricken men requested it. The influential men include some prominent city officials, some aldermen, some merchants, and wealthy property owners.

That these violations were allowed because of the request of city officials and prominent citizens will not help the commissioner's case any. It is asserted that 400 such cases—of improvements ordered by the department, suits brought to enforce them and then dropped at the requests of the interested persons—have been discovered, and will be used to show how influence has endangered the city's health.

The inspectors who are under direct fire will testify to the number of cases where they began action only to be taken off and the matter dropped.

Reynolds May Resign.

The charges which have been prepared by Assistant Corporation Counsel Fyffe have been submitted to Corporation Counsel Walker, and will be submitted to Miss Addams and the Hull house residents today. Then they will be filed with the civil service commission.

It has been thought that Commissioner Reynolds' retirement might come before the charges came to a hearing. Before they are filed with the civil service commission he will be asked to sign them. As he as well as the other city officials know that the actions of the inspectors have been guided by the policy of the department, it is possible he may refuse to sign charges. If he does not sign them he probably will retire at once from the department.

"Every one knows that violations of the law have been permitted," said one of the city officials yesterday. "That can be proved without question. Dr. Reynolds, when a man came in asking that action be delayed in a prosecution, was likely to be too good natured about it. If the man said he could not afford to make the improvement, Dr. Reynolds was likely to tell him to do the best he could and make the improvement as soon as he could, and then drop the prosecution."

Visiting Nurses to Complain.

The Visiting Nurses' association is prepared to furnish data concerning insanitary conditions by which public health is endangered. Its eighteen nurses visit the poorest homes in the city, and it is there that the lack of even ordinary hygienic precautions are most manifest.

The association has been asked by Hull house to furnish this data, and it is said its report will show an average number of twenty-five specific cases during each month of the last year where sanitary regulations were not enforced or remedied by the health department.

The regulations that have been neglected or ignored include failure to placard cases of diphtheria or scarlet fever, failure to isolate such cases, and delayed or improper fumigation.

"Though the health department has been negligent," said one of the nurses yesterday, "there has been an astonishing apathy regarding sanitary conditions by higher authorities than Dr. Reynolds, who does the best he can with the limited number of inspectors furnished him and insufficient funds."

Bicknell to Furnish Evidence.

Supt. Ernest F. Bicknell of the Bureau of Associated Charities will furnish evidence of specific instances where the health department has been negligent.

"The trouble is largely due to the fact that the inspectors perform their duties in a perfunctionary manner," said Mr. Bicknell yesterday. "In several cases where one of the department agents has found unsanitary conditions the inspectors made opposite reports. What is needed is exact data concerning these cases."

Other Settlements to Help.

Various social settlements are expected to follow the example of Hull house. Such steps are contemplated by the Northwestern university settlement, Association house, and the Forward Movement. At the Northwestern university settlement yesterday it was said that a report would be made about a dead horse which had lain under the windows of the house since Saturday morning, though the health department had been notified to take it away.

At the same place mention was made of bad sewage, bad water, and poorly cleaned streets, which were said to be responsible for epidemics in the thickly congested district, near Union and Grand avenues, populated by working people.

Medical Praise for Reynolds.

Discussing the work of the health department under Dr. Reynolds, the Chicago Medical Recorder of this month in an editorial says:

"The management of a number of threatened epidemics of smallpox in a city which is notoriously badly situated, and made up of a population extremely difficult to control; the measures which have resulted in a great reduction of infant mortality; the control of certain food products, especially milk; the establishment of a municipal laboratory, and the gratuitous examination of biological specimens in diphtheria and blood in typhoid have all been inaugurated and developed successfully under the administration of Dr. Reynolds. Chicago has never had a health officer before who so well understood the importance of maintaining excellent working relations between the profession and the department, guarding the privileges and rights of both interests, and thereby securing the best results."

WOMAN'S RUSE FOOLS POLICE.

Ella Johnson, Accused of Shoplifting, Goes for a Drink of Water and Attempts to Escape.

Allowed to go for a drink of water, Miss Ella Johnson, 25 years old, who was arrested on a charge of shoplifting, attempted to escape from detective headquarters yesterday afternoon.

"I am so thirsty," she said, and while walking across the room toward the drinking fountain she suddenly gathered her skirts about her and rushed out of the room.

A score of detectives witnessed the woman's act and they were soon pursuing her through the corridor of the city hall. Detective Sergeants Nagle and Flaherty seized her as she was hurrying into La Salle street. Miss Johnson gave her address as 931 North Sawyer avenue.

HAS LIABILITIES OF $117,000.

Indiana Bridge Builder Files Articles in Bankruptcy—Assets Are Placed at $49,000.

Mishawaka, Ind., April 20.—[Special.]—Frank Brumbaugh, an Elkhart bridge builder, who has secured large contracts from the Indiana county commissioners, filed articles in bankruptcy today, giving his liabilities as $117,000 and his assets as $49,000. The failure is one of the heaviest ever recorded in this federal district.

Our spring and summer liveries for coachmen, footmen—men servants in all stations—are favored with the patronage of many of the most prominent and critical families in and about Chicago.

Livery's primal requisites—absolute correctness, guaranteed satisfaction—realized here.

Interest just now centers in whipcords—synonym for "undress" livery—used for knock-about-town and country service.

Our whipcords are in tans—dark Oxford grays—light Cambridge grays and browns.

In full-dress livery—body coats of green, blue, black, claret and drab; with trousers to match—or with white stockinette breeches.

Also leather breeches—in white, brown, black and suede.

Livery incidentials—such as hats for coachmen, collars, driving gloves, stiff-leg boots, boot tops, etc.

Time saved—money saved—disappointments avoided—in our Livery Dept.

RUNS AWAY TO WED AN ACTOR.

Girl from Decatur, Ill., Goes to Springfield to Marry Member of a Theatrical Company.

Decatur, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—When Miss Leah Seiberling left for Springfield this morning it was supposed that she was going there on a visit, and tonight the news was received that she was married to Norman R. Field, an actor in the Lillian Mortimer company, which is playing in Springfield. The parents and friends of the young woman knew nothing of the match. The girl is 19 years old. Her acquaintance dates from the appearance of the actor in this city last August. She had not seen him since then.

WEDDING OF MISS FREEMAN AND DR. PETERSON.

Small Reception Follows the Ceremony at the Second Presbyterian Church—Engagement of Miss Ella Prussing to Mr. Eugene Jorgulesco of Bucharest—Benefit Bazaar and Euchre—Annual Banquet of the Chicago Wellesley Club on Saturday.

The wedding of Miss Marie Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cook Freeman of 3801 Lake avenue, to Dr. Herman D. Peterson took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the Second Presbyterian church. Miss Grace Freeman was her sister's maid of honor and the bridemaids were Miss Marie Gregg of St. Joseph, Mo., and Miss Anna Freeman. Edwin Marshall Hadley was the best man. The ushers were Raymond C. Dudley, Harrow Darrow, F. G. J. Stieber, and Wayne Freeman. The Rev. Charles Morton performed the ceremony, which was followed by a small reception at the residence of the bride's parents. Dr. and Mrs. Peterson left for the east. They will live at 1800 Michigan avenue.

The engageent is announced of Miss Ella G. Prussing, daughter of Mr. Eugene E. Prussing of 595 Dearborn avenue, to Mr. Eugene Jorgulesco of Bucharest, Roumania. The romance began abroad, Miss Prussing first meeting her fiancé when traveling last year with a party of friends in Europe. Miss Prussing will leave town on Friday for California to visit relatives. She will be joined later by Mr. Jorgulesco on his arrival in this country, and with Miss Prussing's grandmother they will spend the summer at one of the western resorts. The wedding will take place in Chicago in September, and the bride will go at once to Europe, and will live for a while in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rapp announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mathilde Rapp, to Dr. George G. Zoehrlaut.

A benefit euchre party will be given tomorrow evening at 2 o'clock in the ballroom of the Bryson, 4932 Lake avenue, for the charities of the Woman's guild of St. Paul's church, Kenwood. Those who have the affair in charge are Mrs. Watson G. Ferry, Mrs. George C. Fry, Mrs. Henry C. Strahorn, Mrs. Charles A. Knorr, Mrs. Charles E. Stokes, Mrs. F. J. Benson, Mrs. M. E. Longmire, Mrs. Keene H. Addington, Mrs. R. W. Phillips, Mrs. J. M. Taylor, Mrs. Alexander J. Copelin, Mrs. K. L. La Victoire, Mrs. Henry McKey, and Mrs. J. L. Van Uxem.

There is much interest in the bazaar on next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday for the benefit of the Champlin Boys' home at 515 West Adams street. Mrs. John Russell Adams and Mrs. Ferdinand W. Peck are the president and vice president of the woman's board; Mrs. W. S. Warren, treasurer; and Mrs. F. S. Winston, secretary. Others who will have charge of booths and tables are Mrs. J. L. Loose, Mrs. Burlingham, who will have the Grace church table; Mrs. Edmund Strong, Mrs. Frederick Ullman, and Mrs. F. Willis Rice.

The congregation of the First Baptist church will give a reception to the new pastor, the Rev. Dr. De Blois, and Mrs. De Blois this evening from 8 till 10 o'clock in the parlors of the church.

The annual banquet of the Chicago Wellesley club will be given on Saturday, April 25, at 1 o'clock, at the hotel Stratford, Jackson boulevard and Michigan avenue.

Mr. George de Mare gave a musical last evening in his studio in North State street. Mr. Forrest Russell sang.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Johnson gave a reception and dance last evening after Miss Edna Louise Johnson's song recital in the Burritt studios in Kimball hall.

Mrs. Franklin MacVeagh, who has been in the east for a fortnight, will return home today.

Mrs. D. G. Hamilton and Miss Hamilton of 2929 Michigan avenue will return at the end of this week from the east.

Miss Florence Grey of 2010 Prairie avenue will go abroad in May to visit her sister, Mrs. Henry Reuss, in England.

Miss Margaret Otis has returned from Pasadena, and is visiting her brother, Mr. Thomas G. Otis Jr., 4438 Sidney avenue.

Washington Lodge No. 7, O. C. K., will give a dance Thursday evening, April 23, at Wilcox hall, Forty-third street and Champlain avenue.

An operetta, "The Old Red School," will be given for charity under the auspices of St. Vincent de Paul's society tomorrow evening at St. Charles hall, Cypress and Twelfth streets.

PRIESTS TO PLAY BALL WITH COLLEGE STUDENTS.

Clergymen to Meet St. Vincent's Team Today—Archbishop Declines to Umpire and Will Sit in Grand Stand.

Nine priests, who, before ordination, won applause on baseball fields, will don uniforms today and demonstrate to the student team at St. Vincent's academy that, while fighting sin, they have not forgotten how to play the national game. Archbishop Quigley, who was a ball player at college, has been invited to umpire, but he declined the honor and will content himself by presiding over the game from the grand stand.

The game will be played on the grounds at St. Vincent's college this afternoon. The team representing the clergy has been practicing for several days, and their supporters declare that the priests will show the youngsters a few new points in batting and base running. The student team is in fine condition, and both sides were confident of victory last night.

Father Hanley will pitch for the priests. He won pitching honors as a student, and he declares his "whip" is in fine condition and that he will make the ball bend all around the students. His battery partner will be Father Quille, who, at school, was recognized as one of the best backstops in the business. Father Shrewbridge will play shortstop and Father Shea will attend to first base.

The student battery will be Griffin and J. Henneey—the regular battery for the collegians, who are taking no chances of losing the game through overconfidence.

GO TO THE HUSKS FOR HEALTH.

Dr. B. J. Cigrand Says the American People Eat Too Much "White Bread" and "Extra Fine Flour."

To the husks for health. The public should eat more husks, then the public would have better health, according to Dr. B. J. Cigrand, who addressed the Odontographic society last evening at the Sherman house.

"In no land is there such utter disregard of the standing resolutions of good health as pertain to diet as exists in the United States," said Dr. Cigrand. "This is essentially an age of 'white bread' and 'extra fine flour.' It is a period, therefore, in which we are partaking of much less bran than our ancestors, and, in consequence, are deprived of the chemical elements which husks contain—namely: flourine.

"It has been demonstrated that flourine occurs in nature in sparing quantities, and the only natural channel by which it can find its way into the human body is through the husks of grain, in which it exists in comparative abundance."

ARREST PASTOR FOR FORGERY.

The Rev. C. E. Campbell of Anna, Ill., Recently Member of Anti-Saloon League, in Trouble.

Carbondale, Ill., April 20.—[Special.]—The pastor of the Christian church at Anna, the Rev. C. E. Campbell, has been placed under arrest and taken in charge by the Marshall county authorities under charges of forgery. Campbell came to this section three months ago, and his presence has been the source of a long correspondence with church officials. He took a position in coming to Illinois as a railroad fireman, and after a short service became a Methodist preacher. Last fall he was connected with the Illinois Anti-Saloon league.

NEW YOKE SKIRT, LONG SHOULDERED EFFECTS.

All the new departures in forms of dress show the new lines of the shoulder and the full sleeve below the elbow. This is a light weight wool grenadine costume in white. The cape is of thin silk mousseline edged with point de Paris lace. The addition of these lighter lace effects gives a new touch to the summer attire. This new hat is of chip braid and is garlanded with entwined glacé taffeta ribbons in mixed green and pink tints.

METHODIST CLERGY AT OUTS: RESURRECTION IS QUESTION.

Paper by Dr. Pooley of Rockford Causes a Long and Animated Discussion at Weekly Meeting.

The question of a physical resurrection caused a heated discussion at the Methodist ministers' meeting yesterday. It was precipitated by a paper by Dr. R. H. Pooley of Rockford, in which he held that men's bodies would not rise from the grave on the day of judgment. The ministers promptly took sides and a long discussion followed.

Dr. Pooley argued that men have two bodies, physical and spiritual. The physical body is laid in the grave and the spiritual body ascends to heaven. He held that friends shall recognize each other in heaven, but that there will be no marriage, and all will be angels there.

The opposition to this belief expressed itself immediately. Several ministers asserted that such doctrine destroys much of the Christian faith and takes the foundation from many of the Protestant faiths. Some of the older men urged that such doctrine would nullify all of the New Testament, and that if there is no physical resurrection then there was no need of a New Testament. Dr. C. E. Mandeville, one of the presiding elders, then declared that it was idle to "babble" over such a subject, and advised the ministers to save their efforts for something which they might settle clearly by discussion.

This provoked the reply from the Rev. W. E. Tilroe that "if we are compelled to get a subject upon which we all agree, then we had just as well stop our discussions."

Dr. Milton S. Terry said that the question was simply a matter of construction placed on the bible. The Rev. W. H. Burns became sarcastic in his opposition to the theory advanced by Dr. Pooley. "In these days of scholars it is unwise to quote Paul or Peter," said he. "You may be accused of being behind the times. I am surprised that Dr. Pooley with his up to date notions should quote these apostles. I should think that he would quote some scholar of today whose standing among other scholars is unquestioned."

JUSTICE REFERS CHURCH ROW.

Instead of Fining Pastor Anderson Magistrate Hurley Orders Vote by Congregation.

Instead of fining the Rev. William Anderson, pastor of the Mount Pleasant colored Baptist church, yesterday, Justice Hurley disposed of the case in Solomonlike fashion. Mr. Anderson was arrested, charged with striking Mrs. Mary Vincent, and her discolored eye was introduced in evidence.

The case seemed to hinge on whether Mr. Anderson or the Rev. James Emery was the rightful pastor of the church. Each preacher had his followers present. Last Friday evening, according to the testimony, Mrs. Vincent suggested that Anderson be replaced by Emory, when Anderson and his wife attacked her.

"This is not a case for a police court," Justice Hurley said. "I will appoint two deacons from each faction, and they shall select a fifth man. The five together will determine who are members of the church, and then let these accredited members settle by vote which preacher they will have. But mind, no women can be permitted to attend your sessions, or you will never accomplish anything."

WOULD GRADE DOGS IN POUND.

John G. Shortall Suggests That Well Bred Animals Be Kept Separated from Common Curs.

Well bred or good dogs should be kept apart in the city pound, according to President John G. Shortall of the Illinois Humane society. He suggested yesterday to Controller McGann that some competent person be sent to New York, Philadelphia, and Boston to examine their dog pounds to insure the most efficient treatment of the subject here. The dog pound is now being hurried in construction, and Mr. McGann says there is no time this spring to put Mr. Shortall's ideas into practice.

AUSTIN WOMEN HAVE ELECTION.

Mrs. Maude K. Alden Is Chosen President of Their Club—Other Officers Selected.

At the annual meeting of the Austin Woman's club yesterday the following officers were elected:

President—Mrs. Maude K. Alden.
Vice presidents—Mrs. Nellie H. Abbott and Mrs. Lottie E. Gibson.
Recording secretary—Mrs. Emma Vance Compton.
Corresponding secretary—Mrs. Rose M. Mink.
Treasurer—Mrs. Eleanor Emerson.
Directors—Mrs. Josephine Sisson, Mrs. Isabelle B. Race, Mrs. Mary H. Whitcomb, and Mrs. Della B. Cline.

"THIS IS MY BIRTHDAY."
—SHAKSPEARE.

TRUDE—Alfred S. Trude.

"His reputation is national. . . . As a criminal lawyer he is conceded to be the leader of the Chicago bar."

Mr. Trude credits the late Philip D. Armour with his start toward success.

Mr. Armour, with business instinct, at their first meeting, "inquired whether I had a library. I was telling him how I was doing my best to get one, when Mr. Armour spoke up, saying: 'Alfred, how are you getting along with your purchase of a part of Gen. U. F. Linder's law library?' I am afraid that I looked rather doleful while I explained that though I was devoting every spare dollar to its purchase there remained a balance of $80. Mr. Armour, though I had met him for the first time but a few moments before, immediately said: 'I'll lend you $80, young man, and you can get the books.'

"Of course, I accepted his offer, and soon afterwards was able to repay him, but he continued in an unostentatious manner giving me numerous opportunities to do legal work for him. I have often said that the library which I was enabled to purchase by the money then loaned me was what gave me the real foundation for a successful practice."

Mr. Trude's favorite amusements are camping, hunting, and fishing.

"Not for anything would I miss the summer hunting and the life on the ranch."

His brother says: "He is the most uncertain man you ever saw in regard to pleasures. He never got in a groove. He is not an extremist, and adapts himself to his immediate surroundings, enjoying almost any circumstances and any people."

Mr. Trude's extravagance is smoking. He "smokes any old thing, and the worse it is the better he likes it."

His idea of a happy life: "A good wife, a good family, and success in business."

His motto: "The opposite of 'do others as they do you'—the Golden Rule."

His most pleasureable employment is the pursuit of his profession.

BRIDE AWAITS JOSEPH EDWARDS

Louisa Cromwell, 16 Cypress Street, Buffalo, Asks Chief O'Neill to Return Her Intended.

To Joseph Edwards, supposed to be in Chicago: Hurry back to Buffalo and you will find forgiveness and a bride awaiting you.

The young woman, who will give her hand and heart to Edwards on his return to the eastern city, is Louisa Cromwell, 16 Cypress street, Buffalo, who told her heart story in a letter to Chief of Police O'Neill yesterday.

"It will not be my fault, if there is not a wedding in Buffalo as scheduled in this girl's program," said the chief after reading her letter. Then he studied the photograph inclosed, in order that should he chance to meet Edwards he would know him.

"Edwards has not been seen since two weeks tonight," wrote the girl, referring to the last Sunday evening call which he had made on her. "I heard he was in Chicago. Will you please be so kind as to hunt him up and bring him to 16 Cypress street, Buffalo, N. Y. We were to be married July 8.

"He is welcome any time. Do tell him not to be afraid. When he left me two weeks ago tonight he promised me he'd be here Monday evening, but he never came. Please answer soon and let me know what you know about him."

GIRL'S ESTEEM IS WORTH $5.

Bargain Day Price on Feminine Affection Is Fixed by Justice Sabath.

The value of a young woman's esteem and affections was placed at $5 yesterday by Justice Sabath. The price was fixed in a suit by David Fieldman against Charles Liebman, a tailor, at 161 West Madison street. Fieldman had a suit of clothes made by Liebman, to be ready before a certain Sunday. On calling for the clothes he was told they were not finished.

"I lost a good friend by not having the clothes that day," Fieldman said. "I had an engagement with a young woman, but, of course, could not keep it without the new clothes. s a result I lost favor with her and am no longer her friend."

The suit was brought for $200, but Justice Sabath held that Fieldman had been damaged precisely to the extent of $5. A judgment against the plaintiff for the price of the clothing, less the $5, was rendered, and the tailor was instructed to see to it that he gave a perfect fit.

Hermann and Dorothea.

The text of "Hermann und Dorothea," edited, with an introduction, notes, and a vocabulary, by Arthur H. Palmer, professor in Yale university, forms one of Appleton's Twentieth Century Text Books. The introduction and notes are concise and practical. The text is that of the Weimar edition, but with the spelling of the Prussian official orthography. There are several illustrations and a list of books to be read in connection with the poem.

GYMNASTIC CLASS IN JAIL

PHYSICAL CULTURE INSTRUCTION FOR PRISONERS.

Moral Improvement Association Arranging to Have a Teacher—Expert Will Instruct One Person from Each Tier of Cells and These Then Can Show the Exercises to Their Fellows — Bookkeeping and Business Methods Courses Also Proposed.

The physical culture idea has invaded the Cook county jail. When plans which are now being worked out are put in effect, every prisoner in the institution will be given a chance to use his time in training under the direction of competent instructors.

The Moral Improvement association and the Improvement Journal are behind this innovation, and, like alll plans proposed by the association, this proposition appears to have met the approval of the prisoners. While the idea of physical training classes in the jail may seem incongruous to outsiders, the inmates of the institution view it as a serious matter.

While general training in the open corridors will not be introduced until all the details of the plan have been worked out, many of the prisoners are anticipating the work by practicing calisthenic exercises in their cells. In a round of the cells of an evening numbers of prisoners may be seen making use of their small knowledge of some system of exercise that may be carried on without apparatus.

Walking Only Exercise Now.

The present exercise grounds of the prisoners are the wide corridors, about which tiers of cells are ranged. The form of exercise is walking, and it is a customary sight in the morning and afternoon to see scores of men walking in an endless and monotonous procession. Some of them drop out in an hour, while many of them continue this treadmill walk during the two hours of morning respite from the confinement of their cells. They move with a regularity suggested of a great treadmill. The afternoon respite of two hours is spent by many in a similar way.

"I've walked the circle until my head swam," said a prisoner yesterday. "So monotonous has it become that I walk it again in my dreams. Can't sit still all day and must do something. We can't practice rough games, and I don't know any calisthenics. If we had some one to show us what to do we would gladly vary the walk."

Delegate from Each Tier.

The proposed plan for meeting this need of the prisoners for better exercise facilities is to delegate some one on each tier to a class, which will be taught simple and effective exercises by a competent teacher in calisthenics. These in turn will show the prisoners on their tiers the movement, and any one who wishes to may take up the practice of them.

The Improvement Journal has also planned a sort of "home school" department, in which a brief business course will be given the readers. Bookkeeping and business methods will be taught in this way, and will supplement the library of the jail, which many of the prisoners use for closed study.

AMONG THE NEW BOOKS.

"Mary North," by Lucy Rider Meyer (F. H. Revell company), is a sad picture of the pitfalls that yawn in the paths of girls flung into the swirl of city life. For the thinker, the student of sociology, as well as the seeker for entertainment, it furnishes food for cogitation. Contrasted with the grinding ignominy of poverty and the petty temptations of department stores' paltry wages is the uplifting influence of deaconesses' work and the softening effect of practical Christian methods. Mrs. Meyer writes out of her own experiences, and if sometimes she seems to endow some of her characters with unbelievable villainy, it is but the outcropping of bitter recollections rather than the exaggeration of a zealot.

Mary was as fresh and sweet as a flower when, without fear of evil, she went forth alone into Boston to prepare for Vassar. There, with neither friend nor adviser, she was lured into a farce of marriage by an unscrupulous adventurer who sought her tiny fortune. Robbing her of her little all, he scoffed at her horror of his wickedness and wallowed before her in bestial intoxication. Fleeing to Chicago to hide her disgrace and escape the author of her ruin, she entered a department store, where her energies found vent in shielding a weak girl from the importunities of a floorwalker. Finally located by the friends of her youth, she is taken home and made into a new being, rejuvenated and refreshed. Returned to Chicago, she devotes herself to the cause of the unprotected working girl, which she relinquishes to marry a worthy man.

As a specimen of powerful realism, depicting conditions foreign to the ken of comfortably situated folk, and pointing the way to better things, the book is worth while. Though sadness may be the dominant note, it is not overwhelming, for there is a leaven of happiness and human sympathy that lightens the burden of shame and sorrow. It is a pleasing commentary to note that all the things witnessed by Mrs. Meyer in her labors among the poorer classes have not chilled her normal optimism.

STORY OF PHIL CARVER.

A Romance of Maine and the War of 1812.

"Phil Carver," by Andrew M. Sherman, is a placid romance of the war of 1812. It has a distinctly moral tendency, and, if action be not omnipresent, its lack is compensated in entertaining descriptions of community life in New England during the early part of the last century. Machias, Me., is the scene of the early chapters, and anecdotes of that historic old village and its eccentric people fill the pages.

Phil's biography is unfolded from infancy, up through the sensitiveness of his school days, to his ingenuous courtship and marriage to pretty Sophia Farnum. Drink weaned him from his young wife, and, to escape disgrace, he fled to the city, where his better nature gradually asserted itself. Business instincts assumed the ascendency, superseding the indolent habits of his youth. He went to the war, fought bravely, and won promotion to a commission. Returning to his old home, he found happiness in forgiveness and restoration to the esteem of his neighbors. A bit of humor is injected with good effect, and the rambling thread of the plot is embalmed in faultless diction. (George H. Sherman, Morristown, N. J.)

Bradbury's Elementary Chemistry.

Robert Hart Bradbury, teacher of chemistry in the Central manual training school of Philadelphia, has written "Elementary Chemistry" (D. Appleton & Co.), which is not only a concise account of the present state of chemical science, but is also, in its part II., a laboratory experimental manual. The book is an independent account of the subject and is the outcome of many years' teaching. One feature of the work is that the theoretical matter is often woven in with the descriptive portion. Another is that no generalization is presented until after a particular case of it has been carefully described.

Happy Homes

One of the essentials of the happy homes of to-day is a fund of information as to right living and the best methods of promoting health and happiness. With proper knowledge, each hour of recreation, of enjoyment and of effort may be made to contribute to that end and are of not less value than the using of the most wholesome foods and the selecting of the best medicinal agents when needed. With the well-informed, medicinal agents are used only when nature needs assistance and while the importance of cleansing the system effectually, when bilious or constipated, has long been known, yet until within recent years it was necessary to resort to oils, salts, extracts of roots, barks and other cathartics which were found to be objectionable and to call for constantly increased quantities.

Then physicians having learned that the most excellent laxative and carminative principles were to be found in certain plants, principally in the leaves, the California Fig Syrup Co. discovered a method of obtaining such principles in their purest condition and of presenting them with pleasant and refreshing liquids in the form most acceptable to the system and the remedy became known as—Syrup of Figs—as figs were used, with the plants, in making it, because of their agreeable taste.

This excellent remedy is now rapidly coming into universal use as the best of family laxatives, because it is simple and wholesome and cleanses and sweetens the system effectually without disturbing the natural functions and without unpleasant after effects and its use may be discontinued when it is no longer required.

All who would enjoy good health and its blessings should remember that it is the one remedy which physicians and parents well-informed approve and recommend and use and which they and their little ones alike enjoy, because of its pleasant flavor, its gentle action and its beneficial effects.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all reliable druggists, at the regular price of fifty cents per bottle, in original packages only, having the name of the remedy—Syrup of Figs—and the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—printed on the front of every package.
